Supreme Court Upholds Civilian Military Trials

Freedom Hopes Of Two Who Slew Husbands Dashed

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that civilian dependents—wives, mothers and children—who accompany military personnel overseas are subject to military trial for crimes committed while there.

Dividing 5-3, the court dashed the hopes of freedom for Mrs. Dorothy Kreuger Smith, daughter of Gen. Walter Krueger, and similarly upset the hopes of another husband slayer of escaping a second military trial.

Separate opinions in the two cases were both written by Justice Clark.

The court upheld the right of military tribunals to try Mrs. Smith for slaying her husband, Army Col. Aubrey D. Smith, 45, by plunging a knife into him as he slept in their Tokyo home Oct. 4, 1952 and to try Mrs. Clarice B. Covert, formerly of Augusta, Ga., for the ax slaying of her husband, Air Force Sgt. Edward E. Covert, in England.

Toth Case Different

In comment on the Covert case, Justice Clark said it was "clearly distinguishable" from that of former Air Force Sgt. Robert Toth of Pittsburgh.

In the Toth case, the court ruled Nov. 7, 1955 that he could not be tried by court-martial because he was a civilian.

Clark said, in explaining the difference, Toth had returned to the United States and had been honorably discharged months before he was charged with implication in the slaying of a civilian in South Korea.

Unlike Toth, Clark said, the military had not relinquished jurisdiction over Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Covert.

Chief Justice Warren wrote a brief dissenting opinion in which Justices Black and Douglas joined. Justice Frankfurter abstained from voting, saying he wanted more time for "reflection" before expressing his views.

Security Firing Limited

In the Smith case, Clark said Congress had the power to provide for military trials for civilian dependents who accompany military personnel to stations abroad.

In another action the tribunal:

Ruled 6-3 that the Eisenhower administration's federal employe security program does not apply to persons holding nonsensitive and nonpolicymaking jobs. The majority said Congress intended to limit broad firing so they would apply only in cases which are "directly concerned with the nation's safety, as distinguished from the general welfare." The dissenters said "the court would require not only a finding that a particular person is subversive but also that he occupies a sensitive job" — and "obviously this might leave the government honeycombed with subversive employes."

TRIALS UPHELD—Mrs. Dorothy Krueger Smith (top) and Mrs. Clarice B. Covert (bottom) are wives of servicemen specifically affected by yesterday's Supreme Court ruling which upheld military trials for civilians who accompany the armed forces overseas. Each woman was convicted of murdering her husband. Both received life imprisonment but Mrs. Covert later was released on a technicality reversal. (AP Photofax).

Chrysler Walkouts Idle 10,520 Workers

DETROIT, June 11 (AP)—A third walkout in three working days in the body trim department of Chrysler idled 10,520 workers today.

The company said 1,100 trim employes refused to work. This in turn idled 3,520 others at the Chrysler Mack plant, shut down the final assembly plant for Plymouth which employes 3,600 and depends on the automobile body division for bodies, and later partially shut down the Mound Road engine plant and the Lynch Road (rear axle) plant of Plymouth with a total of 2,300 workers.

The trim department staged two unauthorized walkouts Thursday and Friday in a dispute over production standards. Chrysler said today's walkout was touched off by the discharge of two union stewards for leading the previous walkouts.

Pleas Of Guilty Entered By Trio In Paper Theft

NEWARK, N. J., June 11 (AP)—An Army sergeant and two East Orange businessmen today pleaded guilty to conspiracy charges in the theft of a secret government document.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. William F. Tompkins, has described the paper as "of the utmost intelligence significance" because, he said, it contained a directory of "all the U.S. Air Force bases and organizations throughout the world."

The three, Sydney M. Stern, 39, Seymour S. Hindman, 39, both of East Orange, and Sgt. Harold E. Brill, 28, stationed at the Brooklyn Army Terminal, entered guilty pleas before federal Judge Alfred E. Modarelli.

No date for sentencing was fixed by the court. The maximum penalty on the charges is five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

The three were charged with conspiring to steal and possess a document filed in a federal public building. No espionage charges were involved.

Following their arrest by FBI agents, May 17, attorneys for the men said the document was a mailing list of military personnel intended to be used for business soliciting purposes.

Tompkins, however, said the paper contained information "affecting the national defense of the United States."

Almost Gave Up

Man Swims Nine Miles For Aid After Boat Sinks

KEY WEST, Fla., June 11 (AP)—A man battled angry seas during a nine-hour swim today to reach shore and bring about the rescue of three other members of his fishing party.

"I almost gave up a couple of times," said Ray Wraymond, 36, who swam for 8½ hours after the charter fishing boat Golden K struck a submerged piling and sank southwest of here.

"I was so exhausted, I thought of unfastening my life jacket and just slipping under the water."

After Wraymond reached shore at the Boca Chica Naval Air Station, a Coast Guard boat was dispatched and picked up three others clinging to the wreckage of the Golden K.

Winford Bennett, 39 - year - old owner and captain of the Golden K, Dorothy Snell, 35, and Wraymond were hospitalized. Frank Young 37, did not require medical treatment. All are from Marathon, Fla.

The Golden K struck the piling at noon yesterday during a squall and went down at 4:30 p.m. Twenty minutes later, Wraymond struck out for his long swim through waters infested with barracuda.

He reached shore at 1:20 a.m. Four hours later, the other members of the party were taken out of the water.

LeMay Seeks Billions More For Bombers

SAC Boss Worried About Increasing Russian Strength

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Gen. Curtis LeMay asked today for an extra $3,800,000,000 each year for several years for his Strategic Air Command, Sen. Chavez (D-NM) reported.

Chavez heads a Senate Appropriations subcommittee on defense spending. LeMay appeared before the subcommittee in closed session.

The senator said the SAC is listed for about five billion dollars in the budget under consideration for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Chavez Is Willing

Chavez said LeMay proposed an extra $3,800,000,000 a year for the next four or five years and the senator added he would be willing to "give it all to them." Much of the extra money would go to build more B52s, the heavy eight-engine all-jet bomber designed for retaliation against nuclear attack.

The chairman said LeMay asked the extra money mainly for more aircraft, with emphasis on the B52, and also included requests for more bases and men.

Just one B52 costs eight million dollars.

LeMay told a Senate inquiry last month that perhaps by 1959 Russia will have enough long-range bombers and nuclear weapons to destroy the United States — if the Soviets should attack by surprise and get every break.

At the same time he said that if Russia should attack today, enough of his big bombers would remain to carry out terrible retaliation, even though the United States should suffer "very great damage."

The current rate of B52 production is six per month and the goal is to get it up to around 20 a month.

Improvised Office Set Up At Hospital For Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—An improvised White House office was set up at Walter Reed Hospital today 90 feet from President Eisenhower's room, ready for business as the recuperating President resumes more of his duties.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said the temporary headquarters will be used increasingly by White House staff members as Eisenhower adds to his work load.

The fairly large room is six doors down the third-floor corridor from the presidential suite.

It contains two typewriter desks for secretarial work, one hospital telephone, and three telephones connected directly to the executive offices in the White House. There are also two sofas and three or four chairs.

Hilton Chain Plans Huge Pittsburgh Hotel

PITTSBURGH, June 11 (AP)—The Hilton Hotel chain, largest in the nation, today revealed plans for a 17-story, 15-million-dollar hotel in Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle.

Conrad N. Hilton, president of the Hilton Hotels Corp., said the new unit "will provide a keystone between our hotels in New York and Chicago."

It is anticipated that construction of the 800-room hotel can begin within six months. Completion tentatively is set for late 1958 or early 1959. Plans call for the grand ballroom to be one of the largest in the world with a seating capacity of 2,000. Some 10 to 12 private dining rooms are planned.

House Passes Aid Bill

Further Cut Is Suggested By Senators

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—By a 273-122 vote, the House today passed and sent to the Senate a $3,800,000,000 foreign aid measure chopped more than a billion dollars below President Eisenhower's request.

The showing of "Nos" on the final roll call vote highlighted strong congressional election-year sentiment that the $4,900,000,000 Eisenhower asked for overseas military and economic aid is too much.

The bill faces more controversy in the Senate where the Foreign Relations Committee is slated to start voting on it Wednesday.

Senate Committee Chairman George (D-Ga) is backing an administration drive to restore part of the funds cut, but some influential senators say the House ax should have gone deeper. As passed by the House, the measure still provides for a program $1,000,000,000 bigger than Congress appropriated for foreign aid last year. The new program is for the 12 months starting July 1.

LeMay Asks Identical Sum

Coincidentally, the House authorization — $3,800,000,000 — was identical with the sum Gen. Curtis LeMay told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee he would like in additional money for the Strategic Air Command. And Sen. Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said he is exploring the idea of amending the House bill to transfer all the money to the Air Force.

Russell said he thinks the foreign aid program could be carried out with seven billion dollars in previously appropriated funds that have not been spent.

"I don't think it would wreck the foreign aid program if Congress didn't authorize any new expenditures or appropriate any new money," he said. "That might necessitate the transfer of some funds, but I believe it could be done."

Byrd Favors Further Cut

Meanwhile, Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said he believes the bill should be reduced one billion dollars more. Byrd said he wished to associate himself with Russell in calling for such a cut.

Byrd said that unexpended balances from previous foreign aid appropriations total $6,592,000,000.

The White House — spurned by the House despite appeals by Eisenhower and leaders of both parties for more funds — arranged a bipartisan conference of Senate leaders for later this week.

On today's final roll call a majority of the votes for passage came from Democrats. There were 162 Democrats and 111 Republicans for; 70 Republicans and 52 Democrats against.

U.S. Crop Prospects Lowest In 11 Years

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that crop prospects on June 1 were the lowest in 11 years due to a combination of drought conditions in some areas and unusually cool growing weather.

Should these prospects be reflected at harvest, total production would be down about 12 percent from last year's near record volume. Such a reduction would help relieve some of the crop surplus problems now facing farmers.

Any shortages in supplies would be limited to minor crops because surpluses of the major ones have been accumulated under government farm price support programs.

Ike Pays $1.05 Day For Food At Hospital

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP) — President Eisenhower is paying $1.05 a day for food at Walter Reed Army Hospital. That is the regular "subsistence rate" for officers.

So far, all the President is getting for his money is a glucose and water solution, injected intravenously.

Mrs. Eisenhower, occupying a room adjoining the presidential suite, is paying $1.55 a day, the subsistence charge for dependents of servicemen and nonmilitary patients.

Dividend Payments Up

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP) — Cash dividend payments by corporations rose to $3,700,000,000 during the first five months of this year, an increase of 15 per cent over the corresponding period of 1955, the Commerce Department reported today.

Argentine Army Courts Consider 300 Rebels' Fate

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 11 (AP)—Military courts deliberated in secret sittings today on the fate of more than 300 rebels arrested in the weekend revolt by followers of Juan D. Peron.

Many rebels may meet with the same end as the 38 already executed by government firing squads before the uprising was crushed Sunday.

Officials' Murder Plotted

Provisional President Pedro Aramburu, a major general, charged at a news conference today the rebels had plotted to murder or hold as hostages himself, Vice President Adm. Isaac Rojas and about 1,000 other government officials and then set up a hybrid Communist-Peronista - Nationalist regime.

"The brutal plans included a terror wave, with the burning of churches, newspapers and embassies," he charged.

The government was tipped off to the plans, he said, when police ran into a rebel courier Saturday night. The courier carried a big brown bag stuffed with papers.

Simultaneous Revolts

The discovery, Aramburu said, enabled the government to act with unusual speed when the rebels later that night began simultaneous uprisings here and in La Plata, Santa Rosa and Rosario.

Aramburu said the plan had ramifications in many countries, including financing "from Panama." Peron, whose dictatorship was overthrown last September, is in exile in Panama.

Trials of captured rebels were being carried out under martial law declared Saturday night, when the government moved swiftly to stamp out the revolt with bombers, infantry and cavalry.

Talos Guided Missile May Replace Nike

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Sen. Chavez (D-NM) said after a closed meeting with the chiefs of the armed services today that further production of the Nike may be dropped if forthcoming tests bear out indications that the Talos is a better antiaircraft weapon.

Chavez is chairman of a Senate Appropriations Defense subcommittee which questioned the chiefs about the respective merits of the two guided missiles.

Photogs Asked To Refrain From Ike Window Shots

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The White House requested photographers today to refrain from setting up long-lens cameras on the Walter Reed Hospital grounds to snap pictures of President Eisenhower through the window of his room.

"I think the American people would agree," said press secretary James C. Hagerty, ". . . that the President is entitled to that much consideration."

Hagerty said cameras trained on the President's window would mean that he must keep his shades drawn, depriving him of daylight and the view of the grounds, or would compel him to keep away from the window as he begins to move about more freely.

Rockefeller, 44, Takes Wife No. 2

HAYDEN LAKE, Idaho, June 11 (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller, 44, took his second wife today with none of the fanfare that surrounded his illfated Cinderella marriage to Bobo Rockefeller.

The new bride is Jeanette Edris, 37, daughter of William Edris, a Seattle, Wash., financier. It is her fourth marriage.

A small group of friends and members of her family attended the ceremony at her father's summer home here. After a honeymoon, the couple will live at Rockefeller's Morrilton, Ark., model cattle farm. The bride's attendant was her daughter by a previous marriage, Anne Bartley, of New York.

The wedding was in quiet contrast to the bridegroom's marriage Feb. 14, 1948, to the former Barbara (Bobo) Sears, daughter of a coal miner.

The wedding to Bobo climaxed a Cinderella romance between a grandson of the late Croesus, John D. Rockefeller, and the blonde charmer from a walkup flat on Third Avenue.

Rockefeller and Bobo had a son Sept. 17, 1948, but by 1950 their marriage was crumbling and talk of divorce was in the air.

Romanians Tell Of Motive Behind Legation Attack

BERN, Switzerland, June 11 (AP)—Four young Romanian anti-Communists charged with armed seizure of the Romanian legation here last year related in court today how Communist persecution drove them from their homeland.

Their husky, black-bearded leader, Oliviu Beldeanu, 32, spoke often in a breaking voice and with tears in his eyes as he told what motivated the attack in which the legation's chauffeur was slain.

Swiss Cheer Quartet

When the four left the City Hall, where the trial is being held, to be returned to their jail cell, many Swiss in a street crowd of about 600 cheered and applauded them.

The anti-Communist exiles repeated on the opening day of their trial what they had previously told police interrogators about their plot, which succeeded in holding the legation for 42 hours, and provoked a series of bitter protests from the Bucharest Communist government.

They said their main objectives were to unmask the Romanian legation as a center of Communist espionage in Europe and to force the release of other anti-Communist fighters held in Romania.

Sculptor Testifies

Beldeanu was the first to address the five-judge federal court and a room filled with more than 100 reporters and about 200 spectators. He is a sculptor who served in the French occupation forces in West Germany. He is charged with 10 different crimes in the 40-page indictment against the four. These include espionage, illegal importation of weapons, abduction and complicity in the slaying of the legation chauffeur.

$1,300,000 Bid For River Island Assessed At $400

ROCKVILLE, Md., June 11 (AP)—An underwater island in the Potomac River, assessed for tax purposes at $400, brought a high bid of $1,300,000 today at a Montgomery County delinquent tax sale. Another bidder dropped out at $1,200,000.

The island, described as 211.8 acres near Cabin John, Md., was being sold for $20.24 back taxes, interests and costs owed since last July 1 by a Mary Wheeldon of Falmouth, Ky.

High bidder was listed as Arthur J. Williams, 28, of Takoma Park, Md., who refused to say why he wanted the tax certificate for the property, only about four acres of which is said to be above water.

County officials, describing the transaction as one of the strangest in Montgomery County tax sale history, said the present owner would have a year and a day to redeem the property. After that, Williams could—but doesn't have to—foreclose. He then could gain title to the land by paying the owner $1,300,000.

If he didn't foreclose he would be out the $20.24 paid for the tax certificate.

The bidding largely was a two-way exchange between Williams and Walter R. Hardisty of Washington. It started at $20 and worked up by $10 at a time in early stages, then $100s and finally $100,000s until Hardisty dropped out.

Informal Bid By Russians Turned Down

President Continues Excellent Recovery, Confers With Adams

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower, continuing his "excellent" recovery from major surgery, today rejected an informal Russian invitation to send the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff on a visit to the Soviet Union this month.

It was the President's first announced policy decision on foreign-military affairs since he was rushed to Walter Reed Army Hospital last Friday for an emergency abdominal operation.

It came as somewhat of a surprise since there had been some indications lately that the White House would welcome such a bid.

Continuing his recovery, Eisenhower was permitted by his doctors to get out of bed briefly again today and to have a 10-minute talk with his chief assistant, Sherman Adams.

Political Question Remains

The two disposed of several problems arising from the President's second major illness in nine months, but not the prime political question: whether he will change his mind about seeking re-election.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that the President had been in the hospital only three hours Friday when he was advised of the new Russian proposal, just received at the Pentagon.

It was an informal sounding-out of what this government's reaction would be if Moscow should invite the three other members of the U. S. Joint Chiefs to accompany Air Force Gen. Nathan F. Twining to the Russian Aviation Day Observance June 24. Twining's trip already has been approved.

Today Adams brought a proposed reply and Hagerty said Eisenhower approved it. It has now been delivered to the Russians.

In the reply, the President left the door open for future visits to Russia by the other members of the Joint Chiefs if they should be invited. They are Adm. Arthur Radford, Chairman, Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Army chief of staff.

But at the moment, the Russians were told, it would be "impracticable" to accept the group invitation, and it would be "not likely" in the future that more than two of the chiefs would accept for any one trip.

Further, any acceptance would be only on the understanding that the American military chiefs be permitted, as Hagerty phrased it, "maximum time outside of Moscow for visits to those activities of special interest to their own services."

A reporter interrupted Hagerty with a question: "The President made the final decision?"

"He sure did," said Hagerty.

Big Steel Pact Offer Expected

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP) — The United Steel Workers' full 170-member wage policy committee was summoned to a Friday meeting here, apparently in anticipation of a contract offer from Big Steel.

The union announcement today said only that the committee's presence here was to keep it informed of negotiations. However, the USW said earlier it expected an industry wage offer sometime during the week.

Meanwhile, negotiations were recessed earlier in the day until Wednesday. Both sides said they had a lot of staff work to get out of the way.

Wage contract talks began June 5 with the union seeking an unspecified but "substantial" pay hike for 350,000 employes of U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic.

Any agreement is expected to set a pattern for the entire 650,000-man industry.

High Court Voids La. Tidelands Order

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Supreme Court today voided a restraining order issued by a Louisiana state court to block leasing of oil-rich submerged lands in the Gulf of Mexico.

The action was announced in an 8-0 order which said the attorney general of Louisiana and other state officials "are enjoined from further prosecuting or taking any proceedings" in the case filed in the state court.

Hilton Chain Plans Huge Pittsburgh Hotel

PITTSBURGH, June 11 (AP)—The Hilton Hotel chain, largest in the nation, today revealed plans for a 17-story, 15-million-dollar hotel in Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle.

Conrad N. Hilton, president of the Hilton Hotels Corp., said the new unit "will provide a keystone between our hotels in New York and Chicago."

It is anticipated that construction of the 800-room hotel can begin within six months. Completion tentatively is set for late 1958 or early 1959. Plans call for the grand ballroom to be one of the largest in the world with a seating capacity of 2,000. Some 10 to 12 private dining rooms are planned.

House Passes Aid Bill

Further Cut Is Suggested By Senators

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—By a 273-122 vote, the House today passed and sent to the Senate a $3,800,000,000 foreign aid measure chopped more than a billion dollars below President Eisenhower's request.

The showing of "Nos" on the final roll call vote highlighted strong congressional election-year sentiment that the $4,900,000,000 Eisenhower asked for overseas military and economic aid is too much.

The bill faces more controversy in the Senate where the Foreign Relations Committee is slated to start voting on it Wednesday.

Senate Committee Chairman George (D-Ga) is backing an administration drive to restore part of the funds cut, but some influential senators say the House ax should have gone deeper. As passed by the House, the measure still provides for a program $1,000,000,000 bigger than Congress appropriated for foreign aid last year. The new program is for the 12 months starting July 1.

LeMay Asks Identical Sum

Coincidentally, the House authorization — $3,800,000,000 — was identical with the sum Gen. Curtis LeMay told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee he would like in additional money for the Strategic Air Command. And Sen. Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said he is exploring the idea of amending the House bill to transfer all the money to the Air Force.

Russell said he thinks the foreign aid program could be carried out with seven billion dollars in previously appropriated funds that have not been spent.

"I don't think it would wreck the foreign aid program if Congress didn't authorize any new expenditures or appropriate any new money," he said. "That might necessitate the transfer of some funds, but I believe it could be done."

Byrd Favors Further Cut

Meanwhile, Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said he believes the bill should be reduced one billion dollars more. Byrd said he wished to associate himself with Russell in calling for such a cut.

Byrd said that unexpended balances from previous foreign aid appropriations total $6,592,000,000.

The White House — spurned by the House despite appeals by Eisenhower and leaders of both parties for more funds — arranged a bipartisan conference of Senate leaders for later this week.

On today's final roll call a majority of the votes for passage came from Democrats. There were 162 Democrats and 111 Republicans for; 70 Republicans and 52 Democrats against.

U.S. Crop Prospects Lowest In 11 Years

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that crop prospects on June 1 were the lowest in 11 years due to a combination of drought conditions in some areas and unusually cool growing weather.

Should these prospects be reflected at harvest, total production would be down about 12 percent from last year's near record volume. Such a reduction would help relieve some of the crop surplus problems now facing farmers.

Any shortages in supplies would be limited to minor crops because surpluses of the major ones have been accumulated under government farm price support programs.

Ike Pays $1.05 Day For Food At Hospital

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP) — President Eisenhower is paying $1.05 a day for food at Walter Reed Army Hospital. That is the regular "subsistence rate" for officers.

So far, all the President is getting for his money is a glucose and water solution, injected intravenously.

Mrs. Eisenhower, occupying a room adjoining the presidential suite, is paying $1.55 a day, the subsistence charge for dependents of servicemen and nonmilitary patients.

Dividend Payments Up

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP) — Cash dividend payments by corporations rose to $3,700,000,000 during the first five months of this year, an increase of 15 per cent over the corresponding period of 1955, the Commerce Department reported today.

Argentine Army Courts Consider 300 Rebels' Fate

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 11 (AP)—Military courts deliberated in secret sittings today on the fate of more than 300 rebels arrested in the weekend revolt by followers of Juan D. Peron.

Many rebels may meet with the same end as the 38 already executed by government firing squads before the uprising was crushed Sunday.

Officials' Murder Plotted

Provisional President Pedro Aramburu, a major general, charged at a news conference today the rebels had plotted to murder or hold as hostages himself, Vice President Adm. Isaac Rojas and about 1,000 other government officials and then set up a hybrid Communist-Peronista - Nationalist regime.

"The brutal plans included a terror wave, with the burning of churches, newspapers and embassies," he charged.

The government was tipped off to the plans, he said, when police ran into a rebel courier Saturday night. The courier carried a big brown bag stuffed with papers.

Simultaneous Revolts

The discovery, Aramburu said, enabled the government to act with unusual speed when the rebels later that night began simultaneous uprisings here and in La Plata, Santa Rosa and Rosario.

Aramburu said the plan had ramifications in many countries, including financing "from Panama." Peron, whose dictatorship was overthrown last September, is in exile in Panama.

Trials of captured rebels were being carried out under martial law declared Saturday night, when the government moved swiftly to stamp out the revolt with bombers, infantry and cavalry.

Talos Guided Missile May Replace Nike

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Sen. Chavez (D-NM) said after a closed meeting with the chiefs of the armed services today that further production of the Nike may be dropped if forthcoming tests bear out indications that the Talos is a better antiaircraft weapon.

Chavez is chairman of a Senate Appropriations Defense subcommittee which questioned the chiefs about the respective merits of the two guided missiles.

Photogs Asked To Refrain From Ike Window Shots

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The White House requested photographers today to refrain from setting up long-lens cameras on the Walter Reed Hospital grounds to snap pictures of President Eisenhower through the window of his room.

"I think the American people would agree," said press secretary James C. Hagerty, ". . . that the President is entitled to that much consideration."

Hagerty said cameras trained on the President's window would mean that he must keep his shades drawn, depriving him of daylight and the view of the grounds, or would compel him to keep away from the window as he begins to move about more freely.

HAYDEN LAKE, Idaho, June 11 (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller, 44, took his second wife today with none of the fanfare that surrounded his illfated Cinderella marriage to Bobo Rockefeller.

The new bride is Jeanette Edris, 37, daughter of William Edris, a Seattle, Wash., financier. It is her fourth marriage.

A small group of friends and members of her family attended the ceremony at her father's summer home here. After a honeymoon, the couple will live at Rockefeller's Morrilton, Ark., model cattle farm. The bride's attendant was her daughter by a previous marriage, Anne Bartley, of New York.

The wedding was in quiet contrast to the bridegroom's marriage Feb. 14, 1948, to the former Barbara (Bobo) Sears, daughter of a coal miner.

The wedding to Bobo climaxed a Cinderella romance between a grandson of the late Croesus, John D. Rockefeller, and the blonde charmer from a walkup flat on Third Avenue.

Rockefeller and Bobo had a son Sept. 17, 1948, but by 1950 their marriage was crumbling and talk of divorce was in the air.

Romanians Tell Of Motive Behind Legation Attack

BERN, Switzerland, June 11 (AP)—Four young Romanian anti-Communists charged with armed seizure of the Romanian legation here last year related in court today how Communist persecution drove them from their homeland.

Their husky, black-bearded leader, Oliviu Beldeanu, 32, spoke often in a breaking voice and with tears in his eyes as he told what motivated the attack in which the legation's chauffeur was slain.

Swiss Cheer Quartet

When the four left the City Hall, where the trial is being held, to be returned to their jail cell, many Swiss in a street crowd of about 600 cheered and applauded them.

The anti-Communist exiles repeated on the opening day of their trial what they had previously told police interrogators about their plot, which succeeded in holding the legation for 42 hours, and provoked a series of bitter protests from the Bucharest Communist government.

They said their main objectives were to unmask the Romanian legation as a center of Communist espionage in Europe and to force the release of other anti-Communist fighters held in Romania.

Sculptor Testifies

Beldeanu was the first to address the five-judge federal court and a room filled with more than 100 reporters and about 200 spectators. He is a sculptor who served in the French occupation forces in West Germany. He is charged with 10 different crimes in the 40-page indictment against the four. These include espionage, illegal importation of weapons, abduction and complicity in the slaying of the legation chauffeur.

LOS ANGELES, June 11 (AP)—Southern California's first smog "alert" of the year was called today as eye-burning vapors swirled through the Los Angeles basin, bringing misery to millions.

Potomac Puzzle

$1,300,000 Bid For River Island Assessed At $400

ROCKVILLE, Md., June 11 (AP)—An underwater island in the Potomac River, assessed for tax purposes at $400, brought a high bid of $1,300,000 today at a Montgomery County delinquent tax sale. Another bidder dropped out at $1,200,000.

The island, described as 211.8 acres near Cabin John, Md., was being sold for $20.24 back taxes, interests and costs owed since last July 1 by a Mary Wheeldon of Falmouth, Ky.

High bidder was listed as Arthur J. Williams, 28, of Takoma Park, Md., who refused to say why he wanted the tax certificate for the property, only about four acres of which is said to be above water.

County officials, describing the transaction as one of the strangest in Montgomery County tax sale history, said the present owner would have a year and a day to redeem the property. After that, Williams could—but doesn't have to—foreclose. He then could gain title to the land by paying the owner $1,300,000.

If he didn't foreclose he would be out the $20.24 paid for the tax certificate.

The bidding largely was a two-way exchange between Williams and Walter R. Hardisty of Washington. It started at $20 and worked up by $10 at a time in early stages, then $100s and finally $100,000s until Hardisty dropped out.

Informal Bid By Russians Turned Down

President Continues Excellent Recovery, Confers With Adams

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower, continuing his "excellent" recovery from major surgery, today rejected an informal Russian invitation to send the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff on a visit to the Soviet Union this month.

It was the President's first announced policy decision on foreign-military affairs since he was rushed to Walter Reed Army Hospital last Friday for an emergency abdominal operation.

It came as somewhat of a surprise since there had been some indications lately that the White House would welcome such a bid.

Continuing his recovery, Eisenhower was permitted by his doctors to get out of bed briefly again today and to have a 10-minute talk with his chief assistant, Sherman Adams.

Political Question Remains

The two disposed of several problems arising from the President's second major illness in nine months, but not the prime political question: whether he will change his mind about seeking re-election.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that the President had been in the hospital only three hours Friday when he was advised of the new Russian proposal, just received at the Pentagon.

It was an informal sounding-out of what this government's reaction would be if Moscow should invite the three other members of the U. S. Joint Chiefs to accompany Air Force Gen. Nathan F. Twining to the Russian Aviation Day Observance June 24. Twining's trip already has been approved.

Today Adams brought a proposed reply and Hagerty said Eisenhower approved it. It has now been delivered to the Russians.

In the reply, the President left the door open for future visits to Russia by the other members of the Joint Chiefs if they should be invited. They are Adm. Arthur Radford, Chairman, Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Army chief of staff.

But at the moment, the Russians were told, it would be "impracticable" to accept the group invitation, and it would be "not likely" in the future that more than two of the chiefs would accept for any one trip.

Further, any acceptance would be only on the understanding that the American military chiefs be permitted, as Hagerty phrased it, "maximum time outside of Moscow for visits to those activities of special interest to their own services."

A reporter interrupted Hagerty with a question: "The President made the final decision?"

"He sure did," said Hagerty.

Big Steel Pact Offer Expected

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP) — The United Steel Workers' full 170-member wage policy committee was summoned to a Friday meeting here, apparently in anticipation of a contract offer from Big Steel.

The union announcement today said only that the committee's presence here was to keep it informed of negotiations. However, the USW said earlier it expected an industry wage offer sometime during the week.

Meanwhile, negotiations were recessed earlier in the day until Wednesday. Both sides said they had a lot of staff work to get out of the way.

Wage contract talks began June 5 with the union seeking an unspecified but "substantial" pay hike for 350,000 employes of U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic.

Any agreement is expected to set a pattern for the entire 650,000-man industry.

High Court Voids La. Tidelands Order

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Supreme Court today voided a restraining order issued by a Louisiana state court to block leasing of oil-rich submerged lands in the Gulf of Mexico.

The action was announced in an 8-0 order which said the attorney general of Louisiana and other state officials "are enjoined from further prosecuting or taking any proceedings" in the case filed in the state court.

Defector Says Reds Recruit Spies From Korea Truce Group

Ex-Propagandist For Poland Appears Before Senate Unit

EX-RED TESTIFIES — Seweryn Bialer (above), former anti-American propagandist for the Polish Communist Party, testifies before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. He told the senators yesterday that Polish members of the truce team in Korea have used money, vodka and "derogatory information" to recruit spies and collaborators among non-Communist colleagues from other nations. (AP Photofax)

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)— A defector from Communist Poland testified today that Polish members of the truce team in Korea have used money, vodka and "derogatory information" to recruit spies and collaborators among non-Communist colleagues from other nations.

The testimony, given through an interpreter, came from Seweryn Bialer, a former anti-American propagandist for the Polish Communist party who defected to the West last January 31.

He spoke at a public hearing by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Bialer, as his testimony was translated by Jan Karski, said that the Polish truce members received from their government "special funds in order to get collaborators for other commissioners (neutral nations truce team members), for instance Swiss, Canadians and others."

Although Bialer mentioned Canada, that nation is not a member of the neutral nations truce team.

He later mentioned some payments to Frenchmen in connection with the Viet Nam truce.

He said the money was used "to recruit intelligence agents in other delegations."

Bialer said his information came "from the highest sources," including a Gen. Morsky, chairman of the Polish truce team; a Gen. Krzenien, Morsky's predecessor in Korea; a Gen. Grosz, "the chairman of the Polish team in Cambodia," and a "most reliable" major who, he said, was "sent to supervise this action of recruiting."

Bialer said that "any derogatory information about anyone on the other delegations was collected meticulously and sent to Warsaw for use in the future."

Korea Weapons Freeze Causing Allied Concern

TOKYO, June 11 (AP)—American military leaders in the Far East fear they are in effect being slowly disarmed in Korea. They say the weapons of the Allied forces —frozen by type under the 1953 armistice—are growing obsolete as military science and production sweep ahead.

This fear may force the United Nations Command to ask for revision of the armistice agreement.

When the armistice was signed July 27, 1953, everyone believed a Korean peace conference would follow in a few months.

No one expected the armistice agreement would have to last for three years—let alone indefinitely, as it has a good chance of doing now, following the failure of every attempt to arrange a peace conference.

The armistice provided only for replacing worn or broken weapons. The long-range problem of obsolescence was not tackled.

Today the problem is realized only too well on the U. N. side. Allied officers cite unending reports of a Red weapons buildup in North Korea, backed by the evidence of radar tracks, testimony of refugees, and what is considered to be Communist sabotage of the inspection system.

To the best of belief, the Communists have actually reduced their manpower in Korea to a rough equality with the Allied forces there. But intelligence evidences indicates most of the withdrawn troops are massed in Manchuria. Intelligence estimates of new Communist weapons power in North Korea includes the following:

1. A five-wing, balanced jet air force of from 350 to 500 planes, including both Russian-built MIGS and IL-28 light bombers—where there was none before the armistice.

2. Widescale military airfield construction — where none was operating before the armistice.

3. A complete reorganization, retraining and re-equipment of the North Korean peoples army—little more than a shattered militia at war's end.

Hawaiians' Garb In Case Of Hula Lions Irks Judge

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP)—Judge John T. Zuris listened to argument in the case of the two hula dancing lions today with the air of a man who has something else on his mind.

Finally, he addressed Lonnie Kalanilehua, 31, owner of the lions: "Is this the kind of clothes you wear all the time?"

Kalanilehua, a Hawaiian, glanced down at his red kimono, purple sash and sandals. He made no attempt to see his mop of green-dyed hair. "Yes, judge."

Liko Kalanilehua, 29, cousin of Lonnie, dressed in similar garb nodded in agreement.

The Kalanilehuas are a night club entertainment team — the cousins and the lions, Togar and Kila, that is. The lions were not in court.

Judge Zuris addressed the court clerk. "This case is continued until June 19. Have them come back dressed like everybody else. I'm not running a circus in my court," he said.

Lonnie Kalanilehua was charged with displaying a chained wild animal in the public streets. That would be Togar a 280-pounder, or Kila, who weighs 80 pounds.

Mrs. Sybil Vanderpool, who signed the complaint last night, said she had seen the defendant lead one of the animals from a basement apartment to his automobile, all at the risk of life and limb for bypassers in the South Side neighborhood.

Normal Peach Crop

RICHMOND, Va., June 11 (AP)—Despite some late frost damage Virginia will have a normal peach crop of about 1,350,000 bushels this year, more than three times last year's short crop, the Virginia Department of Agriculture reported today.

The crop reporting service estimate is just short of the 1,400,000 bushel average for the last five years but well above last year's 470,000 bushels.

French Newspaper Quotes Khrushchev As Labeling Joseph Stalin Sex Maniac

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev, world communism's boss, was quoted today by a French newspaper as labeling Joseph Stalin a sex maniac whose police recruited for him a harem of underage girls.

The newspaper France-Soir, reporting this in a dispatch from Vienna, said Khrushchev also confirmed a suspicion widely held in the West that Stalin killed his second wife.

Khrushchev, first secretary of the Soviet Communist party, was quoted as suggesting Stalin's crimes were so heinous he should be tried posthumously. Stalin died three years ago.

France-Soir was the first newspaper to obtain the text of Khrushchev's speech to the 20th Soviet Communist party Congress in February denouncing Stalin as the murderer of hundreds of faithful Communists. The U. S. State Department published it about a week later.

The newspaper did not quote directly from this latest report of Stalin's past. It said, however, there could be no doubt about the report's authenticity, explaining Khrushchev delivered it to a small group of Soviet leaders to answer doubts about his original denunciations.

Khrushchev, said France-Soir, reported Stalin assigned his police chief, Lavrenty P. Beria, to recruit a harem of teen-age girls, some of whom disappeared later under mysterious circumstances. Khrushchev is reported to have explained that in his later years Stalin was subject to a sort of erotomania — sex madness — and to have related some "particularly odious details" of sexual cruelty to the girls.

This is not the first time sex charges have been made against Stalin. Alexander Orlov, a former commissar of Soviet secret police who has lived in exile in the United States 20 years, told a news conference last April that Stalin was a homosexual.

Khrushchev now is pictured as revealing to Soviet leaders that Beria confessed Stalin's sex crimes before the police boss was executed late in 1953.

Party Boss Says Russia Will Be Richer Than U.S.

STALINGRAD, U.S.S.R., June 11 (AP)—Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, touring this region with President Tito of Yugoslavia, told a crowd of wildly cheering thousands today that the United States is the richest country now "but tomorrow we will be richer."

He spoke at the Stalingrad hydroelectric station.

"We have our troubles, but we know them and are conquering them with our own might," Khrushchev said. "We will not ask the capitalists for help because if you give them a finger they'll bite off your hand."

The Soviet leader said some people abroad "some times say that maybe things in the Soviet Union will reach such a pass that it will be possible to replace Soviet authority with capitalism."

(At this point, a Tass agency report of the speech said that "friendly voices" shouted "No.")

Khrushchev continued: "This will never be. Let them run their own affairs. This is our reply: 'We'll wait until the crab will whistle . . . .

"We tell the capitalists to let us live in peace, for that is coexistence. We won't meddle in their affairs but let them not meddle in ours."

Khrushchev and Tito visited the hydroelectric station on the Volga-Don Canal after a tumultous day in Stalingrad where an estimated 200,000 persons mobbed them on arrival this morning.

(A Moscow radio broadcast heard in London quoted Tito as saying that "In peace as in war Yugoslavia must march shoulder to shoulder with the Soviet Union toward the goal of the victory of socialism.")

Egypt Reports Navy Bolstered

CAIRO, Egypt, June 11 (AP)—An official Egyptian source announced today new naval units had arrived at Alexandria to strengthen the Egyptian navy.

The terse announcement did not give the numbers, types or origin of the vessels, but it is believed they are the new units purchased from the Communist bloc .

An official stated that "new units for the Egyptian navy arrived in Alexandria harbor to reinforce the Egyptian navy."

Observers here recalled dispatches from London more than a week ago reporting two destroyers flying the Polish ensign had passed through the English Channel. At that time British newspapers speculated that the destroyers were part of a Soviet bloc arms deal with Egypt.

There was no official indication here that the new units were the same as those which passed through the English Channel, but the time interval indicates the ships could have arrived by now.

The Egyptians have said little officially about the arrival of Soviet bloc arms but frequently the expression new arms has been used to refer to equipment received from Czechoslovakia.

Although reports of an Egyptian arms deal with Poland were officially denied, rumors have persisted here that the Soviets will supply Egypt with armaments through Poland.

Bank President, Wife Foil Holdup

STOCKBRIDGE, Ga., June 11 (AP)—A bank president and his wife, victims of a holdup a year ago, blazed away with pistols today at a lone bandit, apparently wounding him before he escaped without the money he demanded.

Mrs. Charles T. Loder, wife of the president of the Citizens Bank, working at a cashier's window, fired four times at the man after he thrust a paper bag into a window and demanded "Fill it up."

Loder engaged in a gun battle with the would-be robber on the sidewalk, firing five shots at the man before he reached a car and fled.

The Citizens Bank was robbed by a lone gunman on May 4, 1955, of $4,500. Stockbridge is about 25 miles southeast of Atlanta.

State's Non-Resident Tax Law Challenged

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—An Arlington, Va., attorney has been engaged by Rep. Broyhill (R-Va) to challenge the Maryland non-resident income tax law in a Maryland state court.

Broyhill said he had engaged Oren R. Lewis to make the test case in behalf of five Virginia residents employed at the weather bureau at Suitland, Md.

The congressman said he decided upon a court suit after "exploring all other avenues of approach." This included, he said, correspondence with the governors of Maryland and Virginia, the income tax bureaus of both states, and federal tax experts.

Maryland taxes only that portion of a non-resident's income that is not taxed within his home jurisdiction. Thus, the state must refund all the income tax it collects on the payroll withholding plan from Virginia and District of Columbia residents employed in Maryland.

Hyde Votes For Aid Bill

Democrats against:

West Virginia—Bailey.

Marland 'Impressed' By Demo Harmony

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 11 (AP)—Gov. William C. Marland told newsmen today he was "very much impressed" by the apparent new harmony within West Virginia Democratic Party.

He provided some general comment on the first meeting here Saturday of the newly elected State Democratic Executive Committee, which chose 38-year-old Hulett C. Smith of Beckley as its new chairman.

Marland, himself a candidate for the U.S. Senate in November's general election, insisted at today's news conference that he personally never had any doubts regarding the Democrats' ability to push into the background the recent primary election's bitterness and intense feelings.

Hospital Safety Steps Ordered

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP) — The State Department of Health today ordered St. Joseph's Hospital here either to install additional fire safety equipment or stop using the upper floors of its old buildings for bedridden patients.

A spokesman for the department said the 92-year-old hospital had not been condemned but that it was deemed advisable to have additional equipment—such as a sprinkler system—installed as a safety measure because the old buildings are not of completely fire resistant construction.

Sister Pierre, superintendent of the hospital which is operated by nuns of the Order of St. Francis, had no comment on the Health Department's directive. She did say the hospital's bed capacity is being reduced from 250 to 175 and that the School of Nursing would be temporarily closed after graduation of this year's class in September.

The Health Department said the hospital has not been put under any arbitrary time limit.

Under the directive, the hospital can use the first floor for bedridden patients and the upper floor for ambulatory patients without installing any new fire equipment. With new equipment, it will be able to continue normal operations.

Fireman And Son, 14, Accused Of Breaking Into Warehouse

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—A 35-year-old fireman and his 14-year-old son were charged today with breaking and entering the Maryland Cup Co. warehouse.

The charges were placed against Daniel W. Cox Sr., a fireman for seven years, and his son after they were arrested by police at the warehouse last night.

A patrol car answered a burglar alarm at the warehouse where paper cups are stored and officers found Cox at the rear of the building. Finding a broken window, the officers checked further and found the son inside. The boy was turned over to juvenile authorities.

John de Rosa of Pasadena, Md., operator of the company, said nothing had been taken from the warehouse.

This '56 Buick is packed with new features—and priced close to the smaller cars!

Buick SPECIAL 6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera

WANT SOME QUICK FACTS on the big news in automobiles today—news that can guide you to a smart move and a real smart buy?

Then listen—it won't take long.

The 1956 Buick has so many new developments—in styling—in power—in performance—in ride and handling—that it is, literally, the best Buick yet. That's Fact No. 1.

And Fact No. 2 proves it: Buick today is more strongly entrenched than ever in the top three of the nation's best sellers—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller cars.

One big reason for this success is the strapping new Buick SPECIAL—like the one pictured here.

It's priced right close to those smaller cars—but, like every '56 Buick, it's a whale of a lot more new car for the money.

It cradles a big, new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine that's record-high in power and compression, and crammed with engineering news even the costly cars can't claim.

It makes the most of every bit of power with a new version of Variable Pitch Dynaflow* that's the most efficient yet. With a new development the engineers call "double regeneration," Dynaflow gives you great new acceleration from the first thrifty inch of pedal pressure. Even before you switch the pitch.

And this '56 Buick cushions you in the softest ride ever. Shows an uncanny sense of direction on every curve and turn. Puts a whole new feeling of safety, security and solidity into every mile you drive.

So before you buy any car—catch up on the latest news. Come try a '56 Buick. When you see how much new automobile your money can buy, we don't think you'll ever settle for less.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Defector Says Reds Recruit Spies From Korea Truce Group

Ex-Propagandist For Poland Appears Before Senate Unit

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)— A defector from Communist Poland testified today that Polish members of the truce team in Korea have used money, vodka and "derogatory information" to recruit spies and collaborators among non-Communist colleagues from other nations.

The testimony, given through an interpreter, came from Seweryn Bialer, a former anti-American propagandist for the Polish Communist party who defected to the West last January 31.

He spoke at a public hearing by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Bialer, as his testimony was translated by Jan Karski, said that the Polish truce members received from their government "special funds in order to get collaborators for other commissioners (neutral nations truce team members), for instance Swiss, Canadians and others."

Although Bialer mentioned Canada, that nation is not a member of the neutral nations truce team.

He later mentioned some payments to Frenchmen in connection with the Viet Nam truce.

He said the money was used "to recruit intelligence agents in other delegations."

Bialer said his information came "from the highest sources," including a Gen. Morsky, chairman of the Polish truce team; a Gen. Krzenien, Morsky's predecessor in Korea; a Gen. Grosz, "the chairman of the Polish team in Cambodia," and a "most reliable" major who, he said, was "sent to supervise this action of recruiting."

Bialer said that "any derogatory information about anyone on the other delegations was collected meticulously and sent to Warsaw for use in the future."

Korea Weapons Freeze Causing Allied Concern

TOKYO, June 11 (AP)—American military leaders in the Far East fear they are in effect being slowly disarmed in Korea. They say the weapons of the Allied forces —frozen by type under the 1953 armistice—are growing obsolete as military science and production sweep ahead.

This fear may force the United Nations Command to ask for revision of the armistice agreement.

When the armistice was signed July 27, 1953, everyone believed a Korean peace conference would follow in a few months.

No one expected the armistice agreement would have to last for three years—let alone indefinitely, as it has a good chance of doing now, following the failure of every attempt to arrange a peace conference.

The armistice provided only for replacing worn or broken weapons. The long-range problem of obsolescence was not tackled.

Today the problem is realized only too well on the U. N. side. Allied officers cite unending reports of a Red weapons buildup in North Korea, backed by the evidence of radar tracks, testimony of refugees, and what is considered to be Communist sabotage of the inspection system.

To the best of belief, the Communists have actually reduced their manpower in Korea to a rough equality with the Allied forces there. But intelligence evidences indicates most of the withdrawn troops are massed in Manchuria. Intelligence estimates of new Communist weapons power in North Korea includes the following:

1. A five-wing, balanced jet air force of from 350 to 500 planes, including both Russian-built MIGS and IL-28 light bombers—where there was none before the armistice.

2. Widescale military airfield construction — where none was operating before the armistice.

3. A complete reorganization, retraining and re-equipment of the North Korean peoples army—little more than a shattered militia at war's end.

HUG FOR NEW FATHER—Little Kiyoko Hatti, who doesn't understand English but knows her new name will be Esther Elizabeth Clinton, had a big hug yesterday for her new father, Joseph Clinton, Bellingham, Mass. He was at the dock in Seattle to greet her when she arrived in the U. S. yesterday. (AP Photofax)

Hawaiians' Garb In Case Of Hula Lions Irks Judge

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP)—Judge John T. Zuris listened to argument in the case of the two hula dancing lions today with the air of a man who has something else on his mind.

Finally, he addressed Lonnie Kalanilehua, 31, owner of the lions: "Is this the kind of clothes you wear all the time?"

Kalanilehua, a Hawaiian, glanced down at his red kimono, purple sash and sandals. He made no attempt to see his mop of green-dyed hair. "Yes, judge."

Liko Kalanilehua, 29, cousin of Lonnie, dressed in similar garb nodded in agreement.

The Kalanilehuas are a night club entertainment team — the cousins and the lions, Togar and Kila, that is. The lions were not in court.

Judge Zuris addressed the court clerk. "This case is continued until June 19. Have them come back dressed like everybody else. I'm not running a circus in my court," he said.

Lonnie Kalanilehua was charged with displaying a chained wild animal in the public streets. That would be Togar a 280-pounder, or Kila, who weighs 80 pounds.

Mrs. Sybil Vanderpool, who signed the complaint last night, said she had seen the defendant lead one of the animals from a basement apartment to his automobile, all at the risk of life and limb for bypassers in the South Side neighborhood.

Normal Peach Crop

RICHMOND, Va., June 11 (AP)—Despite some late frost damage Virginia will have a normal peach crop of about 1,350,000 bushels this year, more than three times last year's short crop, the Virginia Department of Agriculture reported today.

The crop reporting service estimate is just short of the 1,400,000 bushel average for the last five years but well above last year's 470,000 bushels.

French Newspaper Quotes Khrushchev As Labeling Joseph Stalin Sex Maniac

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev, world communism's boss, was quoted today by a French newspaper as labeling Joseph Stalin a sex maniac whose police recruited for him a harem of underage girls.

The newspaper France-Soir, reporting this in a dispatch from Vienna, said Khrushchev also confirmed a suspicion widely held in the West that Stalin killed his second wife.

Khrushchev, first secretary of the Soviet Communist party, was quoted as suggesting Stalin's crimes were so heinous he should be tried posthumously. Stalin died three years ago.

France-Soir was the first newspaper to obtain the text of Khrushchev's speech to the 20th Soviet Communist party Congress in February denouncing Stalin as the murderer of hundreds of faithful Communists. The U. S. State Department published it about a week later.

The newspaper did not quote directly from this latest report of Stalin's past. It said, however, there could be no doubt about the report's authenticity, explaining Khrushchev delivered it to a small group of Soviet leaders to answer doubts about his original denunciations.

Khrushchev, said France-Soir, reported Stalin assigned his police chief, Lavrenty P. Beria, to recruit a harem of teen-age girls, some of whom disappeared later under mysterious circumstances. Khrushchev is reported to have explained that in his later years Stalin was subject to a sort of erotomania — sex madness — and to have related some "particularly odious details" of sexual cruelty to the girls.

This is not the first time sex charges have been made against Stalin. Alexander Orlov, a former commissar of Soviet secret police who has lived in exile in the United States 20 years, told a news conference last April that Stalin was a homosexual.

Khrushchev now is pictured as revealing to Soviet leaders that Beria confessed Stalin's sex crimes before the police boss was executed late in 1953.

Party Boss Says Russia Will Be Richer Than U.S.

STALINGRAD, U.S.S.R., June 11 (AP)—Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, touring this region with President Tito of Yugoslavia, told a crowd of wildly cheering thousands today that the United States is the richest country now "but tomorrow we will be richer."

He spoke at the Stalingrad hydroelectric station.

"We have our troubles, but we know them and are conquering them with our own might," Khrushchev said. "We will not ask the capitalists for help because if you give them a finger they'll bite off your hand."

The Soviet leader said some people abroad "some times say that maybe things in the Soviet Union will reach such a pass that it will be possible to replace Soviet authority with capitalism."

(At this point, a Tass agency report of the speech said that "friendly voices" shouted "No.")

Khrushchev continued: "This will never be. Let them run their own affairs. This is our reply: 'We'll wait until the crab will whistle . . . .

"We tell the capitalists to let us live in peace, for that is coexistence. We won't meddle in their affairs but let them not meddle in ours."

Khrushchev and Tito visited the hydroelectric station on the Volga-Don Canal after a tumultous day in Stalingrad where an estimated 200,000 persons mobbed them on arrival this morning.

(A Moscow radio broadcast heard in London quoted Tito as saying that "In peace as in war Yugoslavia must march shoulder to shoulder with the Soviet Union toward the goal of the victory of socialism.")

Egypt Reports Navy Bolstered

CAIRO, Egypt, June 11 (AP)—An official Egyptian source announced today new naval units had arrived at Alexandria to strengthen the Egyptian navy.

The terse announcement did not give the numbers, types or origin of the vessels, but it is believed they are the new units purchased from the Communist bloc .

An official stated that "new units for the Egyptian navy arrived in Alexandria harbor to reinforce the Egyptian navy."

Observers here recalled dispatches from London more than a week ago reporting two destroyers flying the Polish ensign had passed through the English Channel. At that time British newspapers speculated that the destroyers were part of a Soviet bloc arms deal with Egypt.

There was no official indication here that the new units were the same as those which passed through the English Channel, but the time interval indicates the ships could have arrived by now.

The Egyptians have said little officially about the arrival of Soviet bloc arms but frequently the expression new arms has been used to refer to equipment received from Czechoslovakia.

Although reports of an Egyptian arms deal with Poland were officially denied, rumors have persisted here that the Soviets will supply Egypt with armaments through Poland.

State's Non-Resident Tax Law Challenged

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—An Arlington, Va., attorney has been engaged by Rep. Broyhill (R-Va) to challenge the Maryland non-resident income tax law in a Maryland state court.

Broyhill said he had engaged Oren R. Lewis to make the test case in behalf of five Virginia residents employed at the weather bureau at Suitland, Md.

The congressman said he decided upon a court suit after "exploring all other avenues of approach." This included, he said, correspondence with the governors of Maryland and Virginia, the income tax bureaus of both states, and federal tax experts.

Maryland taxes only that portion of a non-resident's income that is not taxed within his home jurisdiction. Thus, the state must refund all the income tax it collects on the payroll withholding plan from Virginia and District of Columbia residents employed in Maryland.

Hyde Votes For Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The vote by which the House today passed and sent to the Senate a $3,800,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill included:

Democrats for:

Maryland—Fallon, Friedel, Garmatz.

West Virginia—Burnside, Byrd, Kee, Mollohan, Staggers.

Maryland — Devereux, Hyde, Miller.

Democrats against:

West Virginia—Bailey.

Bank President, Wife Foil Holdup

STOCKBRIDGE, Ga., June 11 (AP)—A bank president and his wife, victims of a holdup a year ago, blazed away with pistols today at a lone bandit, apparently wounding him before he escaped without the money he demanded.

Mrs. Charles T. Loder, wife of the president of the Citizens Bank, working at a cashier's window, fired four times at the man after he thrust a paper bag into a window and demanded "Fill it up."

Loder engaged in a gun battle with the would-be robber on the sidewalk, firing five shots at the man before he reached a car and fled.

The Citizens Bank was robbed by a lone gunman on May 4, 1955, of $4,500. Stockbridge is about 25 miles southeast of Atlanta.

Marland 'Impressed' By Demo Harmony

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 11 (AP)—Gov. William C. Marland told newsmen today he was "very much impressed" by the apparent new harmony within West Virginia Democratic Party.

He provided some general comment on the first meeting here Saturday of the newly elected State Democratic Executive Committee, which chose 38-year-old Hulett C. Smith of Beckley as its new chairman.

Marland, himself a candidate for the U.S. Senate in November's general election, insisted at today's news conference that he personally never had any doubts regarding the Democrats' ability to push into the background the recent primary election's bitterness and intense feelings.

Minetti Sworn In

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—G. Joseph Minetti, 48, a member of the Federal Maritime Board, was sworn in at the White House today as a member of the five-man Civil Aeronautics Board.

Hospital Safety Steps Ordered

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP) — The State Department of Health today ordered St. Joseph's Hospital here either to install additional fire safety equipment or stop using the upper floors of its old buildings for bedridden patients.

A spokesman for the department said the 92-year-old hospital had not been condemned but that it was deemed advisable to have additional equipment—such as a sprinkler system—installed as a safety measure because the old buildings are not of completely fire resistant construction.

Sister Pierre, superintendent of the hospital which is operated by nuns of the Order of St. Francis, had no comment on the Health Department's directive. She did say the hospital's bed capacity is being reduced from 250 to 175 and that the School of Nursing would be temporarily closed after graduation of this year's class in September.

The Health Department said the hospital has not been put under any arbitrary time limit.

Under the directive, the hospital can use the first floor for bedridden patients and the upper floor for ambulatory patients without installing any new fire equipment. With new equipment, it will be able to continue normal operations.

Fireman And Son, 14, Accused Of Breaking Into Warehouse

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—A 35-year-old fireman and his 14-year-old son were charged today with breaking and entering the Maryland Cup Co. warehouse.

The charges were placed against Daniel W. Cox Sr., a fireman for seven years, and his son after they were arrested by police at the warehouse last night.

A patrol car answered a burglar alarm at the warehouse where paper cups are stored and officers found Cox at the rear of the building. Finding a broken window, the officers checked further and found the son inside. The boy was turned over to juvenile authorities.

John de Rosa of Pasadena, Md., operator of the company, said nothing had been taken from the warehouse.

Buick Special 6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera

WANT SOME QUICK FACTS on the big news in automobiles today—news that can guide you to a smart move and a real smart buy?

Then listen—it won't take long.

The 1956 Buick has so many new developments—in styling—in power—in performance—in ride and handling—that it is, literally, the best Buick yet. That's Fact No. 1.

And Fact No. 2 proves it: Buick today is more strongly entrenched than ever in the top three of the nation's best sellers—outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller cars.

One big reason for this success is the strapping new Buick Special—like the one pictured here.

It's priced right close to those smaller cars—but, like every '56 Buick, it's a whale of a lot more new car for the money.

It cradles a big, new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine that's record-high in power and compression, and crammed with engineering news even the costly cars can't claim.

It makes the most of every bit of power with a new version of Variable Pitch Dynaflow* that's the most efficient yet. With a new development the engineers call "double regeneration," Dynaflow gives you great new acceleration from the first thrifty inch of pedal pressure. Even before you switch the pitch.

And this '56 Buick cushions you in the softest ride ever. Shows an uncanny sense of direction on every curve and turn. Puts a whole new feeling of safety, security and solidity into every mile you drive.

So before you buy any car—catch up on the latest news. Come try a '56 Buick. When you see how much new automobile your money can buy, we don't think you'll ever settle for less.

Police Seek Positive Identity Of Dead Girl Pulled From Potomac

FREDERICK, June 11 (AP)—X-rays of a hand and foot showed today that the body found in the Potomac River near Brunswick Saturday was that of a female 16 year old or more.

The study was undertaken to try to determine if the body was that of a teen-ager after a relative said it might be that of Mary Elizabeth Fellers, 18, of Beltsville.

State Police said they were told by Dr. Thomas R. Reid of Frederick that tooth extractions noted in the skull seem to compare with those Mary Elizabeth had, although X-ray records of her extractions were not obtainable.

Dr. John P. Barber, Laurel dentist, is studying available dental information to complete the possible identification. The body was being moved today from Frederick Memorial Hospital to Baltimore City Morgue.

The Fellers girl and a friend, Shelby Jean Venable, of North Laurel, were seen getting into an automobile last June 1. They have not been seen since.

Mrs. Louis Myers, of Laurel, saw the body yesterday and said it was Mary Elizabeth. The two were sisters.

However, the girl's father, Irvin Fellers, said the body was not that of his daughter. Mark Venable, Shelby's father, said it was not his daughter either.

Mrs. Myers based her identification on similarity of fingernail and toenail polish, pierced ears and other such similarities.

Frederick County medical examiner Dr. B. O. Thomas said the body had been in the water two or three weeks. The discovery of the body was made by a fisherman. It was in an advanced state of decomposition.

Drowning was given as the probable cause of death, but State Police Captain Charles W. Magaha said "the possibility of foul play has not been ruled out."

He added, "We want to find out how she met her death, why she was nude and what she was doing in Frederick County."

Members of the family said the Beltsville girl had no friends in Frederick County and could think of no reason why she would visit there.

Police are also checking on some clothing found beneath a bridge here to see if it may have belonged to either of the girls.

Child Guidance Institute Opens

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—"The will of a child is not located in the seat of its pants," William J. Harris, child guidance authority, advised today at the annual summer Bible Conference of the Seventh Adventist Church.

Harris told delegates parents too often confuse "won't" and "want" with "will" power in children.

"Some parents are afraid of crushing the will while training the child," he said in advocating an occasional restrained spanking.

Most of the wrongdoing by children is not deliberate, but thoughtless and impulsive, the speaker from headquarters in Washington continued.

"We must take time to train children to think things through—in a child's way, then reason and conscience can influence the will to follow the right course of action."

Harris spoke at the beginning of a five-day institute on child guidance. Tomorrow, he will speak on practical applications of psychology as an aid to prevention of juvenile delinquency.

Other practical institutes are being conducted on cooking and youth evangelism.

Trial Magistrates Convene On June 22

OCEAN CITY, Md., June 11 (AP)—The Trial Magistrates' Assn. will hold its annual three-day convention here beginning June 22.

On the agenda is a panel discussion of automobile manslaughter cases which come before trial magistrates.

Leaders on the panel will be Col. Elmer Munshower, State Police superintendent; W. Dana Rudy, deputy commissioner of motor vehicles, and Harry C. Butler, state's attorney for Queen Anne's County.

Leader Of Maryland 4-H Boys Dies At 82

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 11 (AP)—Edward G. Jenkins, for 25 years a leader of Maryland 4-H boys, will be buried Tuesday after services at 2 p.m. in St. Andrews Church here.

Jenkins died Saturday after an illness of six months. He was 82.

Deputy Court Clerk Dies

CAMBRIDGE, Md., June 11 (AP)—Edwin S. Lake, for 63 years deputy clerk of the Dorchester County Circuit Court, died in Cambridge Hospital today. He was 83.

Lake was hit by a heart attack while at work in the clerk's office last Thursday.

Senate Approves Middle Atlantic Forest Fire Pact

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Senate approved today a bill to permit an interstate forest fire protection compact among Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

The bill, which goes to the House, would give congressional approval to an agreement to be known as the Middle Atlantic Interstate Forest Fire Protection Compact. The pact would be designed to help planning on a regional scale and to provide other interstate cooperation.

Three Sentenced On Lottery Charges

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP) — Frank F. Comi and his sister and brother-in-law were given five-year prison terms and were fined $7,000 each in Criminal Court today for lottery law violations.

Convicted with Comi were Mrs. Florence Patricia Sloman, 21, his sister, and her husband, Bernard K. Sloman, 23.

Defense lawyers said they would take the case to the Court of Appeals and the men were released in bail of $5,000 each and the woman in $4,500 bail.

Police testified they found 6,652 lottery slips, indicating a daily play of $5,000 to $6,000 in a raid on Comi's house in Baltimore last October.

Commenting on the finding of four revolvers and two rifles in Comi's house, Judge Carter said:

"These people were ready for action. I can't overlook these facts. They present a danger to the community and my duty is to curb it if possible."

SRC Will Erect New Buildings

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—The State Roads Commission said today work is expected to start "soon" on a new SRC garage and office building at Cambridge.

A contract has been awarded by the Commission to Choptank Construction Co., Inc., at its low bid of $149,500. The Cambridge firm has been given notice to proceed with the work.

The new structure will be located on old U.S. 50 near Cambridge. It will be of brick and concrete block masonry.

The building will be on property presently owned by the SRC. The contract calls for a structure 72 feet by 203 feet, one story high, except for shop and office areas in a second story.

The new building will be part of District No. 1 operations, embracing the four lower counties of the Eastern Shore under the direction of C. Albert Skirven, district engineer.

Humane Society Taken In By Dog And Bull Story

EASTON, Md., June 11 (AP)—The Talbot County Humane Society has taken back its heroism reward with the red-faced admission that it has been victimized by a dog-gone dog and bull story.

The award, a silver tray, had been presented to Donald Baker, 22, Negro waiter, in honor of the "bravery" of his German Shepherd dog.

Baker had told Society officials his dog saved his two young children from a rampaging bull.

The Society said Baker has now conceded the tale was a little embellished. It seems what actually happened was a little scrimmage between the dog and a cow. The youngsters weren't involved.

General Instrument Expansion Approved

ELIZABETH, N.J., June 11 (AP)—Shareholders of General Instrument Corp. at their annual meeting today ratified the acquisition for $2,490,000 of Micamold Electronics Manufacturing Corp.

The acquisition gives General Instrument additional manufacturing facilities at Brooklyn, N.Y., and Tazewell, Va., to complement its five plants at Newark, N.J., Chicopee, Mass., Joliet, Ill., Beckley, W. Va., and Waterloo, Canada.

Police Seek Positive Identity Of Dead Girl Pulled From Potomac

FREDERICK, June 11 (AP)—X-rays of a hand and foot showed today that the body found in the Potomac River near Brunswick Saturday was that of a female 16 year old or more.

The study was undertaken to try to determine if the body was that of a teen-ager after a relative said it might be that of Mary Elizabeth Fellers, 18, of Beltsville.

State Police said they were told by Dr. Thomas R. Reid of Frederick that tooth extractions noted in the skull seem to compare with those Mary Elizabeth had, although X-ray records of her extractions were not obtainable.

Dr. John P. Barber, Laurel dentist, is studying available dental information to complete the possible identification. The body was being moved today from Frederick Memorial Hospital to Baltimore City Morgue.

The Fellers girl and a friend, Shelby Jean Venable, of North Laurel, were seen getting into an automobile last June 1. They have not been seen since.

Mrs. Louis Myers, of Laurel, saw the body yesterday and said it was Mary Elizabeth. The two were sisters.

However, the girl's father, Irvin Fellers, said the body was not that of his daughter. Mark Venable, Shelby's father, said it was not his daughter either.

Mrs. Myers based her identification on similarity of fingernail and toenail polish, pierced ears and other such similarities.

Frederick County medical examiner Dr. B. O. Thomas said the body had been in the water two or three weeks. The discovery of the body was made by a fisherman. It was in an advanced state of decomposition.

Drowning was given as the probable cause of death, but State Police Captain Charles W. Magaha said "the possibility of foul play has not been ruled out."

He added, "We want to find out how she met her death, why she was nude and what she was doing in Frederick County."

Members of the family said the Beltsville girl had no friends in Frederick County and could think of no reason why she would visit there.

Police are also checking on some clothing found beneath a bridge here to see if it may have belonged to either of the girls.

Child Guidance Institute Opens

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—"The will of a child is not located in the seat of its pants," William J. Harris, child guidance authority, advised today at the annual summer Bible Conference of the Seventh Adventist Church.

Harris told delegates parents too often confuse "won't" and "want" with "will" power in children.

"Some parents are afraid of crushing the will while training the child," he said in advocating an occasional restrained spanking.

Most of the wrongdoing by children is not deliberate, but thoughtless and impulsive, the speaker from headquarters in Washington continued.

"We must take time to train children to think things through—in a child's way, then reason and conscience can influence the will to follow the right course of action."

Harris spoke at the beginning of a five-day institute on child guidance. Tomorrow, he will speak on practical applications of psychology as an aid to prevention of juvenile delinquency.

Other practical institutes are being conducted on cooking and youth evangelism.

Trial Magistrates Convene On June 22

OCEAN CITY, Md., June 11 (AP)—The Trial Magistrates' Assn. will hold its annual three-day convention here beginning June 22.

On the agenda is a panel discussion of automobile manslaughter cases which come before trial magistrates.

Leaders on the panel will be Col. Elmer Munshower, State Police superintendent; W. Dana Rudy, deputy commissioner of motor vehicles, and Harry C. Butler, state's attorney for Queen Anne's County.

Leader Of Maryland 4-H Boys Dies At 82

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 11 (AP)—Edward G. Jenkins, for 25 years a leader of Maryland 4-H boys, will be buried Tuesday after services at 2 p.m. in St. Andrews Church here.

Jenkins died Saturday after an illness of six months. He was 82.

Deputy Court Clerk Dies

CAMBRIDGE, Md., June 11 (AP)—Edwin S. Lake, for 63 years deputy clerk of the Dorchester County Circuit Court, died in Cambridge Hospital today. He was 83.

Lake was hit by a heart attack while at work in the clerk's office last Thursday.

Senate Approves Middle Atlantic Forest Fire Pact

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Senate approved today a bill to permit an interstate forest fire protection compact among Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

The bill, which goes to the House, would give congressional approval to an agreement to be known as the Middle Atlantic Interstate Forest Fire Protection Compact. The pact would be designed to help planning on a regional scale and to provide other interstate cooperation.

Three Sentenced On Lottery Charges

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP) — Frank F. Comi and his sister and brother-in-law were given five-year prison terms and were fined $7,000 each in Criminal Court today for lottery law violations.

Convicted with Comi were Mrs. Florence Patricia Sloman, 21, his sister, and her husband, Bernard K. Sloman, 23.

Defense lawyers said they would take the case to the Court of Appeals and the men were released in bail of $5,000 each and the woman in $4,500 bail.

Police testified they found 6,652 lottery slips, indicating a daily play of $5,000 to $6,000 in a raid on Comi's house in Baltimore last October.

Commenting on the finding of four revolvers and two rifles in Comi's house, Judge Carter said:

"These people were ready for action. I can't overlook these facts. They present a danger to the community and my duty is to curb it if possible."

SRC Will Erect New Buildings

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—The State Roads Commission said today work is expected to start "soon" on a new SRC garage and office building at Cambridge.

A contract has been awarded by the Commission to Choptank Construction Co., Inc., at its low bid of $149,500. The Cambridge firm has been given notice to proceed with the work.

The new structure will be located on old U.S. 50 near Cambridge. It will be of brick and concrete block masonry.

The building will be on property presently owned by the SRC. The contract calls for a structure 72 feet by 203 feet, one story high, except for shop and office areas in a second story.

The new building will be part of District No. 1 operations, embracing the four lower counties of the Eastern Shore under the direction of C. Albert Skirven, district engineer.

16 St. John's Grads

ANNAPOLIS, June 11 (AP) — St. John's College graduated its 164th class today, with a New Jersey coed leading the 16 students to receive diplomas.

Miss Diana Frances Barry, South Dennis, N. J., received a silver medal as the senior who had the highest academic standing in the school's curriculum based on the study of great books.

GOP Group To Meet

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall announced today that the arrangements committee for the GOP National Convention will meet in Washington June 22 to approve final plans for the nominating session.

Humane Society Taken In By Dog And Bull Story

EASTON, Md., June 11 (AP)—The Talbot County Humane Society has taken back its heroism reward with the red-faced admission that it has been victimized by a dog-gone dog and bull story.

The award, a silver tray, had been presented to Donald Baker, 22, Negro waiter, in honor of the "bravery" of his German Shepherd dog.

Baker had told Society officials his dog saved his two young children from a rampaging bull.

The Society said Baker has now conceded the tale was a little embellished. It seems what actually happened was a little scrimmage between the dog and a cow. The youngsters weren't involved.

General Instrument Expansion Approved

ELIZABETH, N.J., June 11 (AP)—Shareholders of General Instrument Corp. at their annual meeting today ratified the acquisition for $2,490,000 of Micamold Electronics Manufacturing Corp.

The acquisition gives General Instrument additional manufacturing facilities at Brooklyn, N.Y., and Tazewell, Va., to complement its five plants at Newark, N.J., Chicopee, Mass., Joliet, Ill., Beckley, W. Va., and Waterloo, Canada.

McKeldin Sees Need For Road Planning Setup

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin said tonight that Maryland must begin planning roads well beyond the present 12-year construction program.

"I expect to have some more definite announcement about such planning at an early date," he told the Travelers Protective Assn. of America.

"That program is progressing rapidly and Maryland again is being counted among the 'good road states'," McKeldin said. "But already we realize that the completion of that program will not be the final answer to our highway needs."

"Already we know that we cannot again delay our planning for the future until such planning is made mandatory by a new blight of obsolescence. We must begin planning now for a program beyond the 12-year program.

"We must begin sketching the prints for the super roads, highways and water crossings to meet the demands of the magnificent economic future that will materialize from the awakening dreams of today," McKeldin said.

Last August at the Governors' Conference in Chicago, the governor said: "I shall, soon after my return to Maryland, appoint a small commission of people of vision—a new, long-range advisory council to the State Roads Commission. This group shall be authorized to engage expert consultants to develop the ideas and plans that the future demands."

He said at the time that the commission would be similar to the advisory group which helped map the 568-million dollar highway building program now in its third year in Maryland.

McKeldin told the convention tonight that the "health of our various avenues of transportation is as important to our national vitality as is the good condition of our arteries to the constitutional well-being of each of us."

He didn't say if the latest plan is connected with his recent complete reorganization of the State Roads Commission, in which Russell H. McCain—the man given credit as the prime mover in designing and winning support for the 12-year program—was replaced as chairman of the SRC.

189 Penn Ave. Pupils Finish

At the final assembly program at Pennsylvania Avenue School, the sixth graders bade farewell to 189 seventh graders who will be eighth graders at Fort Hill or Allegany High School next fall.

Various groups who performed services to the school during the year were given recognition. Closing remarks were made by Miss Lula M. Blonskey, principal.

"Visitation Day" was held previously to acquaint the Virginia and John Humbird pupils who will attend Penn Avenue as seventh graders.

The seventh graders had their annual party in the school auditorium. Many parents also attended.

Connie Maiers, a sixth grade pupil, was crowned "Queen of Spring" at the annual spring festival sponsored by the school and the PTA. A program of rhythm numbers was presented by each grade. More than 600 children participated.

Md. Allotment Of Wheat Cut

Maryland's share of the 1957 national wheat allotment will be some 4.6 per cent less than the 1956 allotment, according to Chester S. Bradley, chairman of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The state's share of the 1957 allotment is 178,898 acres, 8,648 acres less than the 1956 allotment.

Nationally the allotment for 1957 is 55 million acres, the minimum permitted by law. Nine states—Kansas, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Texas, Montana, Nebraska, Colorado, South Dakota and Washington—account for nearly 42 million acres, more than three-fourths of the national total.

Bradley said the state allotment has been divided by counties and the counties are now dividing allotments by farms. Wheat growers in Allegany County should have their allotment notices about June 20, well in advance of the wheat marketing quota referendum set for July 20.

If two-thirds of those voting in the referendum approve, farmers harvesting more than their farm allotments will be subject to a 45 per cent of parity penalty on their excess wheat.

Class Of '26 Observes 30th Anniversary

Some of them traveling as far as 800 miles, the Class of 1926 of Allegany County High School held its 30th anniversary celebration at Ali Ghan Country Club Saturday night and re-elected all officers.

Harry G. Parker was named president, Kathryn Pafel Wilson secretary, and Arnold D. Twigg, treasurer. Ember D. Johnson was appointed general chairman of next year's celebration.

Miss Kathleen Cumbee, faculty advisor to the class, and Miss Dorothy Willison, who also taught most of them and helped direct their school activities, were among the guests and spoke briefly.

The toastmaster, Johnson, called upon a number of the out-of-town class members for impromptu talks and also a number of resident members who recalled topics and incidents of interest.

A memorial was conducted by Anna Crosser Thwaites in memory of class members deceased. The memorial includes Charles Erdman, July 1926; John Spoerl, December 1937; Betty Twigg Weber, November 1942; Charity Boden Reckley, May 1947; Wilbur K. Bishop, April 1950; Glenn R. Chappell, September 1954; James "Scotty" Hutcheon, 1954 and Louise Filler Edenhart, January 1956.

Letters were received from many of those unable to attend, including the senior class president, Samuel Witwer of Chicago.

Among class members attending were Marlin L. Steely, Yardley, Pa.; Charles L. Kolb, Madison, N. J.; Harry B. Schramm, Leesburg, Pa.; Isabel Bewick Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Louise Hodges Bailey, Leetsburg, Pa.; Elsie May Norris Babst, Charlotte, N. C.; Fred Z. Hetzel, Washington, D. A Tribute To Fathers!

There's an old saying that "mother knows best." Well, it seems to us that Father, bless him, should come in for some compliments, too, once in a while. It is true, of course, that upon mother's patient shoulders rests the upbringing of the children. And that is as it should be. But let's not forget that Pa is generally the family breadwinner and it is up to him to pay the bills. When day is done and he comes home, make things as cheery and loving as you can. Have a nice dinner ready. Lay out his slippers and his beloved pipe. Show him how much you love him by being kind and considerate. He may not tell you how he appreciates these attentions. But he will . . . as all good fathers do!

At the final assembly program at Pennsylvania Avenue School, the sixth graders bade farewell to 189 seventh graders who will be eighth graders at Fort Hill or Allegany High School next fall.

Various groups who performed services to the school during the year were given recognition. Closing remarks were made by Miss Lula M. Blonskey, principal.

"Visitation Day" was held previously to acquaint the Virginia and John Humbird pupils who will attend Penn Avenue as seventh graders.

The seventh graders had their annual party in the school auditorium. Many parents also attended.

Connie Maiers, a sixth grade pupil, was crowned "Queen of Spring" at the annual spring festival sponsored by the school and the PTA. A program of rhythm numbers was presented by each grade. More than 600 children participated.

Md. Allotment Of Wheat Cut

Maryland's share of the 1957 national wheat allotment will be some 4.6 per cent less than the 1956 allotment, according to Chester S. Bradley, chairman of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The state's share of the 1957 allotment is 178,898 acres, 8,648 acres less than the 1956 allotment.

Nationally the allotment for 1957 is 55 million acres, the minimum permitted by law. Nine states—Kansas, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Texas, Montana, Nebraska, Colorado, South Dakota and Washington—account for nearly 42 million acres, more than three-fourths of the national total.

Bradley said the state allotment has been divided by counties and the counties are now dividing allotments by farms. Wheat growers in Allegany County should have their allotment notices about June 20, well in advance of the wheat marketing quota referendum set for July 20.

If two-thirds of those voting in the referendum approve, farmers harvesting more than their farm allotments will be subject to a 45 per cent of parity penalty on their excess wheat.

Class Of '26 Observes 30th Anniversary

Some of them traveling as far as 800 miles, the Class of 1926 of Allegany County High School held its 30th anniversary celebration at Ali Ghan Country Club Saturday night and re-elected all officers.

Harry G. Parker was named president, Kathryn Pafel Wilson secretary, and Arnold D. Twigg, treasurer. Ember D. Johnson was appointed general chairman of next year's celebration.

Miss Kathleen Cumbee, faculty advisor to the class, and Miss Dorothy Willison, who also taught most of them and helped direct their school activities, were among the guests and spoke briefly.

The toastmaster, Johnson, called upon a number of the out-of-town class members for impromptu talks and also a number of resident members who recalled topics and incidents of interest.

A memorial was conducted by Anna Crosser Thwaites in memory of class members deceased. The memorial includes Charles Erdman, July 1926; John Spoerl, December 1937; Betty Twigg Weber, November 1942; Charity Boden Reckley, May 1947; Wilbur K. Bishop, April 1950; Glenn R. Chappell, September 1954; James "Scotty" Hutcheon, 1954 and Louise Filler Edenhart, January 1956.

Letters were received from many of those unable to attend, including the senior class president, Samuel Witwer of Chicago.

Among class members attending were Marlin L. Steely, Yardley, Pa.; Charles L. Kolb, Madison, N. J.; Harry B. Schramm, Leesburg, Pa.; Isabel Bewick Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Louise Hodges Bailey, Leetsburg, Pa.; Elsie May Norris Babst, Charlotte, N. C.; Fred Z. Hetzel, Washington, D. C.; Mary Louise Willison King, Arlington, Va.; Minnie Goetz Staley, Westernport; Mary McFerran Nolan, Birmingham, Ala.

Frances Wagner Shafferman, Catherine Griffin Rhoe, Harry G. Parker, Viola Moreland MacKenzie, Anna Crosser Thwaites, Ember D. Johnson, Arnold D. Twigg, F. Allan Weatherholt, Kitty Pafel Wilson, Betty Brengle Thompson, Ruth Gleichman Keiter, Marion Wolford Heiskell, Virginia Mowen Yeager, Mabel Hausman Knight, Evelyn Seaber Llewellyn, Hilda Schade Larkins, Ruth Howe Harden, Mabel Hyde Chaney, Chester Everline, John M. A Tribute To Fathers!

There's an old saying that "mother knows best." Well, it seems to us that Father, bless him, should come in for some compliments, too, once in a while. It is true, of course, that upon mother's patient shoulders rests the upbringing of the children. And that is as it should be. But let's not forget that Pa is generally the family breadwinner and it is up to him to pay the bills. When day is done and he comes home, make things as cheery and loving as you can. Have a nice dinner ready. Lay out his slippers and his beloved pipe. Show him how much you love him by being kind and considerate. He may not tell you how he appreciates these attentions. But he will . . . as all good fathers do!

AAUW Board, Two Group Meetings Are Announced

A talk on drama and announcement of a board and two group meetings featured the spring luncheon meeting of Cumberland Branch AAUW, held Saturday at Cumberland Country Club.

Mrs. William Van Newkirk presided and announced the appointment of Mrs. G. Morgan Smith as Publicity chairman and Mrs. William H. Blake, continuing as chairman of the International Relations Group, for the next year.

The recently organized Bridge Group will meet at the home of Mrs. Veronica Schleifman, 211 Washington Street, Thursday at 10 a. m. Mrs. Joseph Miller and Mrs. Ralph Webster are cochairmen. The board meeting is to be held June 16 at the home of Mrs. William VanOrmer, 747 Washington Street. A picnic is planned by the International Relations group. It will be June 19 at Constitution Park. General meetings will resume in September after the summer recess.

Speaking on the "History of Drama," Mrs. John Dunkle Jr. covered drama from ancient times, the Greek and Roman, through Medieval, following the lapse during the Dark Ages, and emphasized the importance of mystery and morality plays with their interweaving of drama and religion, and brought it up to the Shakespearean plays and the beginning of drama without props. Mrs. Dunkle made special mention of the strides Baylor University is making in revising Hamlet for the modern public.

Arrangements of ragged robins and orange blossoms decorated the tables and ageratum and alyssum potted plants were the individual favors. Mrs. Rudolph Steinberger was in charge of the program. Mrs. Ray Carroll and Mrs. Earl Nonnenmann were in charge of decorations.

Society Votes Donation

The WSCS of Fairview Avenue church voted to give a donation to the building debt, and because of the holiday, to change the July meeting to the 11th.

Held at the church, the meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. B. F. Hartman. The group sang, "In Christ there is no East or West." The title of the program was "The World, Beginning in my Community." Taking part were Mrs. Vallie Welker, Mrs. Katherine Groves, Mrs. B. F. Hartman, Mrs. Bertha Ash, Mrs. Amelia Miller, Mrs. Bertha Rice and Mrs. Gladys Baker. It closed with the singing of "This Is My Father's World."

Reports on the district meeting were given by Mrs. Mabel Watkins, Mrs. Lola Stewart and Mrs. Hartman. The strawberry social and rummage sale were reported as successful. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Stewart. The July Refreshment committee was appointed and includes Mrs. Mae Gordon and Mrs. Watkins.

Others present were Mrs. Justina Clayton, Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. William Browning, a visitor from Flintstone, and Rev. Hartman.

Mrs. B. L. Moreland, Baltimore Avenue, has returned from visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Michael, Waverly, Mo., and attending the Southern Baptist convention in Kansas City. She made the motor trip with Mr. and Mrs. Ivan D. King and daughter, Deborah, Jefferson, former residents, who visited his parents in Kansas City.

Graduates Entertained

"The Psychology of Medicine," was the topic of the talk given by Dr. Richard Williams, guest speaker at the dinner given by the Alumnae Association of Sacred Heart Hospital honoring the graduates. It was held Thursday evening at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

Mineral County Republicans Call Meetings

Groups To Plan Fall Activities

KEYSER — Two Republican meetings will be held Wednesday evening, according to announcements by Charles Coffman, of the Young Republican Club here, and James A. Dixon, clerk of the Mineral County Circuit Court. Dixon has called a meeting of the Mineral County Republican Executive Committee. Coffman has called a meeting of the Young GOP Club.

Both meetings have the same aim, to bring a good attendance for the business immediately ahead for the election of officers, and rounding out plans for the coming election.

The Young Republican Club will meet at 6 p. m. in the Towne House Restaurant, where plans will be discussed for the forthcoming Young Republicans State Convention at Huntington, June 21 and 22. They also will discuss plans for a Republican outdoor meeting to be scheduled for early fall.

Following the Towne-House meeting the Young Republicans will go to the Court House for a meeting in the court room at 8 p. m. with the Mineral County Republican Executive committee, James A. Dixon, who is county committee chairman and a candidate to succeed himself at the coming election as clerk of the circuit court is asking for a new chairman to be elected at this meeting. Nominations will be made from the group, but only members of the executive committee may vote on the officers.

Delegates to the Young Republican convention will be selected at this meeting. Dixon has stressed the importance of both meetings and urges that every interested Republican attend.

HEADS CLERKS — James Dixon of Keyser, clerk of Mineral County Circuit Court, was elected president of the West Virginia Association of County and Circuit Clerks at the concluding session of a convention Saturday at Martinsburg. Dixon succeeds Mrs. Marie Clark of Marion county. A. Miller Brown, of Putnam county, was re-elected to his nineteenth term as secretary of the organization. The association voted to hold next year's meeting in Clarksburg.

Bishop Campbell To Visit Keyser Parish June 17

Emmanuel Episcopal Plans Reception

KEYSER — The Rt. Rev. Wilburn C. Campbell, bishop of the Diocese of West Virginia Episcopal Church, will come to Keyser on June 17 for an official visitation at Emmanuel Church.

The purpose of Bishop Campbell's visit will be to administer the apostolic and sacramental rite of confirmation.

Following confirmation, Bishop Campbell will celebrate Holy Communion and preach a sermon.

In a statement on the purpose of the service of confirmation, Bishop Campbell said "the confirmation, or the laying on of hands, in the Episcopal Church, is a rite that has been treasured since Apostolic days and is described in the eighth chapter of the Book of Acts in the Bible. It is administered only by bishops of apostolic succession," he explained.

Bishop Campbell, who became bishop of West Virginia in April, 1955, was previously bishop coadjuter, having come to West Virginia in 1950. Prior to that time he served congregations in Pennsylvania and New York. He was the first executive director of the presiding bishop's committee for laymen's work of the National Council of the Episcopal Church from 1943-46, with headquarters in New York.

At present Bishop Campbell is closely affiliated with the Charleston Symphony Orchestra, having served as its president during the past year; with the West Virginia Council of Churches, as president; and a member of the Council of Boy Scouts of America in Kanawha County. He is also a member of the Kanawha-Clay County American Red Cross board of directors. He is also serving as a member of the Mayor's Advisory Committee for the capital city's newly planned civic center. While here he will be entertained by Emmanuel Church at a buffet luncheon and reception following the service.

Mineral County Republicans Call Meetings

Groups To Plan Fall Activities

KEYSER — Two Republican meetings will be held Wednesday evening, according to announcements by Charles Coffman, of the Young Republican Club here, and James A. Dixon, clerk of the Mineral County Circuit Court. Dixon has called a meeting of the Mineral County Republican Executive Committee. Coffman has called a meeting of the Young GOP Club.

Both meetings have the same aim, to bring a good attendance for the business immediately ahead for the election of officers, and rounding out plans for the coming election.

The Young Republican Club will meet at 6 p. m. in the Towne House Restaurant, where plans will be discussed for the forthcoming Young Republicans State Convention at Huntington, June 21 and 22. They also will discuss plans for a Republican outdoor meeting to be scheduled for early fall.

Following the Towne - House meeting the Young Republicans will go to the Court House for a meeting in the court room at 8 p. m. with the Mineral County Republican Executive committee. James A. Dixon, who is county committee chairman and a candidate to succeed himself at the coming election as clerk of the circuit court is asking for a new chairman to be elected at this meeting. Nominations will be made from the group, but only members of the executive committee may vote on the officers.

Delegates to the Young Republican convention will be selected at this meeting. Dixon has stressed the importance of both meetings and urges that every interested Republican attend.

Bishop Campbell To Visit Keyser Parish June 17

Emmanuel Episcopal Plans Reception

KEYSER — The Rt. Rev. Wilburn C. Campbell, bishop of the Diocese of West Virginia Episcopal Church, will come to Keyser on June 17 for an official visitation at Emmanuel Church.

The purpose of Bishop Campbell's visit will be to administer the apostolic and sacramental rite of confirmation.

Following confirmation, Bishop Campbell will celebrate Holy Communion and preach a sermon.

In a statement on the purpose of the service of confirmation, Bishop Campbell said "the confirmation, or the laying on of hands, in the Episcopal Church, is a rite that has been treasured since Apostolic days and is described in the eighth chapter of the Book of Acts in the Bible. It is administered only by bishops of apostolic succession," he explained.

Bishop Campbell, who became bishop of West Virginia in April, 1955, was previously bishop coadjuter, having come to West Virginia in 1950. Prior to that time he served congregations in Pennsylvania and New York. He was the first executive director of the presiding bishop's committee for laymen's work of the National Council of the Episcopal Church from 1943-46, with headquarters in New York.

At present Bishop Campbell is closely affiliated with the Charleston Symphony Orchestra, having served as its president during the past year; with the West Virginia Council of Churches, as president; and a member of the Council of Boy Scouts of America in Kanawha County. He is also a member of the Kanawha-Clay County American Red Cross board of directors. He is also serving as a member of the Mayor's Advisory Committee for the capital city's newly planned civic center. While here he will be entertained by Emmanuel Church at a buffet luncheon and reception following the service.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 11 (INS)—Just heard from Tyrone Power that he has chosen Mai Zetterling, Swedish actress, to co-star with him in "Seven Waves Away," which he and Ted Richmond are making in England.

The Zetterling beauty was in "Knock on Wood" with Danny Kaye and "Prize of Gold" with Richard Widmark, and she has all the Swedish scrubbed look that characterized her compatriots Garbo and Bergman when they first came to Hollywood.

Next month, Ty's two little girls, Romina and Taryn, join him in England. They'll be delivered by their mother Linda Christian just after Ty starts "Seven Waves Away" July 2.

For many years Dennis O'Keefe was one of our most attractive actors on the screen. Now Dennis had turned writer and director.

He's sold Columbia his original story "Confidential" and will take over as director, with Jonie Tapps producing.

I asked how come Jonie is producing so many pictures, and I was told that he is leaving the musical department to become a producer not only of musicals but of drama and comedy.

If this is only rumor I expect I'll get a ten page cablegram from David Selznick blasting me. But I have just heard that the intrepid Selznick has been trying to get permission from the Duke and Duchess of Windsor and the British government to film the most famous love story of modern times.

According to my informant, the duchess is willing, the duke is reluctant, and the British government hasn't yet been heard from. When the answer comes it should be a big blast in everybody's ear.

David, my informant also says, would like to star Jennifer Jones as the duchess.

When I heard that Ava Gardner was in Paris getting an elaborate wardrobe for "The Little Hut" I gasped! In the play all the scenes take place on an island and the heroine doesn't wear many more clothes than Eve. But M.G.M. executives tell me the motion picture has scenes in London which are not in the stage play, and in these Ava can wear her beautiful clothes.

At any rate, she is really splurging and buying herself some gorgeous gowns — at the expense of MGM, of course.

Dorothy Mitchum flew into town from Trinidad over the weekend to pack up her belongings and get ready to leave for London. She's been in Trinidad with Bob and the "Fire Down Below" company.

She says Rita Hayworth, Jack Lemmon and Bob take off in about ten days to complete the film in London. What a wonderful gal Dorothy is and the Rock of Gibraltar where Bob is concerned, always by his side in troubled times and in good times.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Judy Garland's birthday was celebrated at the dinner James and Pamela Mason gave in honor of the completion of Jimmie's latest picture, "Bigger Than Life." The Masons leave for London soon.

"How old are you, Judy?" asked Portie, precocious daughter of the house. Judy said eighteen.

Portie made no secret that Groucho Marx was her favorite. He played cat's cradle with her and reminded Portie that he has a daughter about the same age.

Jean Simmons and Stewart Granger were congratulated on their citizenship, which they had obtained that very day. Jean, who's expecting a bambino, was getting all the A-1 attention from her bridegroom.

Buddy Adler, who could very well be a movie star, with his pretty Anita Louise. Buddy told me that Nick Ray will direct "The Jesse James Story."

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Union Group Approves Viscose Settlement

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The advisory council of the Textile Workers Union of America has approved a negotiated settlement of a new three-year agreement and an amended pension plan for employes of the American Viscose Corp.

Announcement of the 8½ cent hourly wage increase and improved pension plan was made jointly yesterday by union officials and the company.

Elimination of employe contributions to the pension fund, effective as of last Jan. 1 under the plan, amounts to a wage equivalent of 11 cents an hour for the year, the joint statement said. Benefits also rise.

June is the month of wedding bells.

Secrets Of Charm

Wedding Plans

There's always great indecision and questions among couples having parents who are divorced. The bride inquires who sends out her wedding invitations... her mother, or father, or, do they send them out together? Who gives the reception? These are but a few of the questions received in our daily mails.

When the parents of the bride are divorced, they never send out invitations together. This is in very bad taste. The invitations are sent out only in the name of the bride's mother.

It is always better that the mother rather than the father give the wedding and wedding reception. The reversal of this might imply that the mother is not considered fit to have the custody of her daughter.

One thing that isn't altered by the divorce, and that is that the father takes the same part in the wedding proper. For example, on the day of the wedding, just before the ceremony is to begin, the father comes to call for his daughter at her mother's house. He usually waits in the car at the door, only sending up word that he is there. He goes to the church with his daughter, walks up the aisle and gives her away.

Following this, instead of going into the first pew at the left with the bride's mother, the bride's father sits in the second or third pew during the ceremony. He may be accompanied, or not, by his new wife, but only if the relations are extremely friendly. But, neither she nor the bride's father receives at the reception or sits at the parents' table. If the divorce has been a difficult or unpleasant one or a very recent one, the bride's father often doesn't attend the reception.

Whatever is planned, everyone should think of the bride and make everything as pleasant as possible. This is "her day" and should be the most beautiful one in her life.

Dave Gunter Will Display Range

A new microwave range that cooks foods in seconds will be one of the features of the open house and food display to be given by Dave Gunter at his Clarysville Inn Monday, June 18.

The local chef also has scheduled an exhibition of the latest methods of food preparation and will distribute free recipes and refreshments to those attending.

The open house will start at 4 p. m. June 18 and will last until 10 p. m. The public is invited, although Gunter believes it will be of special interest to professional cooks and managerial personnel. Food preparation for restaurants, hospitals, country clubs, churches and institutions will be featured, as well as many items of interest to homemakers of the area. Foods will be shown and the latest model deep fat fryers, griddles, ovens and high pressure cookers will be demonstrated in actual use.

Former Resident Joins Ad Agency

John Lee Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Kelly, 36 Boone Street, has joined the Fellows Advertising Agency at Syracuse, N. Y., as an illustrator. He formerly worked with the publications department of the Fairchild Aircraft Company in Hagerstown.

A veteran of World War II in the Army, he studied at the Terry Institute, Miami, Maryland Institute of Art in Baltimore, and Ringling School of Art in Sarasota.

Local Student On Dean's List

Miss Frances C. Reynolds, daughter of Mrs. Knight Reynolds, 824 Buckingham Road, and the late Dr. Reynolds, has been named on the Dean's List at the University of Maryland for attaining a four point average.

Miss Reynolds was recently initiated into Diamond, an honorary fraternity for outstanding sorority women at the university. She is president of the Maryland Beta chapter of Pi Beta Phi, social sorority.

Miss Reynolds will be graduated from the university in February 1957.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 11 (INS)—Just heard from Tyrone Power that he has chosen Mai Zetterling, Swedish actress, to co-star with him in "Seven Waves Away," which he and Ted Richmond are making in England.

The Zetterling beauty was in "Knock on Wood" with Danny Kaye and "Prize of Gold" with Richard Widmark, and she has all the Swedish scrubbed look that characterized her compatriots Garbo and Bergman when they first came to Hollywood.

Next month, Ty's two little girls, Romina and Taryn, join him in England. They'll be delivered by their mother Linda Christian just after Ty starts "Seven Waves Away" July 2.

For many years Dennis O'Keefe was one of our most attractive actors on the screen. Now Dennis had turned writer and director.

He's sold Columbia his original story "Confidential" and will take over as director, with Jonie Tapps producing.

I asked how come Jonie is producing so many pictures, and I was told that he is leaving the musical department to become a producer not only of musicals but of drama and comedy.

If this is only rumor I expect I'll get a ten page cablegram from David Selznick blasting me. But I have just heard that the intrepid Selznick has been trying to get permission from the Duke and Duchess of Windsor and the British government to film the most famous love story of modern times.

According to my informant, the duchess is willing, the duke is reluctant, and the British government hasn't yet been heard from. When the answer comes it should be a big blast in everybody's ear.

David, my informant also says, would like to star Jennifer Jones as the duchess.

When I heard that Ava Gardner was in Paris getting an elaborate wardrobe for "The Little Hut" I gasped! In the play all the scenes take place on an island and the heroine doesn't wear many more clothes than Eve. But M.G.M. executives tell me the motion picture has scenes in London which are not in the stage play, and in these Ava can wear her beautiful clothes.

At any rate, she is really splurging and buying herself some gorgeous gowns — at the expense of MGM, of course.

Dorothy Mitchum flew into town from Trinidad over the weekend to pack up her belongings and get ready to leave for London. She's been in Trinidad with Bob and the "Fire Down Below" company.

She says Rita Hayworth, Jack Lemmon and Bob take off in about ten days to complete the film in London. What a wonderful gal Dorothy is and the Rock of Gibraltar where Bob is concerned, always by his side in troubled times and in good times.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Judy Garland's birthday was celebrated at the dinner James and Pamela Mason gave in honor of the completion of Jimmie's latest picture, "Bigger Than Life." The Masons leave for London soon.

"How old are you, Judy?" asked Portie, precocious daughter of the house. Judy said eighteen.

Portie made no secret that Groucho Marx was her favorite. He played cat's cradle with her and reminded Portie that he has a daughter about the same age.

Jean Simmons and Stewart Granger were congratulated on their citizenship, which they had obtained that very day. Jean, who's expecting a bambino, was getting all the A-1 attention from her bridegroom.

Buddy Adler, who could very well be a movie star, with his pretty Anita Louise. Buddy told me that Nick Ray will direct "The Jesse James Story."

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Legion Plans Installation

Officers will be installed by Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, this evening at 8 p. m. at the Post Home.

To be installed are Charles E. Griffith, commander, a veteran of World War II; Harold W. Davis, first vice commander; William P. Claar, second vice commander; Russell C. Paupe, adjutant; William C. Coble Jr. finance officer; William L. Ranck, historian; Rabbi Laniel Lowy, chaplain; Joseph Macon, sergeant-at-arms; Howard P. Loughrie, Thomas B. Finan, George F. Buskey and Phil Fleming, executive committee.

Visitors for the event will be Maryland Department Commander David L. Brigham, Rockville; Raymond A. Burke, Washington, alternate national executive committeeman; John W. Sloan, Baltimore, department child welfare commission chairman; Ernest Poland, department vice commander; Russell E. Dennison, Area B commander of the Mountain District, who will be installing officer.

The Mountain District, of which Fort Cumberland Post is part, has exceeded its membership of last year.

A buffet luncheon will be served after the installation by the Ladies Auxiliary of the post.

Seven To Be Inducted

Government Aid Is Promised In Watershed Plans

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan announced he has been told that the federal government will appropriate money to the city for surveys for a third watershed.

Mayor Roy W. Eves told Keegan at yesterday's council session that the city is already looking into the situation. It is similar to money advanced for planning the sewage treatment plant, Eves added.

A report on water by C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendent of Evitts Creek Water Company, shows Lake Gordon two inches above the crest of the spillway and Lake Koon 2 inches above. Consumption for the week ending Sunday was 78,080,000 gallons compared to 84,210,000 the same period a year ago.

Trades Council To Meet

The Allegany Trades Council will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Seven local men will leave Thursday for induction into the armed forces at Fairmont, according to P. Emmett Fahey, clerk coordinator for the local Selective Service Boards.

Fahey said Board 27 will send Ronald Neff Herring, 31 Boone Street, and Robert Messersmith, Little Orleans, while Board 29 will send Donald Lee Geiger, RD 1.

Leaving from Board 28 will be George McClelland Phillips, 122 Reynolds Street; Robert Melvin Steckman, 209 Reynolds Street; Thomas Edward McConell, 534 Maryland Avenue, and Robert Dill Bennett, 324 Bedford Street.

Eighteen local youths will depart with the group for physicals, Fahey said.

The group will leave by charter bus at 7 a. m. (EDT) from the Post Office building.

The bus will stop in Frostburg where four youth will be sent for induction from Board 30.

Earl Hill, clerk of the Frostburg Board, said besides the four scheduled to report for induction, five other youths will be sent to Fairmont for physicals.

The draftees include Raymond Raynor, Gilmore; John Duckworth Jr., Westernport; Robert McAlpine, Midland, and Marvin L. Layman, Wrights Crossing.

The group is the largest to leave Cumberland since last February.

Heart Group To Meet

The board of directors of the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association will meet today at 7:30 p.m. in the office, Clarke-Keating Building, according to Ernest B. Treat, president.

City Workers Seek Meet On Wage Boost

Cumberland Municipal Employes Local 812 has served notice on the Mayor and Council it would like to discuss an increase ir wages in view of the rising costs of living.

A letter, signed by Calvin W. Shipes, president, was read at the meeting of the Mayor and Council yesterday. He asked a time and place be set.

Commissioner William H. Buchholtz said he thought the matter should be discussed at budget time. There was no further discussion.

A number of seasonal recreation job appointments or changes were approved including:

Cleo Rice as Penn Avenue field ticket seller at $2 a session; Randolph Stein and Charles Granigan to replace Richard L. Higson and Homer Schaidt as projectionists at $40 a month; Ronnie Diehl, Roy Reed Jr., and Dewarren O'Neil to replace Robert J. Schell, Donald Irons and Willian. R. Brown as ballfield leaders at $80 a month; and Delysle Henry to be replaced as a playground leader but paid $20 for a week's rec training institute.

Charles Schultz was hired as a field custodian at $80 a month, and Edgar L. Parsons as ballfield leader at $80 a month. Classification changes included Shirley Ketterman from leader to playground director, $140 a month; E. May Smith from director to leader, $100 a month; and the appointment of John J. Kilroy Jr. as a laborer at $1 an hour; and L. E. Van Sant as tennis instructor and supervisor at $4 a session.

Accepts Car Bids

Council accepted the bid of Gurley's Inc., on two cars. One, a 1956 used model for the Police Department, will cost $1,893; and the second, a new car for the Fire Department including trade-in, $1,470.28.

A dozen letters or cards on fluoridation of the water supply were acknowledged and filed.

Payments authorized included: $4,445 to Liller Brothers for grading and surfacing an area at Lamont Playground; $7,785 to Cumberland Contracting Company for the new tennis court at North End Playground; $113,764.72 to Moyer Brothers as estimate No. 15 for work done at the sewage treatment plant May 1-31; and $21,716.55 to Hazelwood Construction Company as estimate No. 14 for filter alteration work at Lake Gordon from May 1-31.

Other Action

Council approved the action of Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn in accepting the resignations off Officers Leo E. Law and Walter P. Dennison who took employment elsewhere.

A report on parking meter receipts for the week May 27-June 3 shows a $58.53 decrease on returns of $713.88 the last week of May and $655.35 the first week of June.

In a tabulation of receipts and disbursements as of June 1, the following balances were reported by Finance Commissioner John J. Long: a General, $237,643.66; water operative, $85,688.97; general improvement bond, $84,355.94; water improvement bonds 1955, none; sewer bonds 1931, $3,916.34; sewage disposal plant fund, $77,653.82.

City Officials Praised, Criticized At Meeting

The Mayor and Council got an almost equal share of praise for projects completed and demands for action on others yesterday.

Two residents of Michigan Avenue, C. R. Weatherholt and Charles W. Davy Jr., expressed appreciation for the city's cooperation in the curbing job on their street and designated City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum, Commissioner William H. Buchholtz and Lester Bolinger and Charles R. Scarlett of the Engineering Department in particular. But, they said they wanted to point out that the street in some sections is higher than the curb and asked that it be corrected.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Yockus, 836 Gephart Street, singled out Buchholtz, Mayor Roy W. Eves and Recreation Director Robert E. Pence in thanking the city for providing a baseball field for boys in that area. They suggested that the lot be checked periodically.

Cumberland Lions Club Foundation, Inc., thanked council for its cooperation in its recent sports car races at Municipal Airport.

Residents of Winfield or Winifred Road notified council they are "up in arms" over the deplorable condition of the street and because it is used as a speedway. Mrs. James W. Weakley, 531 Winfield Road, said street damage resulted from the laying of the water line to Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and the contractor never restored it to its original condition. She also said that a sewage condition exists.

Mrs. Weakley pointed out residents will be forced to repaint their homes and are unable to open windows because of dirt.

Simon P. Newlin, 647 Winfield Road, told council residents want action right away since the condition is ruining property. If not, he said, they will have to sue the city. Newlin also asked that steps be taken to reduce car speeds along the road and pointed out the hazard to children and pedestrians. He said signs should be erected.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said signs would be taken care of as soon as possible.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum promised Mrs. Weakley he would get in touch with Cumberland Contracting Company at once in an effort to clear up the street condition. Earlier, he had said the contracting company is responsible for putting the street in as good or better shape than it was. He said the company plans to surface the street with asphalt and chips but since its forces are scattered on two or three other jobs, the company had assured him it would get to the surfacing as soon as possible.

Mrs. Weakley wanted to know if that meant the condition would exist all summer, and Nuzum said he would contact the company.

Fred Weber, of Wempe Drive, also demanded that something be done about dust conditions, recalling that a petition was submitted several weeks ago and nothing has been done. Buchholtz mentioned a proposal whereby the city and Housing Authority are planning to hard-surface the area, but Weber said he is not interested in that, only temporary relief now.

Buchholtz said sodium chloride, a dust layer, had been applied but it loses its effectiveness after a rain. And he pointed out some residents are opposed to oiling. Buchholtz said he would try to take temporary measures today or tomorrow and added "There are dozens of other places like it."

Mrs. Isaac Whisner, 1209 Virginia Avenue, said that a catch basin change had failed to solve a water problem which resulted in flooding the basement of her home during heavy rains. Buchholtz said recommendations of the engineer had been followed in the matter but that he and Nuzum will take another look.

Powell T. Hess, 427 Furnace Street, brought a protest before council over the operation of a machine shop by "Ed Bock." He asked for relief from noise of the shop's operation and from traffic in the driveway of his private residence.

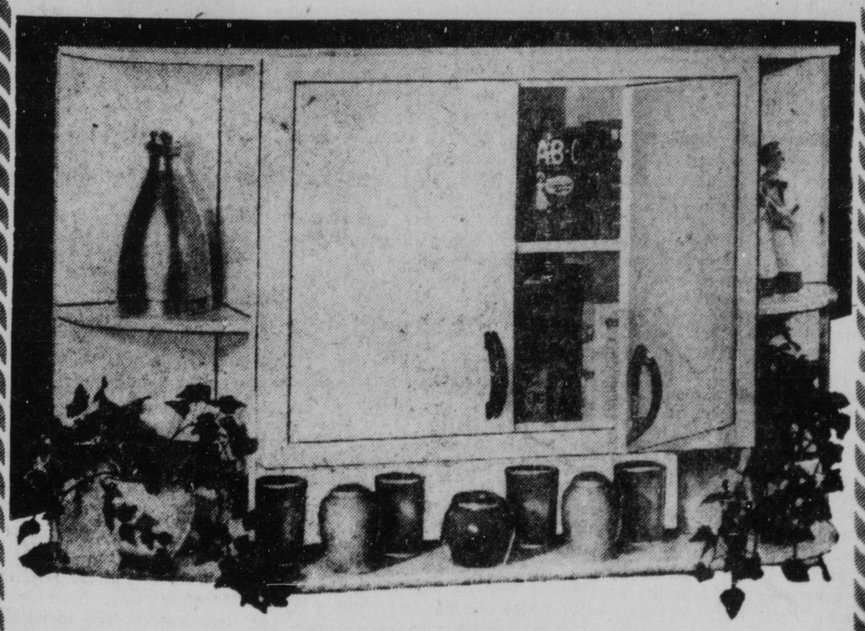

Hess said the shop is located in the rear of his property. (An Edward Bock repair shop is listed at 430 Valley Street.) Hess said the shop operates from 7 a. m. to p. m. and often later at night. The noise keeps him awake, Hess said, adding that he works at night and must sleep in the daytime.

Since there seemed to be some difference in opinion on when the shop was opened and what effect if any that it would have on city laws governing such operation, Mayor Eves told Hess that City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and Nuzum will check into the law and see what can be done accordingly.

Seven To Be Inducted

Seven local men will leave Thursday for induction into the armed forces at Fairmont, according to P. Emmett Fahey, clerk coordinator for the local Selective Service Boards.

Fahey said Board 27 will send Ronald Neff Herring, 31 Boone Street, and Robert Messersmith, Little Orleans, while Board 29 will send Donald Lee Geiger, RD 1.

Leaving from Board 28 will be George McClelland Phillips, 122 Reynolds Street; Robert Melvin Steckman, 209 Reynolds Street; Thomas Edward McConell, 534 Maryland Avenue, and Robert Dill Bennett, 324 Bedford Street.

Eighteen local youths will depart with the group for physicals, Fahey said.

The group will leave by charter bus at 7 a. m. (EDT) from the Post Office building.

The bus will stop in Frostburg where four youth will be sent for induction from Board 30.

Earl Hill, clerk of the Frostburg Board, said besides the four scheduled to report for induction, five other youths will be sent to Fairmont for physicals.

The draftees include Raymond Raynor, Gilmore; John Duckworth Jr., Westernport; Robert McAlpine, Midland, and Marvin L. Layman, Wrights Crossing.

The group is the largest to leave Cumberland since last February.

Government Aid Is Promised In Watershed Plans

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan announced he has been told that the federal government will appropriate money to the city for surveys for a third watershed.

Mayor Roy W. Eves told Keegan at yesterday's council session that the city is already looking into the situation. It is similar to money advanced for planning the sewage treatment plant, Eves added.

A report on water by C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendent of Evitts Creek Water Company, shows Lake Gordon two inches above the crest of the spillway and Lake Koon 2 inches above. Consumption for the week ending Sunday was 78,080,000 gallons compared to 84,210,000 the same period a year ago.

Trades Council To Meet

The Allegany Trades Council will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Heart Group To Meet

The board of directors of the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association will meet today at 7:30 p.m. in the office, Clarke-Keating Building, according to Ernest B. Treat, president.

City Workers Seek Meet On Wage Boost

Cumberland Municipal Employes Local 812 has served notice on the Mayor and Council it would like to discuss an increase ir wages in view of the rising costs of living.

A letter, signed by Calvin W. Shipes, president, was read at the meeting of the Mayor and Council yesterday. He asked a time and place be set.

Commissioner William H. Buchholtz said he thought the matter should be discussed at budget time. There was no further discussion.

A number of seasonal recreation job appointments or changes were approved including:

Cleo Rice as Penn Avenue field ticket seller at $2 a session; Randolph Stein and Charles Granigan to replace Richard L. Higson and Homer Schaidt as projectionists at $40 a month; Ronnie Diehl, Roy Reed Jr., and Dewarren O'Neil to replace Robert J. Schell. Donald Irons and Willian. R. Brown as ballfield leaders at $80 a month; and Delysle Henry to be replaced as a playground leader but paid $20 for a week's rec training institute.

Charles Schultz was hired as a field custodian at $80 a month, and Edgar L. Parsons as ballfield leader at $80 a month. Classification changes included Shirley Ketterman from leader to playground director, $140 a month; E. May Smith from director to leader, $100 a month; and the appointment of John J. Kilroy Jr. as a laborer at $1 an hour; and L. E. Van Sant as tennis instructor and supervisor at $4 a session.

Accepts Car Bids

Council accepted the bid of Gurley's Inc., on two cars. One, a 1956 used model for the Police Department, will cost $1,893; and the second, a new car for the Fire Department including trade-in, $1,470.28.

A dozen letters or cards on fluoridation of the water supply were acknowledged and filed.

Payments authorized included: $4,445 to Liller Brothers for grading and surfacing an area at Lamont Playground; $7,785 to Cumberland Contracting Company for the new tennis court at North End Playground; $113,764.72 to Moyer Brothers as estimate No. 15 for work done at the sewage treatment plant May 1-31; and $21,716.55 to Hazelwood Construction Company as estimate No. 14 for filter alteration work at Lake Gordon from May 1-31.

Other Action

Council approved the action of Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn in accepting the resignations off Officers Leo E. Law and Walter P. Dennison who took employment elsewhere.

A report on parking meter receipts for the week May 27-June 3 shows a $58.53 decrease on returns of $713.88 the last week of May and $655.35 the first week of June.

In a tabulation of receipts and disbursements as of June 1, the following balances were reported by Finance Commissioner John J. Long: a General, $237,643.66; water operative, $85,688.97; general improvement bond, $84,355.94; water improvement bonds 1955, none; sewer bonds 1931, $3,916.34; sewage disposal plant fund, $77,653.82.

City Officials Praised, Criticized At Meeting

The Mayor and Council got an almost equal share of praise for projects completed and demands for action on others yesterday.

Two residents of Michigan Avenue, C. R. Weatherholt and Charles W. Davy Jr., expressed appreciation for the city's cooperation in the curbing job on their street and designated City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum, Commissioner William H. Buchholtz and Lester Bolinger and Charles R. Scarlett of the Engineering Department in particular. But, they said they wanted to point out that the street in some sections is higher than the curb and asked that it be corrected.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Yockus, 836 Gephart Street, singled out Buchholtz, Mayor Roy W. Eves and Recreation Director Robert E. Pence in thanking the city for providing a baseball field for boys in that area. They suggested that the lot be checked periodically.

Cumberland Lions Club Foundation, Inc., thanked council for its cooperation in its recent sports car races at Municipal Airport.

Residents of Winfield or Winifred Road notified council they are "up in arms" over the deplorable condition of the street and because it is used as a speedway. Mrs. James W. Weakley, 531 Winfield Road, said street damage resulted from the laying of the water line to Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and the contractor never restored it to its original condition. She also said that a sewage condition exists.

Mrs. Weakley pointed out residents will be forced to repaint their homes and are unable to open windows because of dirt.

Simon P. Newlin, 647 Winfield Road, told council residents want action right away since the condition is ruining property. If not, he said, they will have to sue the city. Newlin also asked that steps be taken to reduce car speeds along the road and pointed out the hazard to children and pedestrians. He said signs should be erected.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said signs would be taken care of as soon as possible.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum promised Mrs. Weakley he would get in touch with Cumberland Contracting Company at once in an effort to clear up the street condition. Earlier, he had said the contracting company is responsible for putting the street in as good or better shape than it was. He said the company plans to surface the street with asphalt and chips but since its forces are scattered on two or three other jobs, the company had assured him it would get to the surfacing as soon as possible.

Mrs. Weakley wanted to know if that meant the condition would exist all summer, and Nuzum said he would contact the company.

Fred Weber, of Wempe Drive, also demanded that something be done about dust conditions, recalling that a petition was submitted several weeks ago and nothing has been done. Buchholtz mentioned a proposal whereby the city and Housing Authority are planning to hard-surface the area, but Weber said he is not interested in that, only temporary relief now.

Buchholtz said sodium chloride, a dust layer, had been applied but it loses its effectiveness after a rain. And he pointed out some residents are opposed to oiling. Buchholtz said he would try to take temporary measures today or tomorrow and added "There are dozens of other places like it."

Mrs. Isaac Whisner, 1209 Virginia Avenue, said that a catch basin change had failed to solve a water problem which resulted in flooding the basement of her home during heavy rains. Buchholtz said recommendations of the engineer had been followed in the matter but that he and Nuzum will take another look.

Powell T. Hess, 427 Furnace Street, brought a protest before council over the operation of a machine shop by "Ed Bock." He asked for relief from noise of the shop's operation and from traffic in the driveway of his private residence.

Hess said the shop is located in the rear of his property. (An Edward Bock repair shop is listed at 430 Valley Street.) Hess said the shop operates from 7 a. m. to p. m. and often later at night. The noise keeps him awake, Hess said, adding that he works at night and must sleep in the daytime.

Since there seemed to be some difference in opinion on when the shop was opened and what effect if any that it would have on city laws governing such operation, Mayor Eves told Hess that City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and Nuzum will check into the law and see what can be done accordingly.

Standard Of Living Changes With Time

The United States is expected to come close to doubling its population by 1966. By then the country will have a trillion-dollar economy. And the nation's standard of living will be more than 70 per cent higher than it is today.

This is the picture presented in a forecast made by the National Industrial Conference Board, which says American "initiative and prudence" must serve to fulfill the nation's economic destiny.

How much change 40 years can bring to a nation is evident in comparisons of conditions today with those of 1916. That span of four decades has seen tremendous gains in American living standards.

In 1916 workers in manufacturing plants earned an average of $12.3 in a 469-hour work week. Last year wage-earners in similar jobs put in an average of 40.7 hours a week and received $76.52 and numerous "extras" such as medical care, insurance, and pensions. Forty years ago only one American family in 10 owned an automobile; today most families boast one car and 10 per cent have at least two. In those earlier days only four per cent of American families had incomes in the $5,000-$7,000 bracket; today 25 per cent are in that category.

Meanwhile the average American is $3,900 in debt—a figure five times as high as the per capita debt in 1916. But at the beginning of this year 97 per cent of all American families had radios, 90 per cent owned electric refrigerators, 80 per cent had electric washers, and television was in 72 per cent of all homes. None of these conveniences was available in 1916, except a few primitive washers.

With such conveniences already in most homes, it is difficult to imagine how there can be only 70 per cent improvement in living standards in the next 40 years. But it is difficult only when one forgets the many less favored citizens—those in our slums and in the backward sections of the country. With them a 70 per cent improvement would still fall short of the comforts which many accept as commonplace today.

This is reason enough not to be complacent when there are many Americans who fall far short of enjoying the American standard of living.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Engineering Shortage

Messrs. Eli Ginsberg, Edward A. Fitzpatrick, Howard A. Meyerhoff and Eugene M. Kulischer, professors and specialists in various fields, have joined together to study the human resources of this country with the object of relating it to the national security. Their monograph on the subject is as interesting as it is important, but what fascinated me is that right at the start they more or less debunk the excitement over shortages by making this very simple and correct statement of fact:

" . . . There is a shortage of good baseball players, of top-flight business executives; beautiful women are in short supply; competent philosophers are likewise scarce. How could it be otherwise, then, than that there would be a shortage of good scientists and engineers? . . ."

That is just the point. Really competent, skilled, imaginative, thinking persons are rare no matter what the field of activity or interest. In the United States, even 30 years ago, a B.A. or a B.S. degree meant something that gained a person respect and opportunity. Today, these baccalaureate degrees are a dime a dozen, like high school diplomas. To move out of the proletariat into the learned professions, one needs a Ph.D. which does not really mean that the person knows more or has a better mind; it only means that he has narrowed his field of learning to a minute specialty and that in that narrow area he has gained an intense proficiency. It hardly seems worth while to do all that work and to delay marriage and having a family for a job that brings between $7,500 and $10,000 a year. Also the young man knows, if he is at all intelligent, that while he may understand the habits of a seaweed, he understands little else and therefore he starts life discontented and frustrated.

Many educators are deeply concerned about the narrowness of specialization and the little time left the student for an education and they confer about it and have some committees making special studies. But the difficulty is that the boy who majors in engineering or science is stuck with so heavy a load if he is ever to get into a top-notch graduate school that he has no time for an equal concentration on learning which is now catagorized as the humanities. Possibly the only solution is a three-semester year which would reduce the summer vacation.

Those who make a great to-do about the shortage of engineers point to the enormous number of engineers and scientists that Soviet Russia turns out. In this connection, the learned doctors whom I quote above, said:

". . . Considering what we do not know about our own scientific and engineering manpower resources, comparative analyses of the United States and the Soviet Union would seem to rest on shaky grounds. To advise caution about such comparisons does not commit one to lack of concern about the magnitude and quality of the effort the Soviet Union is making to strengthen its scientific manpower resources . . ."

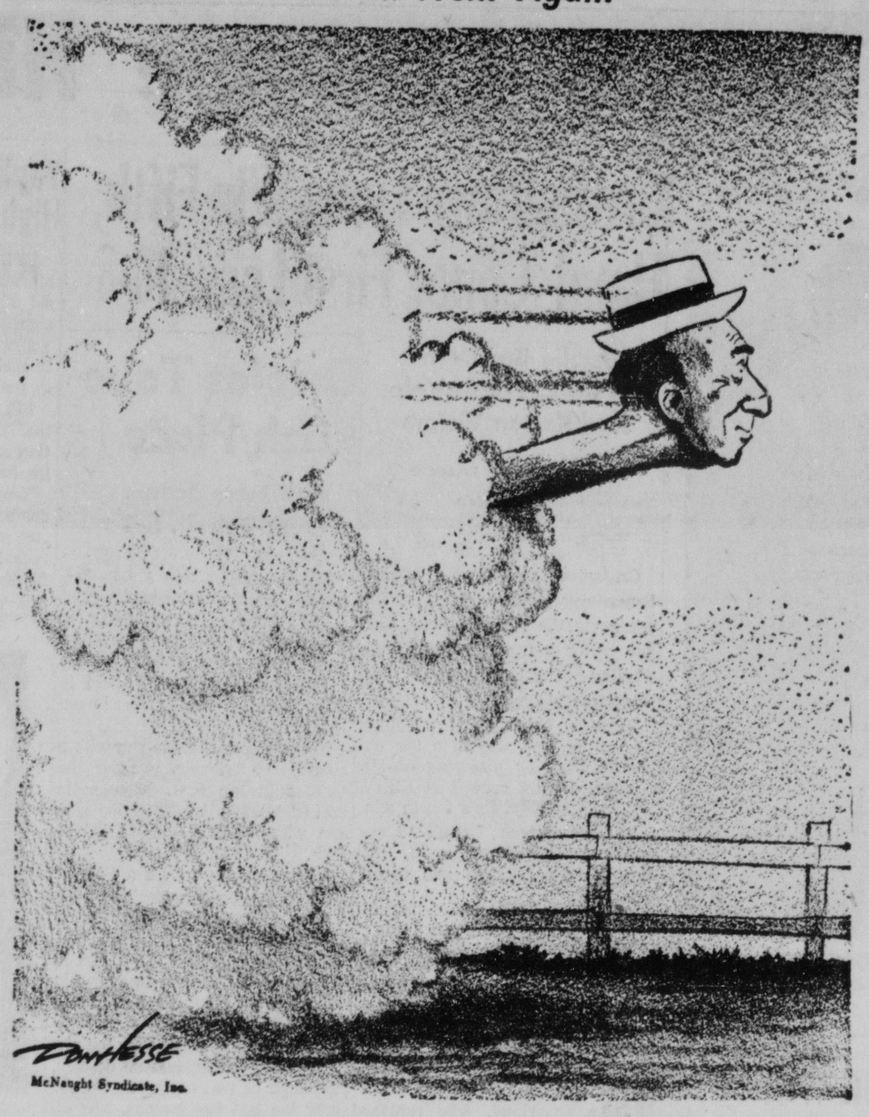

It needs to be remembered that mass education in Soviet Russia only started after the 1917 Revolution and that advantages which in this country go to other kinds of persons, go to scientists and engineers in Russia. National security neither for Soviet Russia nor for the United States can rest entirely upon engineers and scientists unless these are more than mechanics. They have to be thinkers—imaginative thinkers. On this subject our doctors write most learnedly and thoughtfully:

". . . What no country has yet been able to accomplish is to insure that highly competent people rise to the top in every sector of life. There were many good scientists in Germany in 1933, but that did not prevent Hitler from coming into power. To reduce all considerations of national security and welfare to concern over the number of scientists and engineers would be the rankest type of materialism. It would also be to withdraw behind an intellectual Maginot Line."

In the universities today it is fashionable to sacrifice wisdom for knowledge, thinking for know-how. It might, on the face of it, look very practical but as we are troubled in this generation over a conflict of ideas, we need most of all philosophers and of them, there is, indeed, a grave shortage. In a word, what is lacking most is clear, unafraid thinking.

Foreign Aid Program's Ills Due To Tactical Error

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's foreign aid program — mostly military and much needed — is in trouble in Congress and this is due largely to his own mistakes in tactics.

Thus, the damage done by the President's offhand remarks at Wednesday's press conference is incalculable. Even the clarifying statement issued Thursday afternoon does not erase the injury done when the President, in effect, encouraged "neutralism" and caused the many allies and trusted friends of the United States in Southeast Asia who have joined America in military alliances to wonder if they were being let down by Mr. Eisenhower.

The telephones buzzed with expressions of shock and surprise and at times righteous indignation as the news of what Mr. Eisenhower said on Wednesday reached diplomats who represent America's allies in Asia. On Capitol Hill there was consternation. At the State Department there was an obvious discomfort but a discreet silence.

Text Of Remarks

To understand what happened, it is necessary to present here the text of the President's remarks at the press conference as authorized for publication:

"Now, today there are certain nations that say they are neutral. This doesn't necessarily mean what it is so often interpreted to mean, neutral as between right and wrong or decency or indecency.

"They are using the term 'neutral' with respect to attachment to military alliances. And may I point out that I cannot see that that is always to the disadvantage of such a country as ours.

"If a nation is truly a neutral, if it is attacked by anybody—and we are not going to attack them—public opinion of the world is outraged. If it has announced its military association with another great power, things could happen to it, difficulties along its borders and people would say: 'Good enough for it. They asked for it.' So let us not translate this meaning of the word 'neutral' as between contending military forces, even though the conflict is latent, and neutral as between right and wrong."

But, asked some of the diplomats who represent countries that have have already joined America in military alliances: "Shall we tell our people now that they were wrong and that, if attacked, they 'asked for it'?"

The President heard from his colleagues inside the government who advised a public statement. Here it is in its essential part:

Many Historical Examples

"It is obvious that in some countries of the world there are certain ideological, geographical or other reasons making military alliances impractical. Such nations may declare themselves to be neutral, hoping thus to secure the support of world opinion against attack from any quarter. Neutrality does not mean either disarmament or immunity from attack. We have had historical examples of this kind of neutrality for many decades. . .

"The President does believe that there are special conditions which justify political neutrality but that no nation has the right to be indifferent to the fate of another, or, as he put it to be 'neutral as between right and wrong or decency or indecency.'

"The President does not believe that association for mutual security with the United States will involve any country in added danger but, on the contrary, will provide added security on the basis of mutuality and scrupulous respect for the independence of each. As the President pointed out, the United States is not going to attack anybody; but some great powers have shown an aggressive disposition, and military association with such a power could lead to difficulties."

Why did the President plunge into such a delicate field of discussion, anyway, without going over carefully in advance with the secretary of state the text of what he had to say? The answer is that, with the press conference conducted as they are today, when a president's impromptu remarks are quoted directly without regard for the sensibilities of governments abroad, tragic mistakes like this will happen. They have occurred before under previous administrations, too.

Unfortunately, Mr. Eisenhower isn't "briefed" in advance as he should be. Many of his friends in New York and elsewhere who have access to him have been dinning into his ear statements about the Asian situation which seek to justify neutralism and the expenditure of billions by the United States to nations that tomorrow may become Communist.

"Real State Department"

Mr. Eisenhower allows such friends to influence him, and the State Department is often in the dark as to what is going on.

This intervention of a separate kind of "state department" at the White House is a difficult thing to deal with, and it is amazing that a man with the President's fidelity to well-defined lines of responsibility in military life should tolerate an influence on foreign policy separate from the officials charged with responsibility in making it. For the same phraseology and argument used in his press-conference statements of Wednesday can be found in the writings and speeches of the clique which has access to Mr. Eisenhower and is known in many parts of the world as the "real state department."

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Before they rang up no sale on Mr. Kefauver in California he was out in front like egg on a bib.

They laughed at Estes in 1952 when he set his raccoon cap for the Democratic citation. They gave him the Olympian brush-off on the loading platform at the stockyards shivaree.

But he made just as much sense as bubble gum. The Tennessee volunteer has three strikes on him but he claims he's still batting.

We were in Chicago when Sam Rayburn told Estes, "Mister Kefauver, would you care to read the fine print on the back of my neck?"

That time the handwriting on the wall was a preview of this season's attractions. Mister Kefauver has lost another curb-to-curb poll.

Blood Test Now Used In Coronary Thrombosis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Good reports continue to appear in medical journals on the new blood test for transaminase. The test was known more than 10 years ago but was so complicated it was not practical. Recently the procedure was simplified and is rapidly becoming a routine test for coronary thrombosis and hepatitis.

Transaminase is widely distributed in the heart and other muscles and in the brain, liver, and kidneys. When these tissues are injured or die as a result of inflammation or lack of circulation, a large amount of the enzyme is liberated into the blood.

The enzyme is measured in units and the normal range varies from 5 to 40, with an average of 20. Following coronary thrombosis, the level in the blood increases 2 to 20 times, ranging from 100 to 6,000 units.

In 117 proved cases of coronary thrombosis, the test was positive in all but one patient; in 92 per cent the readings were abnormally high. In another study of 207 coronary victims the transaminase level was above normal in all but four. The test also may be helpful in predicting the outcome. One group of investigators believes that readings above 200 indicate an unfavorable outcome.

The reading usually reaches its peak within 24 hours after the onset of pain in coronary thrombosis, which means it must be done at the appropriate time to be useful. It will not show, for example, that a person had suffered a heart attack the year before.

The test is not positive in angina pectoris. In this condition, the blood supply to the heart muscle is reduced during exertion and excitement. But the old ticker is not damaged by this temporary decrease in circulation hence the enzyme is not released into the blood.

On the other hand, it is not always easy to tell the difference between an anginal attack and a minor coronary thrombosis. A slight rise in the T-level solves this problem because it indicates damage to the heart muscle.

In this respect, the test is a valuable means of determining whether actual muscle damage has occurred, calling for bed rest. When the blood level of the enzyme is not elevated, this type of treatment is not needed.

The use of the transaminase test in liver disease will be discussed in a future article.

TOMORROW: Early therapy in speech defects.

ARTERIES, HYSTERECTOMY

Mrs. Y. writes: Are women more susceptible to hardening of the arteries after hysterectomy?

REPLY

No, because the uterus has nothing to do with arteriosclerosis. On the other hand, the hardening process is more prevalent in women after the change of life, not only because of age but because the secretion of female hormones is reduced.

STONE AFTER HOSPITAL

Mrs. D. writes: Could a severe burn in a young child be responsible for the formation of a kidney stone? This youngster was immobilized in the hospital for nine months after the accident.

REPLY

Yes. During the immobilization, calcium leaves the bones and is eliminated via the kidneys. When this mineral crystallizes in the urine, kidney stones may form.

LEG INEQUALITY

Mrs. T. writes: What is the most successful treatment of unequal leg length in a child?

REPLY

Minor differences are overcome by adding to the thickness of the shoe on the shorter side. Greater inequalities require surgical treatment.

IT'S UP TO YOU

R. T. writes: I have been all over for my spastic bowel, with little relief. Will vitamins help?

REPLY

No. Care of the spastic, or irritable bowel starts with the individual. He must appreciate the fact that cramping occurs with fatigue as well as with apprehension, anxiety, frustration, and other emotional disturbances. When you solve this part of the problem, go back to your physician and I'm sure anything he prescribes will help. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on spastic bowel, which discusses the various aspects of the problem.

SINUS AND ASTHMA

E. D. writes: Can sinus trouble lead to asthma?

REPLY

The two frequently co-exist when allergy is responsible. If bacterial allergy exists, an infected sinus may act as the trigger mechanism for coughing and wheezing.

HARD ON FEET

B. L. writes: Does working on a cement floor all day long lead to arthritis of the feet?

REPLY

No, but it may cause foot strain if the shoes are unsuitable and posture is poor.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

GOP Leaders Consider Candidates In View Of Ike's Stomach Trouble

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The Republican high command has been doing some worried overhauling of strategy as a result of the President's sudden illness. What the outcome will be is difficult to say. But it's entirely possible that, regardless of the politicians, General Eisenhower will carry out his pledge to re-examine his health and withdraw from the race before the San Francisco convention.

Also important is a move by party strategists to drop Vice President Nixon. Despite the White House blessing given Nixon last month, some of the top command have not been happy about it, still feel that the vice presidential candidate will be almost as important as the candidate for president.

While it was carefully hushed up in the White House, the President suffered another attack, though not a long one, at a stag dinner in early March, immediately after he announced he would run again.

Attacks of acute indigestion have been troubling Mr. Eisenhower for some time, dating back to 1949 when he had to take three months off as a result of inflammation of the stomach lining. Another attack occurred immediately after he addressed the American Society of Newspaper Editors in April 1953. He was suffering prior to the dinner, but managed to get through his speech before he was helped off the platform to a side room where he collapsed in a chair.

Televised Health Report

Unfortunately the public has never been given a clear picture of the President's health. The carefully presented, televised report on his health did not give the whole picture, as Dr. Paul Dudley White virtually admitted afterward in an interview with William McNamara of the Providence (R.I.) Journal.

On the same night that Dr. White made his health report in Washington, another distinguished heart specialist, Dr. Samuel Levine of the Harvard Medical School, publicly differed with him by stating: "Nobody can accurately predict the life span of an individual" heart patient.

When confronted with Dr. Levine's statement in Boston, Dr. White said he agreed that no one could predict the life span of a heart patient. He then pointed out something which the news headlines did not carry and most readers missed—namely, that he had qualified his own "five-to-ten-year" prediction for Eisenhower by inserting such phrases as "uncertainties of the future," "changes," and "should."

This, Dr. White explained to New England newsmen, modified his prediction and put him in complete agreement with Dr. Levine that you could not predict the life span of a heart patient.

"We are both optimists," he told McNamara of the Providence Journal, "and we are quite in agreement." Questioned further, he added "complete agreement."

In other words, Dr. White told the world on television, subject to some little-noticed phrases, that the President "should be able to carry on an active life for another five to ten years." But he told New England newsmen that no one could predict the life span of a heart patient.

Hectic Presidential Day

Another point emphasized by Dr. Levine was that any excitement which causes a speed-up in the heartbeat "could be very damaging."

It happens that the day the President suffered his latest attack of indigestion was especially nerve-racking. In it he was forced literally to eat his own words about neutralism made at a press conference the day before.

Ike's off-the-cuff statement sympathizing with other nations which failed to join in alliances with big military powers (such as the United States) brought amazed queries and frenzied protests from such stanch allies as Pakistan and the Philippines, plus word that it might completely end the effectiveness of the Adenauer regime in Germany.

As a result, the White House and State Department spent several hectic hours drafting a statement which as gracefully as possible said the President of the United States hadn't meant what he actually said. It was a humiliating statement to come from the White House, but the alternative was to lose some of our best allies.

On top of this came word that the House of Representatives had reversed Ike's personal plea for foreign-aid funds. On the whole, it was a day to test the health of even the most vigorous president.

Hope's Merry-Go-Round

Counteracting the hectic presidential day were some of the best wisecracks ever to come from that king of wisecracks, Bob Hope, at the White House photographers' dinner. If laughter is conducive to good health, Ike should have been in tiptop form after listening. . . . Here is part of Hope's assortment:

"I'm delighted to do this job for free. I was supposed to be paid a little something, but it was put in the Foreign Appropriations Bill." . . . "Adlai and Estes just finished an old-fashioned mudslinging campaign in California. By the time they left they'd stuccoed 500 homes.". . . "Lyndon Johnson of Texas has got into the race for president. I think it's a grand idea. Texas hasn't had a president since it admitted the U.S.A. I can see the president from Texas moving White House furniture into the Alamo."

The President's Illness

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

It is good to know that the President's operation was a brilliant success, that his recovery should be complete within six weeks, and that his doctors agree that his illness need not bar him from a second term.

Even so, there is no ducking the fact that the President and the country are again squarely faced with a familiar question whether a man in his condition should attempt to carry the crushing burden of the presidency for four more years. The question can only be intelligently decided by a frank and careful weighing of the medical factors, and of other, more tangible, but equally important factors as well.

The world's greatest medical authority on the President's disease, ileitis, is Dr. Burrill Crohn, who first diagnosed the disease as benign and operable in 1932—before that, the patient usually died. Since 1932 Dr. Crohn has treated some 700 cases of the disease.

Malignancy Unlikely

Dr. Crohn agrees, on the basis of this experience, that the President should have recovered fully in six weeks. Moreover, Dr. Crohn points out that there is virtually no chance of malignancy developing, since the small intestine is almost immune to malignancy. It is thus quite reasonable to hope that the President has many years of active and happy life ahead of him.

But there is a minus side to the medical picture as well. As Dr. Crohn points out, the President's operation, involving the elimination of several inches of intestine, is most distinctly a major operation. Although the heart is not directly involved, the President's heart attack and his age are unquestionably complicating factors. Finally, based on Dr. Crohn's experience, there is a 35 per cent chance of recurrence of ileitis.

There is, of course, a somewhat similar chance of recurrence of coronary thrombosis. In sum, like his heart attack, the President's operation has been no minor indisposition. Even after his recovery, Dr. Crohn and other doctors consulted agreed, a physically vigorous campaign by the President must be ruled out.

So much for the medical factors. The President's personal prestige is perhaps the most important of the intangible factors to be weighed. In a speech some days ago, the President said: "Certainly the prestige of the United States since the last world war has never been as high as it is this day." The statement is open to dispute. But hardly anyone will dispute that the prestige of Dwight D. Eisenhower has never been higher, all over the world.

National Unity Restored

Almost single-handed, the President has removed the false face of the United States as an unstable and warlike power. This has been, perhaps, his single greatest service to his country. His second greatest service has been to restore a large measure of the national unity which was so sadly lacking only a few years ago.

If the President decides to withdraw, the irreplaceable national asset of his world prestige will be lost. A period of extreme political confusion will also be ushered in, in which the violent partisanship which the President has done so much to still will again be loudly heard.

Yet, as in the case of the medical picture, there is another side of the picture which must also be considered. Ever since his heart attack, there has been a tendency among his subordinates to shield Mr. Eisenhower from the unpleasant responsibilities of his office. A case in point was the urgent message on the Middle Eastern crisis from British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, which was apparently concealed from the President.

Should Be Debated

Military leaders, appalled by the accelerating shift in the world power balance to the Communist bloc, complain that the President is so protected that they have not been able to make known to him the real case for a sharply stepped up defense effort. Again, there is heavy pressure on the National Security Council to avoid troubling the President with split papers. The result has been largely to transform the NSC into a mechanism for reading the lowest common denominator of indecision.

Since the President's latest trouble, the tendency to over-protect him is sure to grow. Perhaps this is not too great a price to pay for his prestige abroad and his leadership at home. But it is silly to pretend that there is no price to pay; or to disregard the risks involved in a second term for a man of 65 who has had a coronary thrombosis and a major abdominal operation within less than eight months.

As before, the final decision will rest with the President himself. But it is not only legitimate, but right and needful, that the matter be fully and frankly debated by the country.

Standard Of Living Changes With Time

The United States is expected to come close to doubling its population by 1966. By then the country will have a trillion-dollar economy. And the nation's standard of living will be more than 70 per cent higher than it is today.

This is the picture presented in a forecast made by the National Industrial Conference Board, which says American "initiative and prudence" must serve to fulfill the nation's economic destiny.

How much change 40 years can bring to a nation is evident in comparisons of conditions today with those of 1916. That span of four decades has seen tremendous gains in American living standards.

In 1916 workers in manufacturing plants earned an average of $12.3 in a 469-hour work week. Last year wage-earners in similar jobs put in an average of 40.7 hours a week and received $76.52 and numerous "extras" such as medical care, insurance, and pensions. Forty years ago only one American family in 10 owned an automobile; today most families boast one car and 10 per cent have at least two. In those earlier days only four per cent of American families had incomes in the $5,000-$7,000 bracket; today 25 per cent are in that category.

Meanwhile the average American is $3,900 in debt—a figure five times as high as the per capita debt in 1916. But at the beginning of this year 97 per cent of all American families had radios, 90 per cent owned electric refrigerators, 80 per cent had electric washers, and television was in 72 per cent of all homes. None of these conveniences was available in 1916, except a few primitive washers.

With such conveniences already in most homes, it is difficult to imagine how there can be only 70 per cent improvement in living standards in the next 40 years. But it is difficult only when one forgets the many less favored citizens—those in our slums and in the backward sections of the country. With them a 70 per cent improvement would still fall short of the comforts which many accept as commonplace today.

This is reason enough not to be complacent when there are many Americans who fall far short of enjoying the American standard of living.

These Days

The Engineering Shortage

Messrs. Eli Ginsberg, Edward A. Fitzpatrick, Howard A. Meyerhoff and Eugene M. Kulischer, professors and specialists in various fields, have joined together to study the human resources of this country with the object of relating it to the national security. Their monograph on the subject is as interesting as it is important, but what fascinated me is that right at the start they more or less debunk the excitement over shortages by making this very simple and correct statement of fact:

". . . There is a shortage of good baseball players, of top-flight business executives; beautiful women are in short supply; competent philosophers are likewise scarce. How could it be otherwise, then, than that there would be a shortage of good scientists and engineers? . . ."

That is just the point. Really competent, skilled, imaginative, thinking persons are rare no matter what the field of activity or interest. In the United States, even 30 years ago, a B.A. or a B.S. degree meant something that gained a person respect and opportunity. Today, these baccalaureate degrees are a dime a dozen, like high school diplomas. To move out of the proletariat into the learned professions, one needs a Ph.D. which does not really mean that the person knows more or has a better mind; it only means that he has narrowed his field of learning to a minute specialty and that in that narrow area he has gained an intense proficiency. It hardly seems worth while to do all that work and to delay marriage and having a family for a job that brings between $7,500 and $10,000 a year. Also the young man knows, if he is at all intelligent, that while he may understand the habits of a seaweed, he understands little else and therefore he starts life discontented and frustrated.

Many educators are deeply concerned about the narrowness of specialization and the little time left the student for an education and they confer about it and have some committees making special studies. But the difficulty is that the boy who majors in engineering or science is stuck with so heavy a load if he is ever to get into a top-notch graduate school that he has no time for an equal concentration on learning which is now catagorized as the humanities. Possibly the only solution is a three-semester year which would reduce the summer vacation.

Those who make a great to-do about the shortage of engineers point to the enormous number of engineers and scientists that Soviet Russia turns out. In this connection, the learned doctors whom I quote above, said:

". . . Considering what we do not know about our own scientific and engineering manpower resources, comparative analyses of the United States and the Soviet Union would seem to rest on shaky grounds. To advise caution about such comparisons does not commit one to lack of concern about the magnitude and quality of the effort the Soviet Union is making to strengthen its scientific manpower resources . . ."

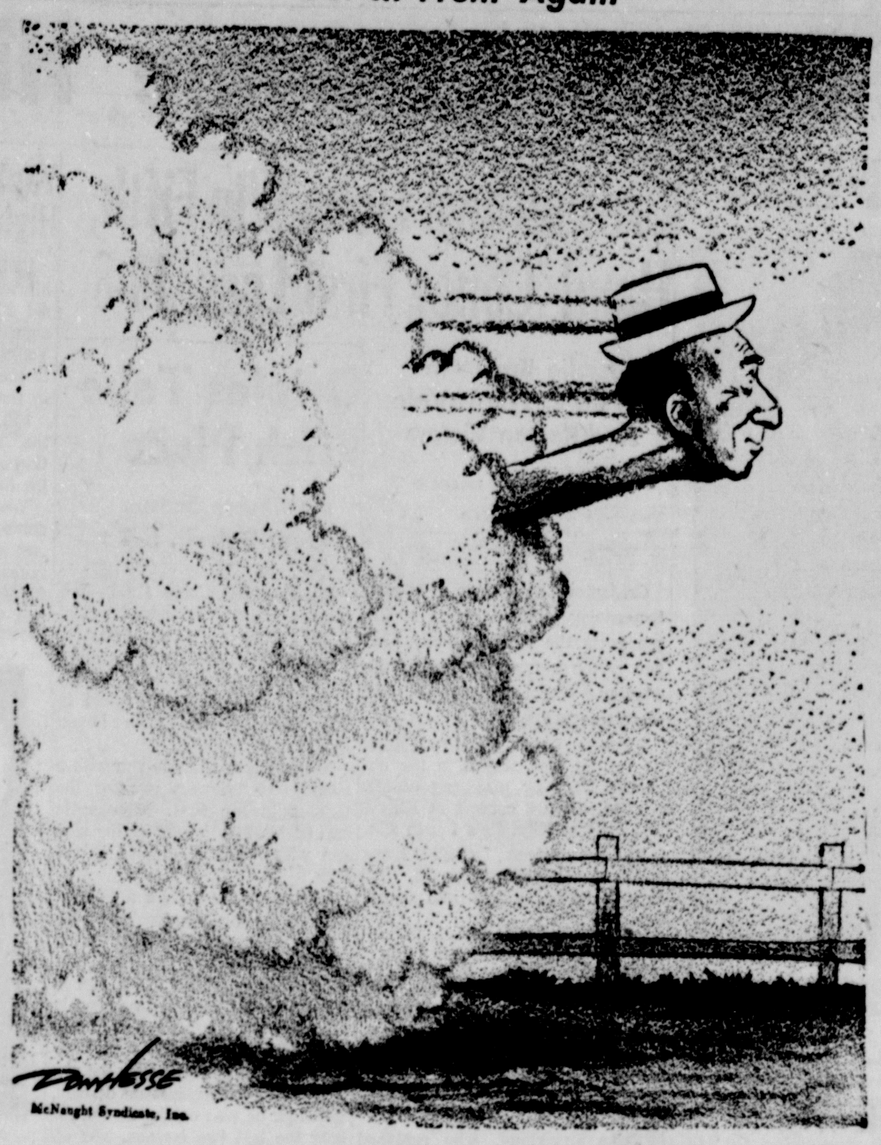

It needs to be remembered that mass education in Soviet Russia only started after the 1917 Revolution and that advantages which in this country go to other kinds of persons, go to scientists and engineers in Russia. National security neither for Soviet Russia nor for the United States can rest entirely upon engineers and scientists unless these are more than mechanics. They have to be thinkers—imaginative thinkers. On this subject our doctors write most learnedly and thoughtfully:

". . . What no country has yet been able to accomplish is to insure that highly competent people rise to the top in every sector of life. There were many good scientists in Germany in 1933, but that did not prevent Hitler from coming into power. To reduce all considerations of national security and welfare to concern over the number of scientists and engineers would be the rankest type of materialism. It would also be to withdraw behind an intellectual Maginot Line."

In the universities today it is fashionable to sacrifice wisdom for knowledge, thinking for know-how. It might, on the face of it, look very practical but as we are troubled in this generation over a conflict of ideas, we need most of all philosophers and of them, there is, indeed, a grave shortage. In a word, what is lacking most is clear, unafraid thinking.

Foreign Aid Program's Ills Due To Tactical Error

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's foreign aid program — mostly military and much needed — is in trouble in Congress and this is due largely to his own mistakes in tactics.

Thus, the damage done by the President's offhand remarks at Wednesday's press conference is incalculable. Even the clarifying statement issued Thursday afternoon does not erase the injury done when the President, in effect, encouraged "neutralism" and caused the many allies and trusted friends of the United States in Southeast Asia who have joined America in military alliances to wonder if they were being let down by Mr. Eisenhower.

The telephones buzzed with expressions of shock and surprise and at times righteous indignation as the news of what Mr. Eisenhower said on Wednesday reached diplomats who represent America's allies in Asia. On Capitol Hill there was consternation. At the State Department there was an obvious discomfort but a discreet silence.

Text Of Remarks

To understand what happened, it is necessary to present here the text of the President's remarks at the press conference as authorized for publication:

"Now, today there are certain nations that say they are neutral. This doesn't necessarily mean what it is so often interpreted to mean, neutral as between right and wrong or decency or indecency.

"They are using the term 'neutral' with respect to attachment to military alliances. And may I point out that I cannot see that that is always to the disadvantage of such a country as ours.

"If a nation is truly a neutral, if it is attacked by anybody—and we are not going to attack them—public opinion of the world is outraged. If it has announced its military association with another great power, things could happen to it, difficulties along its borders and people would say: 'Good enough for it. They asked for it.' So let us not translate this meaning of the word 'neutral' as between contending military forces, even though the conflict is latent, and neutral as between right and wrong."

But, asked some of the diplomats who represent countries that have have already joined America in military alliances: "Shall we tell our people now that they were wrong and that, if attacked, they 'asked for it'?"

The President heard from his colleagues inside the government who advised a public statement. Here it is in its essential part:

Many Historical Examples

"It is obvious that in some countries of the world there are certain ideological, geographical or other reasons making military alliances impractical. Such nations may declare themselves to be neutral, hoping thus to secure the support of world opinion against attack from any quarter. Neutrality does not mean either disarmament or immunity from attack. We have had historical examples of this kind of neutrality for many decades. . .

"The President does believe that there are special conditions which justify political neutrality but that no nation has the right to be indifferent to the fate of another, or, as he put it to be 'neutral as between right and wrong or decency or indecency.'

"The President does not believe that association for mutual security with the United States will involve any country in added danger but, on the contrary, will provide added security on the basis of mutuality and scrupulous respect for the independence of each. As the President pointed out, the United States is not going to attack anybody; but some great powers have shown an aggressive disposition, and military association with such a power could lead to difficulties."

Why did the President plunge into such a delicate field of discussion, anyway, without going over carefully in advance with the secretary of state the text of what he had to say? The answer is that, with the press conference conducted as they are today, when a president's impromptu remarks are quoted directly without regard for the sensibilities of governments abroad, tragic mistakes like this will happen. They have occurred before under previous administrations, too.

Unfortunately, Mr. Eisenhower isn't "briefed" in advance as he should be. Many of his friends in New York and elsewhere who have access to him have been dinning into his ear statements about the Asian situation which seek to justify neutralism and the expenditure of billions by the United States to nations that tomorrow may become Communist.

"Real State Department"

Mr. Eisenhower allows such friends to influence him, and the State Department is often in the dark as to what is going on.

This intervention of a separate kind of "state department" at the White House is a difficult thing to deal with, and it is amazing that a man with the President's fidelity to well-defined lines of responsibility in military life should tolerate an influence on foreign policy separate from the officials charged with responsibility in making it. For the same phraseology and argument used in his press-conference statements of Wednesday can be found in the writings and speeches of the clique which has access to Mr. Eisenhower and is known in many parts of the world as the "real state department."

Before they rang up no sale on Mr. Kefauver in California he was out in front like egg on a bib.

They laughed at Estes in 1952 when he set his raccoon cap for the Democratic citation. They gave him the Olympian brush-off on the loading platform at the stockyards shivaree.

But he made just as much sense as bubble gum. The Tennessee volunteer has three strikes on him but he claims he's still batting.

We were in Chicago when Sam Rayburn told Estes, "Mister Kefauver, would you care to read the fine print on the back of my neck?"

That time the handwriting on the wall was a preview of this season's attractions. Mister Kefauver has lost another curb-to-curb poll.

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Good reports continue to appear in medical journals on the new blood test for transaminase. The test was known more than 10 years ago but was so complicated it was not practical. Recently the procedure was simplified and is rapidly becoming a routine test for coronary thrombosis and hepatitis.

Transaminase is widely distributed in the heart and other muscles and in the brain, liver, and kidneys. When these tissues are injured or die as a result of inflammation or lack of circulation, a large amount of the enzyme is liberated into the blood.

The enzyme is measured in units and the normal range varies from 5 to 40, with an average of 20. Following coronary thrombosis, the level in the blood increases 2 to 20 times, ranging from 100 to 6,000 units.

In 117 proved cases of coronary thrombosis, the test was positive in all but one patient; in 92 per cent the readings were abnormally high. In another study of 207 coronary victims the transaminase level was above normal in all but four. The test also may be helpful in predicting the outcome. One group of investigators believes that readings above 200 indicate an unfavorable outcome.

The reading usually reaches its peak within 24 hours after the onset of pain in coronary thrombosis, which means it must be done at the appropriate time to be useful. It will not show, for example, that a person had suffered a heart attack the year before.

The test is not positive in angina pectoris. In this condition, the blood supply to the heart muscle is reduced during exertion and excitement. But the old ticker is not damaged by this temporary decrease in circulation hence the enzyme is not released into the blood.

On the other hand, it is not always easy to tell the difference between an anginal attack and a minor coronary thrombosis. A slight rise in the T-level solves this problem because it indicates damage to the heart muscle.

In this respect, the test is a valuable means of determining whether actual muscle damage has occurred, calling for bed rest. When the blood level of the enzyme is not elevated, this type of treatment is not needed.

The use of the transaminase test in liver disease will be discussed in a future article.

ARTERIES, HYSTERECTOMY

Mrs. Y. writes: Are women more susceptible to hardening of the arteries after hysterectomy?

REPLY

No, because the uterus has nothing to do with arteriosclerosis. On the other hand, the hardening process is more prevalent in women after the change of life, not only because of age but because the secretion of female hormones is reduced.

STONE AFTER HOSPITAL

Mrs. D. writes: Could a severe burn in a young child be responsible for the formation of a kidney stone? This youngster was immobilized in the hospital for nine months after the accident.

REPLY

Yes. During the immobilization, calcium leaves the bones and is eliminated via the kidneys. When this mineral crystallizes in the urine, kidney stones may form.

If laughter is conducive to good health, Ike should have been in tiptop form after listening. . . . Here is part of Hope's assortment:

"I'm delighted to do this job for free. I was supposed to be paid a little something, but it was put in the Foreign Appropriations Bill." . . . "Adlai and Estes just finished an old-fashioned mudslinging campaign in California. By the time they left they'd stuccoed 500 homes.". . . "Lyndon Johnson of Texas has got into the race for president. I think it's a grand idea. Texas hasn't had a president since it admitted the U.S.A. I can see the president from Texas moving White House furniture into the Alamo."

The President's Illness

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

It is good to know that the President's operation was a brilliant success, that his recovery should be complete within six weeks, and that his doctors agree that his illness need not bar him from a second term.

Even so, there is no ducking the fact that the President and the country are again squarely faced with a familiar question whether a man in his condition should attempt to carry the crushing burden of the presidency for four more years. The question can only be intelligently decided by a frank and careful weighing of the medical factors, and of other, more tangible, but equally important factors as well.

The world's greatest medical authority on the President's disease, ileitis, is Dr. Burrill Crohn, who first diagnosed the disease as benign and operable in 1932—before that, the patient usually died. Since 1932 Dr. Crohn has treated some 700 cases of the disease.

Malignancy Unlikely

Dr. Crohn agrees, on the basis of this experience, that the President should have recovered fully in six weeks. Moreover, Dr. Crohn points out that there is virtually no chance of malignancy developing, since the small intestine is almost immune to malignancy. It is thus quite reasonable to hope that the President has many years of active and happy life ahead of him.

But there is a minus side to the medical picture as well. As Dr. Crohn points out, the President's operation, involving the elimination of several inches of intestine, is most distinctly a major operation. Although the heart is not directly involved, the President's heart attack and his age are unquestionably complicating factors. Finally, based on Dr. Crohn's experience, there is a 35 per cent chance of recurrence of ileitis.

There is, of course, a somewhat similar chance of recurrence of coronary thrombosis. In sum, like his heart attack, the President's operation has been no minor indisposition. Even after his recovery, Dr. Crohn and other doctors consulted agreed, a physically vigorous campaign by the President must be ruled out.

So much for the medical factors. The President's personal prestige is perhaps the most important of the intangible factors to be weighed. In a speech some days ago, the President said: "Certainly the prestige of the United States since the last world war has never been as high as it is this day." The statement is open to dispute. But hardly anyone will dispute that the prestige of Dwight D. Eisenhower has never been higher, all over the world.

National Unity Restored

Almost single-handed, the President has removed the false face of the United States as an unstable and warlike power. This has been, perhaps, his single greatest service to his country. His second greatest service has been to restore a large measure of the national unity which was so sadly lacking only a few years ago.

If the President decides to withdraw, the irreplaceable national asset of his world prestige will be lost. A period of extreme political confusion will also be ushered in, in which the violent partisanship which the President has done so much to still will again be loudly heard.

Yet, as in the case of the medical picture, there is another side of the picture which must also be considered. Ever since his heart attack, there has been a tendency among his subordinates to shield Mr. Eisenhower from the unpleasant responsibilities of his office. A case in point was the urgent message on the Middle Eastern crisis from British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, which was apparently concealed from the President.

Should Be Debated

Military leaders, appalled by the accelerating shift in the world power balance to the Communist bloc, complain that the President is so protected that they have not been able to make known to him the real case for a sharply stepped up defense effort. Again, there is heavy pressure on the National Security Council to avoid troubling the President with split papers. The result has been largely to transform the NSC into a mechanism for reading the lowest common denominator of indecision.

Since the President's latest trouble, the tendency to over-protect him is sure to grow. Perhaps this is not too great a price to pay for his prestige abroad and his leadership at home. But it is silly to pretend that there is no price to pay; or to disregard the risks involved in a second term for a man of 65 who has had a coronary thrombosis and a major abdominal operation within less than eight months.

As before, the final decision will rest with the President himself. But it is not only legitimate, but right and needful, that the matter be fully and frankly debated by the country.

Pittsburgh's Clemente Boasts 11-Game Hitting Streak

Bucs' Belter Pounding Ball At .360 Clip

Holds Third Place In N.L.; Repulski, Mantle Hold Lead

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP) — Dale Long and Bob Friend have been getting most of the rave notices for Pittsburgh's phenomenal rise this season, but, of late, Roberto Clemente also has been making his presence felt in the Pirate lineup.

The 21-year-old sophomore outfielder is on a batting rampage and has lifted his average to .360, third best in the National League. Clemente, boasting an 11-game hitting streak, gained 44 points during the week with 14 hits in 27 at bats—a better than .500 clip.

Rip Repulski of the St. Louis Cards continues to top the National League batsmen with a .378 mark, while the Yankees' Mickey Mantle still is the American League leader with .394. Averages include games through Sunday.

Clemente has been one of the pleasant surprises for the Pirates. In his rookie season last year the young speedster hit only .255 after being drafted from the Brooklyn Dodgers' organization.

Long Is Runner-up

Repulski, still bothered by a wrist injury, saw limited service last week. He went 2-for-11 and lost 22 points. Long maintained the runnerup spot at .370 despite a 10-point dip on 7-for-23.

The Cards' Ken Boyer trails Clemente in fourth place with .345, followed by Cincinnati's Ed Bailey, in fifth at .342. Boyer, in falling from third, dropped 12 points. Bailey, tied for fifth a week ago, gained nine points.

In the American League batting race, Mantle slumped 17 points with seven hits in 25 trips. Detroit's Charley Maxwell remains second with .373. He collected six hits in 17 at bats, but lost three points. Teammate Harvey Kuenn advanced from fourth to third with .364. He delivered 6-for-13 and increased his average eight points before being forced out of action with a leg injury.

Mickey Vernon of the Boston Red Sox dropped a peg from third to fourth at .358 with the Yanks' Yogi Berra rounding out the top five at .350.

Long is the National League's home run pace-setter with 17 and Boyer heads the RBI department with 48. Mantle is both the AL homer derby leader with 21 and runs batted in leader with 52.

Lawrence Tops 7-0

The Redlegs' Brooks Lawrence has the best pitching record among senior league hurlers, 7-0, 1.000, and Friend is strikeout king with 71. Tom Brewer of Boston has posted the leading won-lost mark in the American, 8-1, .889, and Cleveland's Herb Score has fanned the most batsmen, 86.

Brewer Notches Ninth Triumph Over Cleveland

Boston Red Sox Win Night Contest, 5-1

BOSTON, June 11 (AP) — Tom Brewer handcuffed Cleveland on three hits for his ninth victory of the season tonight as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Indians 5-1 for a split in a day-night doubleheader.

The Indians, limited to four hits, won the afternoon game 4-1 on home runs by Al Smith, Chico Carrasquel and Al Rosen.

The 23-year-old Brewer gave up a run on a walk and singles by Rocky Colavito and Jim Busby in the second but then settled down to become the first American League hurler to win nine games. He has lost only one.

Vic Wertz' double off Ted Williams' glove in left center in the fourth was the only other Cleveland hit off the Boston ace, who has allowed just 23 earned runs in 86 2-3 innings.

Brewer, Ted Williams and Jackie Jensen led a 10-hit Boston assault on loser Mike Garcia and reliever Bob Feller.

Brewer had two singles and drove in a run, while Williams had a pair of doubles and Jensen crashed his sixth homer of the season.

Old Germans Beat Ritter's; Hysanco Winner By Forfeit

The Old Germans outlasted Ritter's Social Club to finish on the long end of a 12-11 score yesterday in a City Softball League game at Stitcher Field.

Johnson's Grocery was unable to field a team at Fort Hill and thus forfeited to Hygienic Sanitation which increased its lead to 3½ games over the Old G's who moved into the runner-up spot (4-4) while the Grocers dropped into the third spot with 4-5.

The Old Germans scored the winning run in the top of the 7th inning in yesterday's game. Each team had one "big" inning. The Old G's scored seven runs in the first frame and Ritter's chalked up eight tallies in the second.

Five players had two hits each. They were Jim Evans, Jack Long and Galen McGregor of the Old Germans and Donnie Irons and Billy Clark of Ritter's. Score:

Ortega Given Split Verdict Over Poirier

St. Nick Slugfest Attracts Only 916

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Mexico's Gaspar Ortega and Gene Poirier of Niagara Falls, N. Y., traded punches without letup for 10 rounds tonight with Ortega gaining the split decision in the television scrap at St. Nicholas Arena. Each weighed 151 pounds.

Referee Ray Miller (5-3-2) and Judge Joe Eppy (6-4) voted for Ortega. Judge Nick Gamboli called it a draw, awarding each five rounds and five points. The AP card had Poirier ahead, 5-4-1.

There were only six clinches in the brisk, bloody and closely waged contest. Three of the clinches occurred in the final round when they were so arm weary they could hardly swing with any force.

Both bled from the nose and blood was sprayed all over the ring as they traded punches continuously.

Poirier, a 6-5 favorite, scored the hardest punch of the bout when he rocked his taller rival with a solid right smash to the nose.

A crowd of 916 paid $2,041 and cheered the slugfest throughout. It was strictly an all-offense, no defense affair.

Ortega racked up his 33rd victory. He has lost six. It was the fifth loss for Poirier, who has won 15.

Nats Conquer Kansas City

Take First Game Of Twin Bill, 4-3

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP) — Carlos Paula smashed a three-run pinch homer off Bobby Shantz in the eighth inning to lift Washington to a 4-3 victory over Kansas City tonight in the first game of a double-header. Johnny Groth accounted for all the A's runs with two homers.

Lou Kretlow held a 3-1 lead and was pitching a four-hitter when he walked Whitey Herzog to start the bottom of the eighth and was removed. Pete Runnels welcomed Shantz with a single and after Roy Sievers flied out, Paula batted for Clint Courtney and slammed his third homer into the centerfield seats.

Hogan Will Try To Win National Open Fifth Time

Ben Calls Course "Easy"; 56th Meet To Start Thursday

ROCHESTER, N.Y., June 11 (AP) —Stoical Ben Hogan confounded listeners today by calling Oak Hill "one of the easiest Open courses I've ever played" and in the next breath adding:

"I'm playing pretty rotten. Unless I improve, my chances don't look very good."

Early arrivals for the 56th annual National Open Golf Championship, beginning Thursday, immediately accused the Texas master of launching a campaign of "confusion warfare."

"That's Ben," dourly said one of his longtime rivals. "He's talking about how easy the course is so they'll toughen it. He knows he has a better chance on a tougher course."

Hogan, looking a mite thinner and more tired than when he was beaten by Jack Fleck at San Francisco last year in his bid for an unprecedented fifth Open championship, predicted the tournament would be won by one of the lowest scores ever.

Figures Low Score

"Do you think your record score of 276 set at Riviera in 1948 will be broken," Hogan was asked.

"Well, I don't know," Ben replied. "I won't say that. I believe we'll have a very low score."

Hogan said he believed the fairways were 10 to 15 yards wider than in recent Open tournaments, offering a bigger hitting area, and that the rough was far less tenacious.

The four-time champion, here since last Thursday probing every area of the 6,902-yard, par 70 layout, has had two rounds of 73 and one of 74.

"But he hasn't been trying for scores," Harvie Ward Jr., of San Francisco, national amateur champion and a playing partner said. "He's been experimenting on position."

Other contenders joined Hogan in saying the beautiful, tree-lined Oak Hill course is far from the nightmares dreamed up by the U.S. Golf Assn., in tournaments past. They called it "a fair course, but not an easy one."

"This is the fairest Open course I've played on since 1939 at Spring Mill," remarked Sam Snead, the frequent-runnerup who never has won this big one. "It give a fellow plenty of room to hit and when you miss a shot a little you're not penalized too hard."

Fleck, the defending champion, said, "It's a wonderful course—Fair but no setup for anybody. It's plenty long and it'll be tough when the greens harden."

Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., former PGA champion who was the nation's low qualifier with 134, said, "This course is built for Snead. He can hit all out and, if he's putting, he'll be hard to beat.

Course Is Praised

"It's one of the finest courses I've ever played on, but it's not an easy one. You have to carry the greens, you can't pitch and run to them and there are three holes specially where par will be hard to make—the third, 11th and 17th.

The third is a 208-yard par three, the 11th a 192pyard par three fronted by "Predicament Creek" and the 17th a 463-yard, par four test which will require two good wood blows on occasion.

No one has humiliated the course in practice. Ken Venturi, the San Francisco amateur who was the sensation of this year's Masters, had a 67 in practice with Hogan. Harvie Ward, who played here in the 1949 National Amateur, has had a pair of 71s.

Cresaptown's Lions handed Lonaconing its first defeat of the season in the Bi-State Pony League yesterday and extended its winning string to five games. The score was 10-8.

Manager Curtis Hickle's Ellerslie tossers also stayed in the unbeaten class by disposing of Mt. Savage in a 9-2 contest at Ellerslie. It was Ellerslie's fourth win.

In other contests, LaVale's Lions trimmed Corriganville, 9-3, and Barton took Midland into camp, 9-4.

Break Tie in Sixth

Manager Dale Broadwater's Cresaptown nine scored two runs in the 6th to break an 8-8 deadlock and defeat Lonaconing in a game featured by 26 hits. Doubles by Gerald Horton and Nick Wenrich and Dave Kammauf's single sent over the deciding tallies.

John Strickland, who replaced Dennis Clem on the rubber in the third inning, yielded only three hits, struck out six and got credit for the win. Staup collected three of 'Coney's 10 blows. Strickland's record is now 3-0.

Rich Hurls 3-Hitter

Richard Lybarger pitched a three-hitter and fanned eight in Ellerslie's triumph over Mt. Savage.

Shortstop Jack Lowery blasted a two-run homer in the fourth inning, Lybarger smacked three singles and Royce Waltman larruped a triple and two singles as Ellerslie, pounded three Mt. Savage moundsmen for 13 safeties. Emerick, Lennox and Trimble accounted for Mt. Savage's three bingles. Mt. Savage had scored 40 runs in its three previous games and all were victories.

Corriganville went down to defeat for the fifth straight time as LaVale's Lions pounded out 13 hits while "Butch" Perdew was fashioning a three-hitter and throwing the third strike past six. Bittner and Femi with a triple and single, Bennett and Perdew with a double and single and Stone with two one-base knocks were LaVale's leading clubbers. A triple by Tommy Keech was among the Corgs' three sefeties.

Barton Scores 1st Win

Midland also suffered its fifth successive setback in bowing to Barton which crashed the win column for the first time. Pollack held Midland to eight hits and whiffed seven. Barton jumped on three Midland hurlers for 12 blows, including two homers. Metz clouted a homer, double and single, George Lauder hit a round-tripper and double and Norris and Roger Johnson garnered four of the losers' eight hits. One of Johnson's was a two-bagger. Redskins To Train At Motel Field

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Washington Redskins picked new pregame sleeping quarters today —a suburban motel with football field attached.

Dick McCann, general manager of the National Football League club, said the Redskins also would spend two weeks in September training at the (Washingtonian) Motel site at Rockville in nearby Maryland.

Sam Eig, the motel operator, equipped the place for such purposes. Besides the field to work out on, the Redskins will have facilities to watch game movies on the Saturday nights preceding their home contests.

Orioles Take Fifth Place

Baltimore Scores Over Detroit, 5-4

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—Bob Nieman and Gus Triandos knocked in all the runs between them for Baltimore tonight as the Orioles beat Detroit 5-4 and displaced the Tigers by a percentage point in fifth place in the American League.

Nieman drove in one run with a single and Triandos two for the Orioles in the first. Niemanalso socked his fifth homer of the season with a mate on base in the fifth.

That gave the Orioles a 5-1 lead which they barely protected as the Tigers slugged 14 safeties to 12 for Baltimore.

The Tigers picked up a run in the sixth and pushed two over in the seventh as Manager Bucky Harris juggled his attack.

Hal Brown got credit for the victory, his third against no defeats, although he was on the mound for only the last two innings. The official scorer judged him more effective since he gave up only two hits while George Zuverink was smacked for seven and three runs in three innings. Don Ferrarese started and was taken out in the fifth so was ineligible for the triumph.

Yanks Sign Illinois High School Star

BELLEVILLE, Ill., June 11 (AP)—Marion (Buddy) Zipfel, 17-year-old high school graduate, today signed a contract with the New York Yankees and was assigned to their Class B Quincy (Ill) club in the Three I League.

Bill DeWitt, general manager of the Yankees, signed the recent Cathedral High School graduate at the home of the boy's father here.

Young Zipfel, who said he received no bonus to sign, batted .450 in about 20 games during the recent high school season. An outfielder, he is 6 foot 2 inches tall and weighs about 190 pounds.

Jack Dempsey's Life Will Be In Movies

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Jack Dempsey's life story will be made into a movie with the former heavyweight champion acting in an advisory capacity to coach the actor who will play his part.

Producer Sam Wisenthal, who signed the contracts with Dempsey today, emphasized that no film clips will be used. Dempsey's famous fights will be re-enacted including the Luis Firpo bout, the Jess Willard match and the Gene Tunney fights.

Wisenthal will start casting for the actor to portray Dempsey.

Bob Uhl Pitches Barrelville Into First Place Tie

Barrelville tied the Cresaptown Eagles for the leadership of the Pen-Mar Little League by blanking the LaVale Orioles yesterday at Barrelville by the score of 4-0.

Cresaptown and LaVale owned 5-2 records in the six-team circuit.

Robert Uhl, who tossed a no-run, no-hit game against the Cresaptown Eagles last Thursday, notched his second straight shutout triumph and made his season record 3-1. He faced only 22 batsmen in the 6-inning game, yielded only one hit, a single by James in the first frame and struck out 15 batsmen. Bob gave up his lone base on balls to Wharton in the fourth stanza.

Keith Kennell and Joe Nolan accounted for four of Barrelville's six hits. Wharton was tagged with the loss. Score:

Pittsburgh's Clemente Boasts 11-Game Hitting Streak

Bucs' Belter Pounding Ball At .360 Clip

Holds Third Place In N.L.; Repulski, Mantle Hold Lead

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP) — Dale Long and Bob Friend have been getting most of the rave notices for Pittsburgh's phenomenal rise this season, but, of late, Roberto Clemente also has been making his presence felt in the Pirate lineup.

The 21-year-old sophomore outfielder is on a batting rampage and has lifted his average to .360, third best in the National League. Clemente, boasting an 11-game hitting streak, gained 44 points during the week with 14 hits in 27 at bats—a better than .500 clip.

Rip Repulski of the St. Louis Cards continues to top the National League batsmen with a .378 mark, while the Yankees' Mickey Mantle still is the American League leader with .394. Averages include games through Sunday.

Clemente has been one of the pleasant surprises for the Pirates. In his rookie season last year the young speedster hit only .255 after being drafted from the Brooklyn Dodgers' organization.

Long Is Runner-up

Repulski, still bothered by a wrist injury, saw limited service last week. He went 2-for-11 and lost 22 points. Long maintained the runnerup spot at .370 despite a 10-point dip on 7-for-23.

The Cards' Ken Boyer trails Clemente in fourth place with .345, followed by Cincinnati's Ed Bailey, in fifth at .342. Boyer, in falling from third, dropped 12 points. Bailey, tied for fifth a week ago, gained nine points.

In the American League batting race, Mantle slumped 17 points with seven hits in 25 trips. Detroit's Charley Maxwell remains second with .373. He collected six hits in 17 at bats, but lost three points. Teammate Harvey Kuenn advanced from fourth to third with .364. He delivered 6-for-13 and increased his average eight points before being forced out of action with a leg injury.

Mickey Vernon of the Boston Red Sox dropped a peg from third to fourth at .358 with the Yanks' Yogi Berra rounding out the top five at .350.

Long is the National League's home run pace-setter with 17 and Boyer heads the RBI department with 48. Mantle is both the AL homer derby leader with 21 and runs batted in leader with 52.

Lawrence Tops 7-0

The Redlegs' Brooks Lawrence has the best pitching record among senior league hurlers, 7-0, 1.000, and Friend is strikeout king with 71. Tom Brewer of Boston has posted the leading won-lost mark in the American, 8-1, .889, and Cleveland's Herb Score has fanned the most batsmen, 86.

Brewer Notches Ninth Triumph Over Cleveland

Boston Red Sox Win Night Contest, 5-1

BOSTON, June 11 (AP) — Tom Brewer handcuffed Cleveland on three hits for his ninth victory of the season tonight as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Indians 5-1 for a split in a day-night doubleheader.

The Indians, limited to four hits, won the afternoon game 4-1 on home runs by Al Smith, Chico Carrasquel and Al Rosen.

The 23-year-old Brewer gave up a run on a walk and singles by Rocky Colavito and Jim Busby in the second but then settled down to become the first American League hurler to win nine games. He has lost only one.

Vic Wertz' double off Ted Williams' glove in left center in the fourth was the only other Cleveland hit off the Boston ace, who has allowed just 23 earned runs in 86 2-3 innings.

Brewer, Ted Williams and Jackie Jensen led a 10-hit Boston assault on loser Mike Garcia and reliever Bob Feller.

Brewer had two singles and drove in a run, while Williams had a pair of doubles and Jensen crashed his sixth homer of the season.

Old Germans Beat Ritter's; Hysanco Winner By Forfeit

The Old Germans outlasted Ritter's Social Club to finish on the long end of a 12-11 score yesterday in a City Softball League game at Stitcher Field.

Johnson's Grocery was unable to field a team at Fort Hill and thus forfeited to Hygienic Sanitation which increased its lead to 3½ games over the Old G's who moved into the runner-up spot (4-4) while the Grocers dropped into the third spot with 4-5.

The Old Germans scored the winning run in the top of the 7th inning in yesterday's game. Each team had one "big" inning. The Old G's scored seven runs in the first frame and Ritter's chalked up eight tallies in the second.

Five players had two hits each. They were Jim Evans, Jack Long and Galen McGregor of the Old Germans and Donnie Irons and Billy Clark of Ritter's. Score:

Ortega Given Split Verdict Over Poirier

St. Nick Slugfest Attracts Only 916

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Mexico's Gaspar Ortega and Gene Poirier of Niagara Falls, N. Y., traded punches without letup for 10 rounds tonight with Ortega gaining the split decision in the television scrap at St. Nicholas Arena. Each weighed 151 pounds.

Referee Ray Miller (5-3-2) and Judge Joe Eppy (6-4) voted for Ortega. Judge Nick Gamboli called it a draw, awarding each five rounds and five points. The AP card had Poirier ahead, 5-4-1.

There were only six clinches in the brisk, bloody and closely waged contest. Three of the clinches occurred in the final round when they were so arm weary they could hardly swing with any force.

Both bled from the nose and blood was sprayed all over the ring as they traded punches continuously.

Poirier, a 6-5 favorite, scored the hardest punch of the bout when he rocked his taller rival with a solid right smash to the nose.

A crowd of 916 paid $2,041 and cheered the slugfest throughout. It was strictly an all-offense, no defense affair.

Ortega racked up his 33rd victory. He has lost six. It was the fifth loss for Poirier, who has won 15.

Nats Conquer Kansas City

Take First Game Of Twin Bill, 4-3

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP) — Carlos Paula smashed a three-run pinch homer off Bobby Shantz in the eighth inning to lift Washington to a 4-3 victory over Kansas City tonight in the first game of a double-header. Johnny Groth accounted for all the A's runs with two homers.

Lou Kretlow held a 3-1 lead and was pitching a four-hitter when he walked Whitey Herzog to start the bottom of the eighth and was removed. Pete Runnels welcomed Shantz with a single and after Roy Sievers flied out, Paula batted for Clint Courtney and slammed his third homer into the centerfield seats.

Hogan Will Try To Win National Open Fifth Time

Ben Calls Course "Easy"; 56th Meet To Start Thursday

ROCHESTER, N.Y., June 11 (AP)—Stoical Ben Hogan confounded listeners today by calling Oak Hill "one of the easiest Open courses I've ever played" and in the next breath adding:

"I'm playing pretty rotten. Unless I improve, my chances don't look very good."

Early arrivals for the 56th annual National Open Golf Championship, beginning Thursday, immediately accused the Texas master of launching a campaign of "confusion warfare."

"That's Ben," dourly said one of his longtime rivals. "He's talking about how easy the course is so they'll toughen it. He knows he has a better chance on a tougher course."

Hogan, looking a mite thinner and more tired than when he was beaten by Jack Fleck at San Francisco last year in his bid for an unprecedented fifth Open championship, predicted the tournament would be won by one of the lowest scores ever.

Figures Low Score

"Do you think your record score of 276 set at Riviera in 1948 will be broken," Hogan was asked.

"Well, I don't know," Ben replied. "I won't say that. I believe we'll have a very low score."

Hogan said he believed the fairways were 10 to 15 yards wider than in recent Open tournaments, offering a bigger hitting area, and that the rough was far less tenacious.

The four-time champion, here since last Thursday probing every area of the 6,902-yard, par 70 layout, has had two rounds of 73 and one of 74.

"But he hasn't been trying for scores," Harvie Ward Jr., of San Francisco, national amateur champion and a playing partner said. "He's been experimenting on position."

Other contenders joined Hogan in saying the beautiful, tree-lined Oak Hill course is far from the nightmares dreamed up by the U.S. Golf Assn., in tournaments past. They called it "a fair course, but not an easy one."

"This is the fairest Open course I've played on since 1939 at Spring Mill," remarked Sam Snead, the frequent-runnerup who never has won this big one. "It give a fellow plenty of room to hit and when you miss a shot a little you're not penalized too hard."

Fleck, the defending champion, said, "It's a wonderful course—Fair but no setup for anybody. It's plenty long and it'll be tough when the greens harden."

Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., former PGA champion who was the nation's low qualifier with 134, said, "This course is built for Snead. He can hit all out and, if he's putting, he'll be hard to beat.

Course Is Praised

"It's one of the finest courses I've ever played on, but it's not an easy one. You have to carry the greens, you can't pitch and run to them and there are three holes specially where par will be hard to make—the third, 11th and 17th.

The third is a 208-yard par three, the 11th a 192pyard par three fronted by "Predicament Creek" and the 17th a 463-yard, par four test which will require two good wood blows on occasion.

No one has humiliated the course in practice. Ken Venturi, the San Francisco amateur who was the sensation of this year's Masters, had a 67 in practice with Hogan. Harvie Ward, who played here in the 1949 National Amateur, has had a pair of 71s.

Cresaptown's Lions handed Lonaconing its first defeat of the season in the Bi-State Pony League yesterday and extended its winning string to five games. The score was 10-8.

Manager Curtis Hickle's Ellerslie tossers also stayed in the unbeaten class by disposing of Mt. Savage in a 9-2 contest at Ellerslie. It was Ellerslie's fourth win.

In other contests, LaVale's Lions trimmed Corriganville, 9-3, and Barton took Midland into camp, 9-4.

Break Tie in Sixth

Manager Dale Broadwater's Cresaptown nine scored two runs in the 6th to break an 8-8 deadlock and defeat Lonaconing in a game featured by 26 hits. Doubles by Gerald Horton and Nick Wenrich and Dave Kammauf's single sent over the deciding tallies.

John Strickland, who replaced Dennis Clem on the rubber in the third inning, yielded only three hits, struck out six and got credit for the win. Staup collected three of 'Coney's 10 blows. Strickland's record is now 3-0.

Rich Hurls 3-Hitter

Richard Lybarger pitched a three-hitter and fanned eight in Ellerslie's triumph over Mt. Savage.

Shortstop Jack Lowery blasted a two-run homer in the fourth inning. Lybarger smacked three singles and Royce Waltman larruped a triple and two singles as Ellerslie, pounded three Mt. Savage moundsmen for 13 safeties. Emerick, Lennox and Trimble accounted for Mt. Savage's three bingles. Mt. Savage had scored 40 runs in its three previous games and all were victories.

Corriganville went down to defeat for the fifth straight time as LaVale's Lions pounded out 13 hits while "Butch" Perdew was fashioning a three-hitter and throwing the third strike past six. Bittner and Femi with a triple and single, Bennett and Perdew with a double and single and Stone with two one-base knocks were LaVale's leading clubbers. A triple by Tommy Keech was among the Corgs' three sefeties.

Barton Scores 1st Win

Midland also suffered its fifth successive setback in bowing to Barton which crashed the win column for the first time. Pollack held Midland to eight hits and whiffed seven. Barton jumped on three Midland hurlers for 12 blows, including two homers. Metz clouted a homer, double and single, George Lauder hit a round-tripper and double and Norris and Roger Johnson garnered four of the losers' eight hits. One of Johnson's was a two-bagger. Orioles Take Fifth Place

Baltimore Scores Over Detroit, 5-4

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP)—Bob Nieman and Gus Triandos knocked in all the runs between them for Baltimore tonight as the Orioles beat Detroit 5-4 and displaced the Tigers by a percentage point in fifth place in the American League.

Nieman drove in one run with a single and Triandos two for the Orioles in the first. Niemanalso socked his fifth homer of the season with a mate on base in the fifth.

That gave the Orioles a 5-1 lead which they barely protected as the Tigers slugged 14 safeties to 12 for Baltimore.

The Tigers picked up a run in the sixth and pushed two over in the seventh as Manager Bucky Harris juggled his attack.

Hal Brown got credit for the victory, his third against no defeats, although he was on the mound for only the last two innings. The official scorer judged him more effective since he gave up only two hits while George Zuverink was smacked for seven and three runs in three innings. Don Ferrarese started and was taken out in the fifth so was ineligible for the triumph.

Yanks Sign Illinois High School Star

BELLEVILLE, Ill., June 11 (AP)—Marion (Buddy) Zipfel, 17-year-old high school graduate, today signed a contract with the New York Yankees and was assigned to their Class B Quincy (Ill) club in the Three I League.

Bill DeWitt, general manager of the Yankees, signed the recent Cathedral High School graduate at the home of the boy's father here.

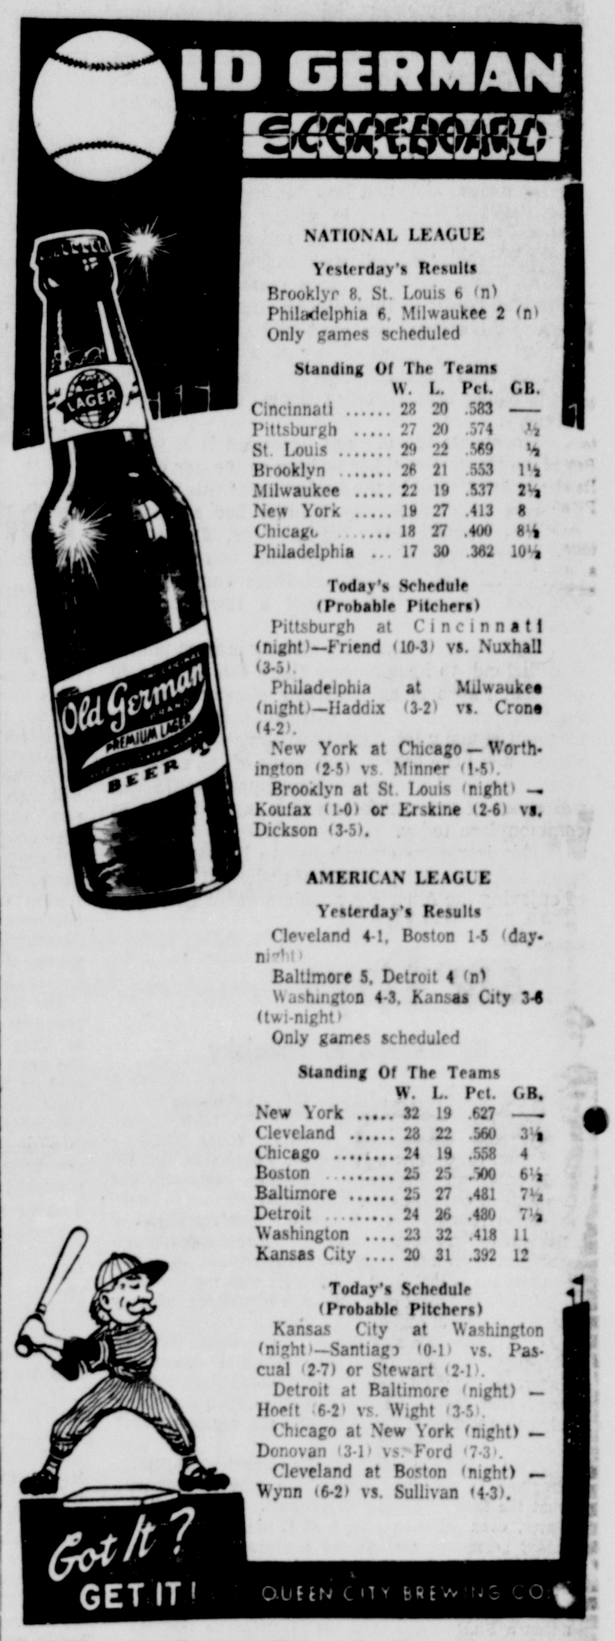

Young Zipfel, who said he received no bonus to sign, batted .450 in about 20 games during the recent high school season. An outfielder, he is 6 foot 2 inches tall and weighs about 190 pounds.

Jack Dempsey's Life Will Be In Movies

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Jack Dempsey's life story will be made into a movie with the former heavyweight champion acting in an advisory capacity to coach the actor who will play his part.

Producer Sam Wisenthal, who signed the contracts with Dempsey today, emphasized that no film clips will be used. Dempsey's famous fights will be re-enacted including the Luis Firpo bout, the Jess Willard match and the Gene Tunney fights.

Wisenthal will start casting for the actor to portray Dempsey.

Junior Hurler Posts 7-2 Mark And Whiffs 69

Blanked Four Teams; Ritter And Winters Each Won 5, Lost 1

Jesse Markley, Fort Hill High School's junior righthander, dominated the pitching averages in the Bi-State Conference for 1956, his third season in the circuit.

Here are Markley's outstanding achievements for the season with the co-champions of the nine school loop:

1. Winningest pitcher with 7-2 record.
2. Scored the most shutouts—four.
3. Pitched in the most games (11). Fort Hill played 16.
4. Hurled the most complete games—seven.
5. Pitched the most innings—62⅔.
6. Led the league in strikeouts with 69.
7. Tossed two one-hitters and two two-hitters.
8. Walked only 13 batsmen.

Markley's shutout victories were scored over Mt. Savage 4-0, Allegany 10-0, LaSalle 1-0 and Beall 14-0. Both games that he lost were close ones, LaSalle turning the trick, 2-1, and Mt. Savage 2-0.

Winters, Ritter Are 5-1

Ronnie Winters, Fort Hill twirler, who suffered a shoulder injury late in the campaign, and Frank Ritter, LaSalle High southpaw, turned in the highest percentages in the conference, each winning five games and losing one.

Winters holds the distinction of hurling the season's lone no-hitter. Sixty-five games were played by the teams. Ronnie's no-hitter was registered on April 11 when he beat Hyndman, 11-3. He was also runner-up to Markley in strikeouts, having whiffed 67 in 37⅓ innings.

Donnie Wilkinson, Bruce High junior, and Bill Roberts, of LaSalle, turned in 5-2 records for the season. Wayne Fleegle, of Mt. Savage, with a 5-4 record, finished third in total strikeouts with 56 in 41⅓ innings.

Wilkinson and Ronnie Young, the Valley High workhorse, appeared on the rubber in 10 games each. The Bruce ace toiled 49 innings while Young pitched 44⅓ frames. Ronnie Ranker of Hyndman also twirled 44⅓ innings in eight games.

Seven One-Hit Games

Seven one-hit contests were chalked up during the season by the following:

Markley 2, Wilkinson, Norman Raines (Bruce); Ronnie Winters, Denny Yaider (Fort Hill) and Regis Fair (LaSalle), one each.

Two-hitters were credited to Markley 2, Raines, Fair and Fleegle, one each.

Seven of the 15 games in which Allegany High School appeared were decided by the margin of a single run. The Campers lost five. Mt. Savage figured in five games, winning three and losing two. One run was the margin of victory in 17 league contests.

Tri-State Cleaners rolled to their eighth consecutive win in the Men's Rec Softball League yesterday, walloping B. & O. CTP at East Side Field by the score of 14-2.

Neil Toey scattered six hits to post his seventh win of the campaign while the Cleaners collected 19 hits. Deb Payton sparked the winners with four hits, Bill Eckard and Ed Downton had three each and George McGregor, Wes Bridges, Loay Twigg and Toey had two apiece. Thrasher and Hawse shared four of the losers' six bingles.

Lytle's Sign Shop scored 10 runs in the 7th inning to rout St. Luke's at Campobello to the tune of 18-1.

Joe Biggs went the route for Lytle's, yielding only three singles. Lytle's collected 17 hits, including a homer, double and single by "Sonny" Method, a circuit wallop by "Bud" Cleggett, Biggs' three base clout and doubles by "Buddy" Meade and Hoffman.

Post Playground racked up 13 hits to whip Naval Reserve at Post Field, 12-3. Nield limited the Navy to four hits. "Buddy" Merritt sparked the victors with three hits while Ron Whisner rapped a triple and single. Scores:

Oliver May Land Idaho State Post

POCATELLO, Ida., June 11 (INS) — Officials at Idaho State College in Pocatello confirmed today that Newt Oliver, former basketball coach at Rio Grande College, Ohio, is being considered for the cage coaching job at Idaho State.

However, John Vesser, director of athletics, said a new coach would not be named after June 18, when college president Carl W. McIntosh returns to the campus.

The new coach will succeed Steve Belko, who recently was named basketball coach at Oregon State College.

Geese have been seen flying over the Himalayan mountains at a height estimated to be about 35,000 feet.

Tri-State Cleaners rolled to their eighth consecutive win in the Men's Rec Softball League yesterday, walloping B. & O. CTP at East Side Field by the score of 14-2.

Neil Toey scattered six hits to post his seventh win of the campaign while the Cleaners collected 19 hits. Deb Payton sparked the winners with four hits, Bill Eckard and Ed Downton had three each and George McGregor, Wes Bridges, Loay Twigg and Toey had two apiece. Thrasher and Hawse shared four of the losers' six bingles.

Lytle's Sign Shop scored 10 runs in the 7th inning to rout St. Luke's at Campobello to the tune of 18-1.

Joe Biggs went the route for Lytle's, yielding only three singles. Lytle's collected 17 hits, including a homer, double and single by "Sonny" Method, a circuit wallop by "Bud" Cleggett, Biggs' three base clout and doubles by "Buddy" Meade and Hoffman.

Post Playground racked up 13 hits to whip Naval Reserve at Post Field, 12-3. Nield limited the Navy to four hits. "Buddy" Merritt sparked the victors with three hits while Ron Whisner rapped a triple and single. Scores:

Oliver May Land Idaho State Post

POCATELLO, Ida., June 11 (INS) — Officials at Idaho State College in Pocatello confirmed today that Newt Oliver, former basketball coach at Rio Grande College, Ohio, is being considered for the cage coaching job at Idaho State.

However, John Vesser, director of athletics, said a new coach would not be named after June 18, when college president Carl W. McIntosh returns to the campus.

The new coach will succeed Steve Belko, who recently was named basketball coach at Oregon State College.

Tribe Homers Sink Red Sox In 4-1 Battle

Carrasquel, Smith And Rosen Connect

BOSTON, June 11 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, limited to four hits, defeated the Boston Red Sox 4-1 on home runs by Al Smith, Chico Carrasquel and Al Rosen today in the opening half of a day-night doubleheader.

Ray Narleski, Cleveland's right-handed relief artist, hurled one-hit ball over the final 3 1-3 innings to preserve Cal McLish's second victory of the season.

The Indians connected for all their runs off veteran Bob Porterfield before Tommy Hurd finished up with hitless pitching in the last two innings.

Porterfield, who allowed only 14 home runs all last season, now has given up 10 in 49 2-3 innings on the mound this year. He has won two games and lost five.

Smith hit the second pitch of the game into the left field screen for his eighth homer of the season in the first inning.

Carrasquel connected for his third homer in the second, while Rosen blasted his sixth as leadoff hitter in the sixth inning.

The Indians scored their other run in the first when Bobby Avila doubled after Smith's homer, advanced to third on an outfield fly and scored as Vic Wertz grounded out.

The Red Sox scored their lone run in the sixth when Jimmy Piersall singled and came all the way around on Billy Klaus' long double to right center.

Summer Tan Loses Race

Comeback Spoiled By Red Hannigan

ELMONT, N. Y., June 11 (AP)—Woodley Lane Farm's Red Hannigan closed with a rush to win the Port Jefferson Purse at Belmont Park today as Eddie Arcaro rode his fourth winner of the day.

The 5-year-old son of Heliopolis-War Damsel stepped the six furlongs in the brisk time of 1:10 2/5 to spoil the second comeback attempt of Mrs. John W. Galbreath's Summer Tan by a half length.

Third money two and three quarters lengths back went to William L. Huntley's Hilarious, who took the lead after racing Lily-Ann Stable's Getthere Jack into defeat.

Summer Tan was making his first start since the 1955 Kentucky Derby when he suffered an ankle injury while finishing third behind Swaps and Nashua.

Third choice in the betting with the crowd of 23,739, Red Hannigan returned mutuels of $9.80, $3.00 and $2.60. Summer Tan paid $2.50 and $2.20 and Hilarious was $3.10 to finish third.

Arcaro's other winners were Mufti 2nd, $20.20; Fuji-Mum, $7.10 Nad Leallah, $3.30. A second place on Mabe Cee kept him from winning all his races going to the feature.

Patterson Hopes To Get Title Shot In September

Pilot Makes Plans For Bout With Moore

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Floyd Patterson's manager said today he was going ahead with plans for a heavyweight title fight with Archie Moore in September despite Patterson's broken right hand.

"I'm operating on the theory we'll fight in September until I get medical authority to the contrary," said Manager Cus D'Amato. "The doctors told me Floyd had youth and good health on his side and those factors may bring about a more rapid healing. They said they'll watch as the calcium forms then, at some given time, will be able to give me a definite answer on when he will be ready.

"They do say the average is about two or three months for a broken bone to heal but each case is different."

To Take X-rays

Patterson, taking a short vacation, will return to the city Thursday when further X-rays will be taken to determine how the break in the fourth metacarpal bone of the right hand is healing. The metacarpal is the bone behind the knuckle of the ring finger.

As Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, will be in his office tomorrow, it is likely there will be a conference among the promoter and the managers of Patterson and Moore.

Moore's manager, Charlie Johnston, ruled out any idea of Moore boxing Hurricane Jackson in case Patterson wasn't ready. "We're not interested," said Johnston. "He just got licked. We're only interested in fighters that win."

Moore sat in Johnston's office and talked about his successful defense of the light heavyweight title against Yolande Pompey in London last week and his future plans.

Claims Heavy Title

"I've already claimed the heavyweight title," he said. "If somebody isn't ready in September I'll post official claims and ask to be recognized by all the boxing commissions."

Wins Boxing Title

SYDNEY, June 11 (AP)—Riccardo Marcos, 168, former Spanish welterweight champion, tonight won the Australian light heavyweight title by outputing Bill McDonnell, 162¾, in 15 rounds at Sydney Stadium.

QUESTIONS

1—What former Yankee was known as "Twinkletoes"?

2—Name the only American and National league batting champs since 1900 who never have hit below .300 in the majors.

3—Was old-timer Heinie Manush ever a batting champ?

HOOHEE? RIVAL clubs claim he has one of the best curves in American league. A good fielder and hitter, he's with the Red Sox, a team he joined in 1954 with only one season in Class D as experience.

ANSWERS

3—Yes, in the American league. He batted .309 in 1905.

2—Ted Williams and Stan Musial. Ty Cobb hit .240 for 41 games in his first year with Detroit in 1905.

1—George Selkirk.

Roy Campanella Is Given Rest

ST. LOUIS, June 11 (AP)—Manager Walt Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers said he has taken catcher Roy Campanella out of the lineup for tonight's game with St. Louis "for a rest."

Campanella, who is currently batting a weak .212, may sit out tomorrow night's game also.

Alston, who will use Rube Walker behind the plate, said Campy has been playing with a bad leg the last two weeks.

There are more species of insects on earth than of all animals combined.

Lane Emphasizes Stan Musial Is Not Trading Material

ST. LOUIS, June 11 (AP)—General Manager Frank Lane of the St. Louis Cardinals emphasized today that Stan Musial is not trading material.

Lane said he made the statement because he has received several phone calls from persons who wanted to know if Musial was going to another club.

Lane, pointing out that the major deadline on trading is Friday, said: "August A. Busch Jr. (Cardinal president) and myself are in complete accord that Musial will not be traded."

Speculation arose that outfielder Musial—six times batting champ in the National League—might be traded in view of the many transactions the fast-dealing Lane made here recently.

Some of the better ball players that Lane Swapped included Bill Virdon, 1955 rookie of the year, and Harvey Haddix, little left handed hurler.

Any club picking up Musial would also have to pick up something else—a paycheck reported to be around $80,000 a year.

Tribe Homers Sink Red Sox In 4-1 Battle

Carrasquel, Smith And Rosen Connect

BOSTON, June 11 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, limited to four hits, defeated the Boston Red Sox 4-1 on home runs by Al Smith, Chico Carrasquel and Al Rosen today in the opening half of a day-night doubleheader.

Ray Narleski, Cleveland's right-handed relief artist, hurled one-hit ball over the final 3 1-3 innings to preserve Cal McLish's second victory of the season.

The Indians connected for all their runs off veteran Bob Porterfield before Tommy Hurd finished up with hitless pitching in the last two innings.

Porterfield, who allowed only 14 home runs all last season, now has given up 10 in 49 2-3 innings on the mound this year. He has won two games and lost five.

Smith hit the second pitch of the game into the left field screen for his eighth homer of the season in the first inning.

Carrasquel connected for his third homer in the second, while Rosen blasted his sixth as leadoff hitter in the sixth inning.

The Indians scored their other run in the first when Bobby Avila doubled after Smith's homer, advanced to third on an outfield fly and scored as Vic Wertz grounded out.

The Red Sox scored their lone run in the sixth when Jimmy Piersall singled and came all the way around on Billy Klaus' long double to right center.

Summer Tan Loses Race

Comeback Spoiled By Red Hannigan

ELMONT, N. Y., June 11 (AP) — Woodley Lane Farm's Red Hannigan closed with a rush to win the Port Jefferson Purse at Belmont Park today as Eddie Arcaro rode his fourth winner of the day.

The 5-year-old son of Heliopolis-War Damsel stepped the six furlongs in the brisk time of 1:10 2/5 to spoil the second comeback attempt of Mrs. John W. Galbreath's Summer Tan by a half length.

Third money two and three quarters lengths back went to William L. Huntley's Hilarious, who took the lead after racing Lily-Ann Stable's Getthere Jack into defeat.

Summer Tan was making his first start since the 1955 Kentucky Derby when he suffered an ankle injury while finishing third behind Swaps and Nashua.

Third choice in the betting with the crowd of 23,739, Red Hannigan returned mutuels of $9.80, $3.00 and $2.60. Summer Tan paid $2.50 and $2.20 and Hilarious was $3.10 to finish third.

Arcaro's other winners were Mufti 2nd, $20.20; Fuji-Mum, $7.10 Nad Leallah, $3.30. A second place on Mabe Cee kept him from winning all his races going to the feature.

Patterson Hopes To Get Title Shot In September

Pilot Makes Plans For Bout With Moore

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Floyd Patterson's manager said today he was going ahead with plans for a heavyweight title fight with Archie Moore in September despite Patterson's broken right hand.

"I'm operating on the theory we'll fight in September until I get medical authority to the contrary," said Manager Cus D'Amato. "The doctors told me Floyd had youth and good health on his side and those factors may bring about a more rapid healing. They said they'll watch as the calcium forms then, at some given time, will be able to give me a definite answer on when he will be ready.

"They do say the average is about two or three months for a broken bone to heal but each case is different."

To Take X-rays

Patterson, taking a short vacation, will return to the city Thursday when further X-rays will be taken to determine how the break in the fourth metacarpal bone of the right hand is healing. The metacarpal is the bone behind the knuckle of the ring finger.

As Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, will be in his office tomorrow, it is likely there will be a conference among the promoter and the managers of Patterson and Moore.

Moore's manager, Charlie Johnston, ruled out any idea of Moore boxing Hurricane Jackson in case Patterson wasn't ready. "We're not interested," said Johnston. "He just got licked. We're only interested in fighters that win."

Moore sat in Johnston's office and talked about his successful defense of the light heavyweight title against Yolande Pompey in London last week and his future plans.

Claims Heavy Title

"I've already claimed the heavyweight title," he said. "If somebody isn't ready in September I'll post official claims and ask to be recognized by all the boxing commissions."

Wins Boxing Title

SYDNEY, June 11 (AP)—Riccardo Marcos, 168, former Spanish welterweight champion, tonight won the Australian light heavyweight title by outputing Bill McDonnell, 162¾, in 15 rounds at Sydney Stadium.

'Depressed'

DESCRIBED by friends as "broke and depressed", Johnny Bratton of Chicago, former NBA welter champ, has been committed to the Illinois State hospital for treatment of a mental condition. Bratton reportedly earned $400,000 in a 12-year career. (International)

QUESTIONS

1—What former Yankee was known as "Twinkletoes"?

2—Name the only American and National league batting champs since 1900 who never have hit below .300 in the majors.

3—Was old-timer Heinie Manush ever a batting champ?

HOOHEE?

RIVAL clubs claim he has one of the best curves in American league. A good fielder and hitter, he's with the Red Sox, a team he joined in 1954 with only one season in Class D as experience.

ANSWERS

3—Yes, in the American league. He batted .410 for 41 games in his first year with Detroit in 1905.
2—Ted Williams and Stan Musial. Ty Cobb hit .420 for 41.
1—George Selkirk.

Roy Campanella Is Given Rest

ST. LOUIS, June 11 (AP)—Manager Walt Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers said he has taken catcher Roy Campanella out of the lineup for tonight's game with St. Louis "for a rest."

Campanella, who is currently batting a weak .212, may sit out tomorrow night's game also.

Alston, who will use Rube Walker behind the plate, said Campy has been playing with a bad leg the last two weeks.

Lane Emphasizes Stan Musial Is Not Trading Material

ST. LOUIS, June 11 (AP)—General Manager Frank Lane of the St. Louis Cardinals emphasized today that Stan Musial is not trading material.

Lane said he made the statement because he has received several phone calls from persons who wanted to know if Musial was going to another club.

Lane, pointing out that the major deadline on trading is Friday, said: "August A. Busch Jr. (Cardinal president) and myself are in complete accord that Musial will not be traded."

Speculation arose that outfielder Musial—six times batting champ in the National League—might be traded in view of the many transactions the fast-dealing Lane made here recently.

Some of the better ball players that Lane Swapped included Bill Virdon, 1955 rookie of the year, and Harvey Haddix, little left handed hurler.

Any club picking up Musial would also have to pick up something else—a paycheck reported to be around $80,000 a year.

Daily Bridge Lesson

by B. Jay Becker

East dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	4 ♠

Opening lead—king of hearts.

East played the jack of hearts on the opening lead, and West continued with the ace and another heart, East trumping the third round. A diamond was returned, which South won with the ace. Declarer now played all five of his trumps. On the last trump, East grimly hung on to his four clubs, discarding the king of diamonds, and South went down one.

There are two points of interest in this hand to which we call attention. First, East's play of the jack of hearts on the opening lead, which was correct. Somewhere in the dim past some vicious rumormonger spread the word around to all and sundry that it is not permissible ever to signal with an honor. The seed was so well sown that wherever one goes from Maine to California and even beyond, this canard is quoted as the gospel truth. The ghost should have been laid to rest eons ago, and here is one small voice raised to still the nursery tale. The rule would be more correct if it were stated to be that it is unwise to signal with an honor where the loss of a trick is apt to result from the signal. In the present case, as can be seen, the jack is fated to fall on partner's ace eventually anyhow. It is therefore better to play it on the king, when it will at least serve as a signal to identify a doubleton.

Next on the agenda is the declarer's failure to make the hand. His manner of play placed all hopes in the adverse clubs breaking 3-3. Omitted from his calculations were those hands where the clubs break 4-2. There is a method to cover both possibilities.

South's proper play, after winning the ace of diamonds, is to play the ace and another trump to the king. Then, without drawing West's nine of trump, he plays the ace and another club to the king. A low club is ruffed high, after which a trump to dummy's jack provides the entry to discard the two diamond losers on the Q-9 of clubs.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Television In A Satellite

And what about television behind the iron curtain? Gary Stindt, NBC's bureau chief in Berlin, has made a report on television in Communist-dominated East Berlin which has been pretty well observed in West Berlin.

Since Russian radio is notoriously a propaganda device (and real dull, too), one would presume that East Berlin television would be pure propaganda. It isn't, though, of course, there is plenty of that. The weekly newsreel—which runs unchanged all week—has as typical topics: "Defeat of the imperialists." "To the conscience of the world" (which was a press conference and demonstration in East Berlin), "In the sign of friendship" (icebreakers operating in the Oder River), "Ten years of Free German Youth"—all of which soundes like pure propaganda and was.

Another show, "Topical Camera" is slanted and political but the propaganda sometimes backfires. "It was horrible to watch an original sound film of a trial," Stindt reported. "Four persons stood before the tribunal. Three of them later were sentenced to death. They were accused of helping hire skilled workers away from East Germany. The way the top Communist prosecutor 'Red Hilde Benjamin,' accused these four, while party members in the audience listened, applauded and booed, made one shudder."

The Soviet zone has many television stations now which have been running four years. Early this year a nine-station network went into operation which will have four more stations soon Pictures are received very well in West Germany but the TV sets there have to have an adapter to get the sound. Many West Germans have the adapters.

However, television is a two-edged sword. West Germany has its own TV network and East Berliners and East Germans tune into that. During the Winter Olympics Eurovision transmission was carried on East German TV. If East Germany should join the all-Europe television conference, it would be the first Communist satellite to form a permanent connection with Western TV. If the spirit of Geneva continues at all, viewers in Moscow might one day be taken on a TV tour of London, West Berlin, Paris—and the West might be taken on a tour of Moscow—a distant dream.

Whether wittingly or unwittingly, television in Europe seems bound to bring Europeans closer together, on both sides of the curtain. The East Germans are far too smart to let propaganda rule the air waves exclusively; if they did, they'd have no audience. Non-political programs have hundreds of thousands of viewers; political programs much less. (The Communists are clever enough to intersperse political in non-political shows, thus holding on to a large audience.)

The talent and quality of East German programs can't compare with American for financial reasons except in cases of live opera, operetta, and theater transmission. Since the state pays for TV in Eastern Germany, the theatrical talent is the very best. Direction is pretty good and set design very good.

Political debate adheres strictly to the party line and here again this kind of telecast can backfire. During a recent East German party congress attended by many top Reds from the Soviet Union and satellites the camera candidly showed how over-organized and phoney was the applauding and shouting; it also caught several party members looking frankly bored to death. Orders went out to put the cameras back as far as possible. "An unobtrusive television camera," reports Stindt, "can become very embarrassing at times in a dictatorship."

Daily Bridge Lesson

by B. Jay Becker

East dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	4 ♠

Opening lead—king of hearts.

East played the jack of hearts on the opening lead, and West continued with the ace and another heart, East trumping the third round. A diamond was returned, which South won with the ace. Declarer now played all five of his trumps. On the last trump, East grimly hung on to his four clubs, discarding the king of diamonds, and South went down one.

There are two points of interest in this hand to which we call attention. First, East's play of the jack of hearts on the opening lead, which was correct. Somewhere in the dim past some vicious rumormonger spread the word around to all and sundry that it is not permissible ever to signal with an honor. The seed was so well sown that wherever one goes from Maine to California and even beyond, this canard is quoted as the gospel truth. The ghost should have been laid to rest eons ago, and here is one small voice raised to still the nursery tale. The rule would be more correct if it were stated to be that it is unwise to signal with an honor where the loss of a trick is apt to result from the signal. In the present case, as can be seen, the jack is fated to fall on partner's ace eventually anyhow. It is therefore better to play it on the king, when it will at least serve as a signal to identify a doubleton.

Next on the agenda is the declarer's failure to make the hand. His manner of play placed all hopes in the adverse clubs breaking 3-3. Omitted from his calculations were those hands where the clubs break 4-2. There is a method to cover both possibilities.

South's proper play, after winning the ace of diamonds, is to play the ace and another trump to the king. Then, without drawing West's nine of trump, he plays the ace and another club to the king. A low club is ruffed high, after which a trump to dummy's jack provides the entry to discard the two diamond losers on the Q-9 of clubs.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Television In A Satellite

And what about television behind the iron curtain? Gary Stindt, NBC's bureau chief in Berlin, has made a report on television in Communist-dominated East Berlin which has been pretty well observed in West Berlin.

Since Russian radio is notoriously a propaganda device (and real dull, too), one would presume that East Berlin television would be pure propaganda. It isn't, though, of course, there is plenty of that. The weekly newsreel—which runs unchanged all week—has as typical topics: "Defeat of the imperialists." "To the conscience of the world" (which was a press conference and demonstration in East Berlin), "In the sign of friendship" (icebreakers operating in the Oder River), "Ten years of Free German Youth"—all of which soundes like pure propaganda and was.

Another show, "Topical Camera" is slanted and political but the propaganda sometimes backfires. "It was horrible to watch an original sound film of a trial," Stindt reported. "Four persons stood before the tribunal. Three of them later were sentenced to death. They were accused of helping hire skilled workers away from East Germany. The way the top Communist prosecutor 'Red Hilde Benjamin,' accused these four, while party members in the audience listened, applauded and booed, made one shudder."

The Soviet zone has many television stations now which have been running four years. Early this year a nine-station network went into operation which will have four more stations soon Pictures are received very well in West Germany but the TV sets there have to have an adapter to get the sound. Many West Germans have the adapters.

However, television is a two-edged sword. West Germany has its own TV network and East Berliners and East Germans tune into that. During the Winter Olympics Eurovision transmission was carried on East German TV. If East Germany should join the all-Europe television conference, it would be the first Communist satellite to form a permanent connection with Western TV. If the spirit of Geneva continues at all, viewers in Moscow might one day be taken on a TV tour of London, West Berlin, Paris—and the West might be taken on a tour of Moscow—a distant dream.

Whether wittingly or unwittingly, television in Europe seems bound to bring Europeans closer together, on both sides of the curtain. The East Germans are far too smart to let propaganda rule the air waves exclusively; if they did, they'd have no audience. Nonpolitical programs have hundreds of thousands of viewers; political programs much less. (The Communists are clever enough to intersperse political in non-political shows, thus holding on to a large audience.)

The talent and quality of East German programs can't compare with American for financial reasons except in cases of live opera, operetta, and theater transmission. Since the state pays for TV in Eastern Germany, the theatrical talent is the very best. Direction is pretty good and set design very good.

Political debate adheres strictly to the party line and here again this kind of telecast can backfire. During a recent East German party congress attended by many top Reds from the Soviet Union and satellites the camera candidly showed how over-organized and phoney was the applauding and shouting; it also caught several party members looking frankly bored to death. Orders went out to put the cameras back as far as possible. "An unobtrusive television camera," reports Stindt, "can become very embarrassing at times in a dictatorship."

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Sarah E. Martz, who passed away 2 years ago, June 12, 1954.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trial are past,
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,
Till God called her Home to suffer no more.
Sadly missed by her children, Frances, Mary, John George, Joseph Martz, 2 children by former marriage, Helena S. Long Bittner and Wm. Long, all of Columbus.

In memory of our beloved husband and father, Joseph F. McKenzie, who died one year ago, June 12, 1955.
You are not forgotten loved one,
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we miss you more,
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their sympathy and kindness in our bereavement, the death of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs Edna McGee. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes, loaned cars or in any manner assisted us.
Mr. Frank McGee and Family

We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends and neighbors who were so kind during the illness and following the death of our husband and father, John L. Warnick Sr. We especially wish to thank those who sent flowers, donated cars and all who helped in so many ways.
Mrs. John L. Warnick Sr. and Family

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Sarah E. Martz, who passed away 2 years ago, June 12, 1954.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trial are past,
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,
Till God called her Home to suffer no more.
Sadly missed by her children, Frances, Mary, John George, Joseph Martz, 2 children by former marriage, Helena S. Long Bittner and Wm. Long, all of Columbus.

In memory of our beloved husband and father, Joseph F. McKenzie, who died one year ago, June 12, 1955.
You are not forgotten loved one,
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we miss you more,
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
The Family

ASSIGNEE'S SALE

of valuable real estate consisting of a parcel of ground and the improvements thereon consisting of a two story frame apartment house containing twenty-seven rooms, on Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage dated April 25, 1947, and recorded among the Mortgage Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 195 folio 538, and duly assigned to Leslie J. Clark for the purpose of foreclosure, default having occurred in the covenants and conditions of said mortgage, the undersigned assignee of said mortgage will sell at public auction in front of the Lonaconing Branch of the Liberty Trust Company, Main Street, Lonaconing, Maryland on Tuesday, July 3, 1956 at 11:00 a. m. E.D.S.T.

All that lot or parcel of ground situated on Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland and being more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING for the same at a stake standing on the East side of Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland, said stake being South 46 degrees 39 minutes East 45.90 feet from a fire plug, and running thence North 74 degrees 05 minutes East 77.40 feet to a stake, thence North 45 degrees 32 minutes East 19 feet to a fence post; thence South 85 degrees 15 minutes East 22.30 feet to a fence post; thence South 81 degree 15 minutes East 180 feet to a stake standing on the West side of a road; thence with said road South 8 degrees 55 minutes East 165.40 feet to a stake; thence leaving said road; North 68 degrees 2 minutes West 284.60 feet to a stake, thence South 87 degrees 6 minutes West 39.50 feet to a stake standing on the East side of Jackson Street, thence with the East side of Jackson Street, North 9 degrees 44 minutes West 54.80 feet to the beginning, as surveyed in August, 1946.

IT BEING the same property which was conveyed by the Cumberland Real Estate Corporation to William H. Spiker and Winnie C. Spiker, his wife, by a deed dated September 7, 1946 and recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 211 folio 172.

The above described property is improved by a covered two story frame apartment building covered with composition siding containing 27 rooms, divided into apartments, three small washrooms, gas and electric.

State, county, and Town of Lonaconing taxes, and other public liens and charges will be adjusted to the day of sale.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third cash on the day of sale, balance upon ratification of said sale by the Court.

LESLIE J. CLARK
Assignee of Mortgage for the purpose of foreclosure.

Church Carnival Plan Outlined To Sodality

MT. SAVAGE — The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary of St. Patrick's Catholic Church met a recent evening in the music room of the school. The meeting opened with prayer by the president, Mrs. Dorothy Shaffer. The census committee made their reports.

Rev. Michael Smyth spoke briefly about the coming carnival which will be held on the church grounds from July 11 to July 14. The first night of the carnival a supper will be held in the hall.

Miss Martha Reagan gave the spiritual reading. The president reminded the group that the Sodality will say the Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary on Saturday, July 7, after the evening services.

A social hour followed the meeting. The next meeting will be held Thursday, July 5, at 7:30 p. m.

Georges Creek Zone WSCS To Meet

FROSTBURG — All members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the George's Creek Zone will meet with the society of the First Methodist Church, on Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the church. Mrs. Everett Culp of Cumberland will be guest speaker, using as her subject "Five Spiritual Classics."

Martha Meek Circle No. 4 will go to Anton's for dinner at 6:30 p. m. Thursday.

Market Climbs To Regain Most Of Friday's Decline

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP) — The stock market today regained more than two-thirds of the severe three and a half billion dollars loss suffered Friday on news of President Eisenhower's illness.

The excellent showing of the market today was very much like the improvement in the President's condition which was described as "excellent."

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks Friday dropped $3.00, sharpest decline in eight months, while today the average regained $2.20. That amounts to an estimated three and a half billion dollars loss Friday in the quoted value of securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange and to a gain of two and a half billion dollars today.

All divisions were up with gains of 1 to 3 points quite frequent. Losses were small.

With the AP average up $2.20 at $179.20, the industrial component advanced $4.30, railroads were up $1.80, and utilities were ahead 30 cents.

The market wasn't very broad with 1,122 individual issues traded of which 787 were higher and 190 lower with 8 new highs for the year and 29 new lows.

Niagara Mohawk Power, off 2⅛ Friday, dropped ⅝ at 29⅜ today as the session's most active issue on 71,100 shares. The stock opened on 9,000 shares at 29 and hit a low of 28⅝. Pressure on the stock followed destruction of its Niagara Falls hydroelectric plant by a rock slide.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE

of valuable real estate consisting of a parcel of ground and the improvements thereon consisting of a two story frame apartment house containing twenty-seven rooms, on Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage dated April 25, 1947, and recorded among the Mortgage Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 195 folio 538, and duly assigned to Leslie J. Clark for the purpose of foreclosure, default having occurred in the covenants and conditions of said mortgage, the undersigned assignee of said mortgage will sell at public auction in front of the Lonaconing Branch of the Liberty Trust Company, Main Street, Lonaconing, Maryland on Tuesday, July 3, 1956 at 11:00 a. m. E.D.S.T.

All that lot or parcel of ground situated on Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland and being more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING for the same at a stake standing on the East side of Jackson Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland, said stake being South 46 degrees 39 minutes East 45.90 feet from a fire plug, and running thence North 74 degrees 05 minutes East 77.40 feet to a stake, thence North 45 degrees 32 minutes East 19 feet to a fence post; thence South 85 degrees 15 minutes East 22.30 feet to a fence post; thence South 81 degree 15 minutes East 180 feet to a stake standing on the West side of a road; thence with said road South 8 degrees 55 minutes East 165.40 feet to a stake; thence leaving said road; North 68 degrees 2 minutes West 284.60 feet to a stake, thence South 87 degrees 6 minutes West 39.50 feet to a stake standing on the East side of Jackson Street, thence with the East side of Jackson Street, North 9 degrees 44 minutes West 54.80 feet to the beginning, as surveyed in August, 1946.

IT BEING the same property which was conveyed by the Cumberland Real Estate Corporation to William H. Spiker and Winnie C. Spiker, his wife, by a deed dated September 7, 1946 and recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber No. 211 folio 172.

The above described property is improved by a covered two story frame apartment building covered with composition siding containing 27 rooms, divided into apartments, three small washrooms, gas and electric.

State, county, and Town of Lonaconing taxes, and other public liens and charges will be adjusted to the day of sale.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third cash on the day of sale, balance upon ratification of said sale by the Court.

Church Carnival Plan Outlined To Sodality

MT. SAVAGE — The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary of St. Patrick's Catholic Church met a recent evening in the music room of the school. The meeting opened with prayer by the president, Mrs. Dorothy Shaffer. The census committee made their reports.

Rev. Michael Smyth spoke briefly about the coming carnival which will be held on the church grounds from July 11 to July 14. The first night of the carnival a supper will be held in the hall.

Miss Martha Reagan gave the spiritual reading. The president reminded the group that the Sodality will say the Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary on Saturday, July 7, after the evening services.

A social hour followed the meeting. The next meeting will be held Thursday, July 5, at 7:30 p. m.

Georges Creek Zone WSCS To Meet

FROSTBURG — All members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the George's Creek Zone will meet with the society of the First Methodist Church, on Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the church. Mrs. Everett Culp of Cumberland will be guest speaker, using as her subject "Five Spiritual Classics."

Martha Meek Circle No. 4 will go to Anton's for dinner at 6:30 p. m. Thursday.

ADVERTISEMENTS FOR BIDS

The Board of Education of Allegany County, Cumberland, Maryland, will receive sealed bids for the construction of ADDITION TO CRESAPTOWN SCHOOL, Cresaptown Maryland, until 3:00 p. m. (Daylight Savings Time) on Thursday, the twenty-first (21) Day of June, 1956, at the office of the Board of Education, Washington Street, Cumberland, Maryland, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory Performance Bond in full amount of the contract.

The contract documents, including plans and specifications, are on file at the office of the Architect, S. Russ Minter, 72 Pershing Street, Cumberland, Maryland.

Copies of the documents may be obtained by depositing Twenty Dollars ($20.00) with S. Russ Minter, Architect, Cumberland, Maryland, for each set of documents so obtained. The deposit for one set of documents will be refunded to each bidder who returns the plans and documents in good condition within ten (10) days after the opening of bids. No refund will be made except as hereinbefore stated.

The Board of Education of Allegany County reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any informalities in bidding.

A certified check or bank draft or a satisfactory bid bond executed by the bidder and a surety company, in the amount equal to five (5) per cent of the bids, for at least thirty (30) days.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Now, Herbert, keep your safety belt on!"

Market Climbs To Regain Most Of Friday's Decline

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP) — The stock market today regained more than two-thirds of the severe three and a half billion dollars loss suffered Friday on news of President Eisenhower's illness.

The excellent showing of the market today was very much like the improvement in the President's condition which was described as "excellent."

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks Friday dropped $3.00, sharpest decline in eight months, while today the average regained $2.20. That amounts to an estimated three and a half billion dollars loss Friday in the quoted value of securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange and to a gain of two and a half billion dollars today.

All divisions were up with gains of 1 to 3 points quite frequent. Losses were small.

With the AP average up $2.20 at $179.20, the industrial component advanced $4.30, railroads were up $1.80, and utilities were ahead 30 cents.

The market wasn't very broad with 1,122 individual issues traded of which 787 were higher and 190 lower with 8 new highs for the year and 29 new lows.

Niagara Mohawk Power, off 2⅛ Friday, dropped ⅝ at 29⅜ today as the session's most active issue on 71,100 shares. The stock opened on 9,000 shares at 29 and hit a low of 28⅝. Pressure on the stock followed destruction of its Niagara Falls hydroelectric plant by a rock slide.

City Turns Down Southview Plan

Mayor Casts Deciding Vote

Mayor Roy W. Eves cast the deciding vote as the Mayor and City Council yesterday rejected, 3-2, the proposal to buy Southview Addition as a city recreation area at a cost of approximately $78,000.

The vote was on a motion to reject the purchase plan, made by Commissioner of Streets and Public Property William H. Buchholtz and seconded by Water Commissioner William J. Edwards, as the council sat in an afternoon session at City Hall.

Buchholtz and Edwards voted in favor of turning down the plan, while Commissioner of Finance John J. Long and Commissioner of Police and Fire William V. Keegan said no. Mayor Eves' vote in favor of the motion killed the plan.

City Recreation Director Robert E. Pence gave the council a report on the estimated cost of the purchase and of expected cost of maintenance, before the council decided to use the funds in a $150,000 bond issue in another manner.

Costs Are Listed

Pence's report, read to the council by City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery, estimated the cost of purchase, development and operation of the property as $77,160.50 for 148 lots, plus 12 per cent assemblage cost and $50,000 for primary development.

The report also contained an estimated amount which was suggested by the Board of Education as a share in the land purchase at $20,000. The annual operating cost was listed as $2,900.

Expenses for advertisements, bond buyers, surveys, repairs of other playgrounds, attorneys' fees, premiums and other costs amounted to $25,115.93. This brought the amount of the estimated expenditure of the $150,000 bond issue floated in 1947 — $132,275.43, leaving a balance of $17,723.57.

Mayor Eves immediately commented that this did not take into consideration costs of proposed lighting of the field, and that the Board of Education had given no assurance it would take part in the purchase of the property.

"It's costing the city $85,000 annually now to run the Recreation Department," Mayor Eves stated, "and it will cost much more with the purchase of this land.

Says Price Too High

"While the recreation program is a credit to the city and would be more so if this program were developed, we still don't want to get caught short," the mayor said.

"I was chairman of the first recreation committee and I certainly want to see something done," he added.

Pence said he realized the bond issue wouldn't take care of all the city's needs, even with the help of the $20,000 from the Board of Education. He contended he hoped maybe in the future, four or five years hence, another bond issue could further the city's growing demand for recreation facilities.

The rec director later said, "It seems from the mayor's remarks the city wants to fix city-owned playgrounds which are sub-standard, particularly in size, by blacktopping, lighting and fencing. I would like this to be done from the normal operating expenses and use the bond issue for some big item which the city can point to with pride.

"I hoped to do such a good job on Southview that others would want a similar playground. The City Rec Board and myself felt the greatest need for a playground is in South End and this view is shared by the National Association of Recreation."

Playgrounds Below Par

Pence then pointed out that most of the city's problems stem from lack of adequate space. He said, "Of 16 playgrounds, all but three are below standard and this is our greatest source of agitation. The city council apparently doesn't want to take the opinions of qualified persons in the recreation field so where does that leave us? I, truthfully, don't know how to recommend use of the bond money now."

Commissioner Keegan commented to the council, "I am the father of the recreation bill, but after it was baptized everyone wants to be its godfather.

"We either develop another area or pay through the nose at Southview. It has been since 1947 that the bond issue was passed and we still haven't decided how to spend the money.

"It is about time something was done and the Southview Addition seems to be a good place to start."

Commissioner Buchholtz, long on record as being opposed to the plan, said there are a number of ways to look at it.

Disputes Estimate

Buchholtz said he seriously questioned the estimated cost of operation of a field the size of Southview, adding "I think the cost will be closer to $5,900 than $2,900."

He then pointed out that playground facilities in North End and South End already are adequate but that East Side and especially West Side are "very poor." The development of "a lot more playfields would help solve our juvenile delinquency problem," he added.

Buchholtz then said he believed the cost of the purchase of Southview would be more in the neighborhood of $200,000 than the $150,000 already available.

Paying tribute to Pence's work as rec director, Buchholtz said, "You've done an outstanding job and I know it must hurt to see me oppose you this way. I would be 100 per cent in favor of the plan if we had the money."

City To Assume Cost Of Traps For Ridgeley

Council Votes 4-1 On Proposal

The City of Cumberland decided to assume the cost of installation of nine sump traps in the Ridgeley sewage system in conjunction with the flood control work.

A motion by Commissioner William V. Keegan at yesterday's afternoon session in City Hall, for the federal government to be authorized to construct the nine catch basins and the city of Cumberland purchase the grates was passed 4-1. Commissioner Long cast the only dissenting vote without a comment.

The wording of the motion previously brought an outburst from Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, who has continuously backed the proposal, after interruptions by Mayor Roy W. Eves.

Buchholtz said he had recommended the basins be constructed at an estimated $4,000 at earlier council sessions. Following a report by City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum that the city could purchase the grates at a much lower cost than if it allowed the contractor to do the entire job, Buchholtz began the wording of the motion.

Words Exchanged

Twice Mayor Eves interrupted to correct the wording and Buchholtz snapped, "Who's going to make this motion? I withdraw my motion. Let someone else make it."

When the mayor commented that Buchholtz was willing to make the recommendation but not the motion, the commissioner answered, "There are four others here who can make a motion. I give the consideration to the four other people."

Buchholtz previously had recommended the basins be constructed at a cost of approximately $450 each. Nuzum's report yesterday pointed out that the contractor's bid for the work was $705, but the cost differential was in the cost of the grates.

The engineer pointed out that the contractor would purchase the grates at a cost of 25 cents a pound and that the grates weighed approximately 1,180 pounds apiece. If the city bought them at the foundry, it could be done for about $95, with the cost of the basin construction and installation at about $400.

To Seek Federal Funds

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson asked whether, if the city put in the work, the sanitary waste would be tied in with the storm sewer. Nuzum explained that Ridgeley is planning to ask federal funds to install pumps to take the sewage from the storm sewers and pump it into the city's sewage plant.

Buchholtz said he felt it was an unnecessary burden on the taxpayers of Cumberland who will be paying a lien for the city's sewage treatment plant. If Ridgeley dumps its waste in the river then the sewage plant's purpose is being defeated, he said, in recommending the sump traps' installation.

It was felt by the council, however, that if the sump traps were installed to correct a sewage odor and health menace, Ridgeley could in the future plan to install a pumping station and connect it into the interceptor sewer along the towpath.

Buchholtz went on also to point out that Maryland owns the Potomac River to the opposite bank and that if Ridgeley continued to dump its waste into the river it was an imposition on the state of Maryland.

He noted, too, that Ridgeley is under orders from the West Virginia Department of Health to take steps for sewage treatment and to stop discharging waste into the Potomac River.

Births

Sgt. and Mrs. Charles R. Shipe, Warwick, Va., announce the birth yesterday of a daughter in the Fort Eustis Army Hospital. Frederick Street Assessment Plan Is Discussed

Meeting Is Set For July 9

At an informal meeting in the Mayor's office following yesterday's morning and afternoon council sessions, the Mayor and City Council discussed the proposed assessment plan for the improved section of Frederick Street.

Although no action was taken on the proposal, it was decided to post liens against the property before June 15 for $9.92 per lineal foot.

A meeting also was scheduled for Monday, July 9, with the Frederick Street property owners to discuss the proposed assessments before the council acts upon the motion.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum read a report breaking down the proposed assessments. Contract price per lineal foot of sidewalk was listed at $3.15; material costs were $1.15; contract price for lineal foot of curb and gutter was $4.54; material costs were $1.12. Property owners would pay half the costs of sidewalk, curb and gutter.

As an integral part of the Frederick Street improvement it was necessary to construct a storm sewer. The 10-inch sanitary sewer was inadequate to carry away both the sewage and rain water. The total cost of the sewer was $163,548.62, of which the city paid half. The remainder, $81,774.31, is prorated to the abutting property owners at a cost of $6.07 per lineal foot.

Attorney George R. Hughes Jr., representing the Frederick Street Improvement Association, voiced opposition to the assessment, saying it was too high.

He noted that some property owners on Frederick Street own many lots and are assessed accordingly. He also pointed out that the cost of the storm sewer, which corrects drainage from Bedford Street, should only be half borne by the residents of Frederick Street.

However, the mayor and council pointed out that much of the cost of Frederick Street's improvement was borne by the Federal Government, that the cost to the city if paid entirely by the taxpayers would be in excess of $30, and they are being assessed only a little more than $9.

Commissioner William H. Buchholtz pointed out that additional improvements must be made to Frederick Street and that it would be unfair to other property owners to charge them full cost while the newly-improved section owners are charged little more than cost. He said he felt the city was being entirely fair in its assessment.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan said if the suggestion of Hughes for the property owners to bear only half the cost of sewer, curb, and sidewalk were adopted it would be a loss of more than $18,000 to the city.

In other action taken at yesterday's council meeting an order was passed for city employes to be paid June 15; council authorized payment of $12 to A. E. McVicker, 310 Park Street, for damages sustained in slipping on freshly painted curbing on April 26; an order was authorized for issuance of a check for $25 to Donald E. Smith, trading as Smith's Triangle Motors, as a refund on a license by error; the Cumberland Police and Fire Commissioner was authorized to seek bids for a new patrol wagon for use in the Police Department; and an order was passed for bids for road oil to be used by the street department.

Society To Meet

The Fort Cumberland Philatelic Society will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the council chambers at City Hall. James Tole will be the principal speaker.

City Passes Bond Issue For Hospital

Long Points Out Need For Repayment

The Mayor and City Council voted 4-1 in favor of the $150,000 Memorial Hospital Bond Issue in an afternoon session yesterday. The only dissenting vote was cast by Finance Commissioner John J. Long.

The ordinance was read for the third time after the council reconvened at 4:06 p. m. following the regular morning session which was recessed so all could attend. Commissioner Long, unable to be at the morning session, had requested the afternoon program.

Long interrupted the voting to point out two things he had in mind before casting his opinion.

Repayment Need Cited

The commissioner said he felt that some method should be devised for repayment of the proceeds by the governing board at the hospital, pointing out the working capital of the organization which is seeking to build an addition to its nursing home.

As of March 31, 1956, Long said, the hospital's working capital was $263,539.73; investment funds, $99,965.38, and contingent fund $12,905.54, totaling $376,410.65. He noted that the entire amount could not be used for capital expenditures but felt that a portion should be.

Then Commissioner Long exploded a mild bombshell among the councilmen when he requested a legal interpretation of the City Charter, pages 133-134, lines 24 to 35.

City Solicitor Thomas B. Finan read the charter, which says the hospital board of governors shall have maintenance and operation of the hospital but shall not be authorized to make additions without the authority of the city council, and that the hospital is to repay to the city's sinking fund the cost of a bond issue.

Original Issue Unpaid

Commissioner Buchholtz asked if that meant the original bond issue for $400,000 given the hospital in 1927. And when he was told yes, City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson pointed out that the hospital has never paid anything back to the city on its original bond issue. The auditor also said the hospital has been given more than $650,000 for capital expenditures which has not been paid back.

Commissioner Buchholtz then said he was under the impression the original issue had been retired.

Buchholtz immediately recommended the City Council take steps to meet with the hospital's board of governors for an accounting of its indebtedness.

Long, asking, "When will we ever know when they will pay?" then said he had made his point and once more voted "No" on the issue. However the ordinance was passed by the 4-1 margin and the city began preparations for the issuance of the bonds.

Finan then recommended that Commissioner Long's views become a part of the minutes and also be attached to the bond issue so all buyers would know of the situation.

Local Man Held For Jury Action

A 28-year-old local man, charged with larceny after trust, is being held under $500 bond for action of the October term of the grand jury of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Stanley Lee Sines was given a preliminary hearing yesterday before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason and bond was set at $500. He was released on bond.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya presented the evidence during the hearing on behalf of the state. Sines was charged with converting a $100 money order belonging to Mrs. Joseph R. Windess, LaVale, to his own use.

Sines was arrested on Saturday and held in the County Jail until the time of the hearing.

Rec Institute Opens

Mrs. Marian Wilson (left), instructor, shows Mrs. Sally Wheeler and Douglas Sullivan some tricks in handicrafts instruction as the Recreation Institute sponsored by the City Recreation Department opened here yesterday in a week-long preparation for the opening of the city's 16 play centers next Monday. Some 25 playground directors and playleaders are attending the sessions. Mrs. Wheeler is a leader at Johnson Heights Playground, Sullivan at Gephart Playground.

Music Teacher Concludes Long County Career

Miss Mabel E. Myers, 45 South Water Street, Frostburg, who has been a teacher ever since 1913, has resigned with the close of the school term, according to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

Miss Myers, who is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College and the University of Maryland, has been a special music teacher in the county since 1923. Most recently she has taught at Midland and Beall Elementary schools.

She first taught at Porter Settlement and Frost and after teaching in Frederick County and Marion County, W. Va., she returned to this county. Her first assignment was at Grahamtown. Then she became a music teacher in 1923 and followed that field the last 33 years.

Webster also announced that Mrs. Freda Barncord Bowers, 645 Sedgewick Street, distributive education teacher at Allegany High School, has resigned. Her early teaching experience was at Irons Mountain and Ellerslie but she began teaching at Allegany in 1928. She has attended Frostburg State Teachers College, the University of Pittsburgh and Columbia University.

Her husband is Walter L. "Bill" Bowers, physical education teacher and for many years basketball coach at Allegany.

Accident Victim's Condition Unchanged

Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, yesterday reported the condition of Mrs. Mary (Brady) Wills, of Piedmont, as "unchanged."

Mrs. Wills suffered fractures of both legs, multiple lacerations and severe shock in a headon collision Friday in Garrett County which claimed the life of the other driver, 17-year-old William J. Ross of Westernport.

Mrs. Wills is a sister of Dr. A. Spates Brady Jr., of Charleston, well-known West Virginia physician. She is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Spates Brady, of Elkins, and resided there until her marriage to the late James Wills.

Midland Native Gets $16,000 Federal Post

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP) — Thomas E. Stakem tomorrow will attain the dream of thousands of federal career employes, a top post.

The one-time $900-a-year patent office employe will be sworn in as a member of the Federal Maritime Board at a salary of $16,000 a year.

Stakem, a native of Midland, Md., is a veteran of about a quarter of a century in federal jobs. He steps up to his new post from assistant to the deputy maritime administrator for which he has been paid $12,000 a year. The Maritime Board has three members and sets policy for the American Merchant Marine.

So. End Businessmen To Honor Fun Fair Queen And Attendants

Miss Nancy Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Andrews, Mapleside, will be presented as the South End Fun Fair Queen tonight at the regular dinner meeting of the South Cumberland Businessmen's Association.

To be presented with her at the 6:30 p. m. meeting in Grace Community Hall, will be Miss Dorothy Reynolds and Miss Antoinette Cifala, runners-up in the Fun Fair contest. The girls were to have been honored at the final night of the Fun Fair last month, but the ceremony was not held because of rain.

Nelson W. Russler, president of the association, said the guest speaker at this meeting will be Robert M. Hainsfurther, plant manager of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Works No. 7, now being constructed here. William P. Lawrence, director of industrial relations at the plant, will show pictures of the company's progress, Russler said.

Since this is the final meeting until fall, Russler urges all members to attend.

Association To Meet

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8:30 o'clock at McKendree Methodist Church, North Centre Street.

Phone Office Improvements Being Made

In order to assure more efficient service to customers of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company here, a remodeling program is now under way at the local commercial business office.

Robert Garner, manager of Central office here, announced yesterday that some partitions have been removed, as well as a number of closets.

More desks will be put in the first floor room and new paint placed where the partitions and closets were removed. The John I. Vandegrift Company was awarded the contract for the rearrangement work which includes tellers' rooms for the purpose of handling cash payments.

Some partitions are being added to the room, Garner pointed out. Approximately 20 telephones in a new-type system will be placed in operation. The phones will have bells as well as flashing systems. Preliminary work for this project is already under way, Garner said.

Other improvements at the local office include the building of a training room on the third floor of the building which will replace a similar room located on the first floor.

Business office representatives are trained in the room, Garner added. Quentin L. Griffey was awarded the contract for this phase of the program.

Removal of the training room to the third floor will allow additional space for transacting business on the first floor

Three Will Get Hopkins Degrees

Three Cumberlanders will receive degrees from Johns Hopkins University at the school's 80th commencement this morning at the Gilman Hall Terrace in Baltimore.

They are Francis Aronholt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Aronholt, 863 Gephart Drive; James A. Halloran Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Halloran, 13 North Lee Street, and James Ernest Wilson, son of Mrs. J. Homer Wilson, 105 Washington Street.

Aronholt majored in mechanic engineering and will assume a position with the Poly Plastics Chemical Division of duPont in Wilmington, Del. A 1952 graduate of Allegany High School, he was president of Delta Upsilon fraternity, a member of the Honor Commission of his class and of Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary organization.

Halloran, a 1952 graduate of LaSalle High School, was a member of the band, the Camera Club and the ROTC. He majored in chemical engineering and will accept employment with the Standard Oil Company in Elizabeth, N. J. Both Halloran and Aronholt received U.S. Army Reserve commissions as second lieutenants last Friday. Wilson majored in civil engineering.

Board Postpones Toll House Action

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP) — The State Board of Public Works today deferred taking action on purchase of the Old Toll House property near Cumberland for $10,000.

Gov. McKeldin is strongly against purchase of the property, which had the backing of Allegany County legislators. It was understood the old building and land around it would be turned over to the county after the State purchased it.

Macy Heads Choir

Allan D. Macy has been elected president of the Emmanuel Episcopal Church choir. Other officers elected at the annual banquet sponsored by the vestry were Andrew S. Romer, treasurer, and J. Douglas Heron, secretary.

Pa. Accountant Cites Shortage At Local Bank

White Account Had Only $51,023

Carvis E. Walker, the Newcastle (Pa.) accountant who conducted a special investigation at the First National Bank here last year, testified that the account of William E. White, 415 Magruder Street, had only $51,023.16 instead of the $80,385.29 White thought he had.

Walker was the fourth government witness in the U. S. District Court embezzlement trial of Thomas Owen McGeady, 30-year-old former teller at the First National being heard in Allegany County Court House. McGeady is accused of embezzling the $29,362.13 missing from White's account.

Earlier yesterday White denied having written or authorized any of 16 checks totaling $29,362.13, the amount of the shortage.

Adjourned Until 10

The trial, expected to continue all week, was adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning while Theodore Victor Fier, former vice president and trust officer of the bank, still was being questioned by Martin A. Ferris, one of the two assistant U. S. district attorneys conducting the prosecution of the case. Joining with him is John H. Somerville, formerly of this city.

U. S. District Judge R. Dorsey Watkins adjourned the day's proceedings just before 4 p. m. Between 50 and 75 spectators were gathered in the court room to witness the first federal jury trial in Cumberland since 1937.

Albert W. Tindal, president of the First National Bank, the first witness, told how the incident was brought to the attention of the institution.

Ferris then called White to the stand. White said he neither authorized nor prepared any of the 16 checks in question. White, who was president of the Kenneweg Company, wholesale grocery firm which went out of business here several years ago, said he had not received a statement from the bank since 1952 in this account, which was relatively inactive.

Learned Of Shortage

He was followed to the witness stand by Miss Clementine Lewis, 313 Greene Street, who was secretary of the Kenneweg Company.

She said she learned about the shortage in White's account when she made a deposit there last August 5, asked for a check book and a statement of the balance as of that date which indicated only a little over $50,000.

The following week she asked for a list of withdrawals and they were furnished her about a week later. It showed the 16 checks concerning which White had no record.

After an hour's recess for lunch Walker was called to the witness stand. He stated that his investigation showed that 16 checks for a total of $29,362.13 had been cashed on the White account between August 21, 1952, and August 4, 1955.

Microfilms of the checks cashed by the bank on the days when the first 12 were cashed showed the checks missing, Walker said. The checks cashed February 28, April 22, June 2 and August 4 last year all were included in the microfilm records for those dates.

The proof tapes and teller's proof sheets for both February 28 and April 22 last year were stamped 16A, which was McGeady's number, Walker said.

Records Introduced

Ferris introduced as exhibits, the record of all the day's proceedings of the bank for both February 28 and April 22 of last year. Included were tellers' cash settlement sheets, cash check lists, cash tickets for the day, adding machine tapes matching those tickets, and proof machine tapes.

In the course of his investigation, Walker said, he checked to determine whether White inadvertently had drawn out the money in question and transferred it to his account in the Liberty Trust Company. There were no First National withdrawals and Liberty Trust deposits for the same amounts to indicate that had happened, Walker said.

The defense attorneys, William C. Walsh and William Walsh, this city, and Theodore C. Waters Jr., Baltimore, had no cross examination of Walker.

Fier then spent nearly an hour on the stand explaining certain banking procedures. In the course of his questioning by Ferris he acknowledged that McGeady had been head teller at the bank from July 1954 until February 1955, when he was demoted as a disciplinary action because he had come to work late on several occasions.

Fier observed that cash settlement sheets for February 28, 1955, showed that a check for $1,986.14, drawn from White's account was handled by teller 16A, McGeady, as was a check for $1,374.75 for April 22, 1955.

Cash Drawers

The former vice president of the bank said the tellers were supposed to keep their cash drawers

Area Recruits Leave For Air Force Training

Mayor Casts Deciding Vote

Mayor Roy W. Eves cast the deciding vote as the Mayor and City Council yesterday rejected, 3-2, the proposal to buy Southview Addition as a city recreation area at a cost of approximately $78,000.

The vote was on a motion to reject the purchase plan, made by Commissioner of Streets and Public Property William H. Buchholtz and seconded by Water Commissioner William J. Edwards, as the council sat in an afternoon session at City Hall.

Buchholtz and Edwards voted in favor of turning down the plan, while Commissioner of Finance John J. Long and Commissioner of Police and Fire William V. Keegan said no. Mayor Eves' vote in favor of the motion killed the plan.

City Recreation Director Robert E. Pence gave the council a report on the estimated cost of the purchase and of expected cost of maintenance, before the council decided to use the funds in a $150,000 bond issue in another manner.

Costs Are Listed

Pence's report, read to the council by City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery, estimated the cost of purchase, development and operation of the property as $77,160.50 for 148 lots, plus 12 per cent assemblage cost and $50,000 for primary development.

The report also contained an estimated amount which was suggested by the Board of Education as a share in the land purchase at $20,000. The annual operating cost was listed as $2,900.

Expenses for advertisements, bond buyers, surveys, repairs of other playgrounds, attorneys' fees, premiums and other costs amounted to $25,115.93. This brought the amount of the estimated expenditure of the $150,000 bond issue floated in 1947 — $132,275.43, leaving a balance of $17,723.57.

Mayor Eves immediately commented that this did not take into consideration costs of proposed lighting of the field, and that the Board of Education had given no assurance it would take part in the purchase of the property.

"It's costing the city $85,000 annually now to run the Recreation Department," Mayor Eves stated, "and it will cost much more with the purchase of this land.

Says Price Too High

"While the recreation program is a credit to the city and would be more so if this program were developed, we still don't want to get caught short," the mayor said.

"I was chairman of the first recreation committee and I certainly want to see something done," he added.

Pence said he realized the bond issue wouldn't take care of all the city's needs, even with the help of the $20,000 from the Board of Education. He contended he hoped maybe in the future, four or five years hence, another bond issue could further the city's growing demand for recreation facilities.

The rec director later said, "It seems from the mayor's remarks the city wants to fix city-owned playgrounds which are sub-standard, particularly in size, by blacktopping, lighting and fencing. I would like this to be done from the normal operating expenses and use the bond issue for some big item which the city can point to with pride.

"I hoped to do such a good job on Southview that others would want a similar playground. The City Rec Board and myself felt the greatest need for a playground is in South End and this view is shared by the National Association of Recreation."

Playgrounds Below Par

Pence then pointed out that most of the city's problems stem from lack of adequate space. He said, "Of 16 playgrounds, all but three are below standard and this is our greatest source of agitation. The city council apparently doesn't want to take the opinions of qualified persons in the recreation field so where does that leave us? I, truthfully, don't know how to recommend use of the bond money now."

Commissioner Keegan commented to the council, "I am the father of the recreation bill, but after it was baptized everyone wants to be its godfather.

"We either develop another area or pay through the nose at Southview. It has been since 1947 that the bond issue was passed and we still haven't decided how to spend the money.

"It is about time something was done and the Southview Addition seems to be a good place to start."

Commissioner Buchholtz, long on record as being opposed to the plan, said there are a number of ways to look at it.

Disputes Estimate

Buchholtz said he seriously questioned the estimated cost of operation of a field the size of Southview, adding "I think the cost will be closer to $5,900 than $2,900."

He then pointed out that playground facilities in North End and South End already are adequate but that East Side and especially West Side are "very poor." The development of "a lot more playfields would help solve our juvenile delinquency problem," he added.

Buchholtz then said he believed the cost of the purchase of Southview would be more in the neighborhood of $200,000 than the $150,000 already available.

Paying tribute to Pence's work as rec director, Buchholtz said, "You've done an outstanding job and I know it must hurt to see me oppose you this way. I would be 100 per cent in favor of the plan if we had the money."

City To Assume Cost Of Traps For Ridgeley

Council Votes 4-1 On Proposal

The City of Cumberland decided to assume the cost of installation of nine sump traps in the Ridgeley sewage system in conjunction with the flood control work.

A motion by Commissioner William V. Keegan at yesterday's afternoon session in City Hall, for the federal government to be authorized to construct the nine catch basins and the city of Cumberland purchase the grates was passed 4-1. Commissioner Long cast the only dissenting vote without a comment.

The wording of the motion previously brought an outburst from Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, who has continuously backed the proposal, after interruptions by Mayor Roy W. Eves.

Buchholtz said he had recommended the basins be constructed at an estimated $4,000 at earlier council sessions. Following a report by City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum that the city could purchase the grates at a much lower cost than if it allowed the contractor to do the entire job, Buchholtz began the wording of the motion.

Words Exchanged

Twice Mayor Eves interrupted to correct the wording and Buchholtz snapped, "Who's going to make this motion? I withdraw my motion. Let someone else make it."

When the mayor commented that Buchholtz was willing to make the recommendation but not the motion, the commissioner answered, "There are four others here who can make a motion. I give the consideration to the four other people."

Buchholtz previously had recommended the basins be constructed at a cost of approximately $450 each. Nuzum's report yesterday pointed out that the contractor's bid for the work was $705, but the cost differential was in the cost of the grates.

The engineer pointed out that the contractor would purchase the grates at a cost of 25 cents a pound and that the grates weighed approximately 1,180 pounds apiece. If the city bought them at the foundry, it could be done for about $95, with the cost of the basin construction and installation at about $400.

To Seek Federal Funds

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson asked whether, if the city put in the work, the sanitary waste would be tied in with the storm sewer. Nuzum explained that Ridgeley is planning to ask federal funds to install pumps to take the sewage from the storm sewers and pump it into the city's sewage plant.

Buchholtz said he felt it was an unnecessary burden on the taxpayers of Cumberland who will be paying a lien for the city's sewage treatment plant. If Ridgeley dumps its waste in the river then the sewage plant's purpose is being defeated, he said, in recommending the sump traps' installation.

It was felt by the council, however, that if the sump traps were installed to correct a sewage odor and health menace, Ridgeley could in the future plan to install a pumping station and connect it into the interceptor sewer along the towpath.

Buchholtz went on also to point out that Maryland owns the Potomac River to the opposite bank and that if Ridgeley continued to dump its waste into the river it was an imposition on the state of Maryland.

He noted, too, that Ridgeley is under orders from the West Virginia Department of Health to take steps for sewage treatment and to stop discharging waste into the Potomac River.

Births

Sgt. and Mrs. Charles R. Shipe, Warwick, Va., announce the birth yesterday of a daughter in the Fort Eustis Army Hospital. The father is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Shipe, Wadsworth, Ohio, formerly of Mt. Savage. The mother is the former Miss Huldah Crabtree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Crabtree, 923 Silbert Place.

Frederick Street Assessment Plan Is Discussed

Meeting Is Set For July 9

At an informal meeting in the Mayor's office following yesterday's morning and afternoon council sessions, the Mayor and City Council discussed the proposed assessment plan for the improved section of Frederick Street.

Although no action was taken on the proposal, it was decided to post liens against the property before June 15 for $9.92 per lineal foot.

A meeting also was scheduled for Monday, July 9, with the Frederick Street property owners to discuss the proposed assessments before the council acts upon the motion.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum read a report breaking down the proposed assessments. Contract price per lineal foot of sidewalk was listed at $3.15; material costs were $1.15; contract price for lineal foot of curb and gutter was $4.54; material costs were $1.12. Property owners would pay half the costs of sidewalk, curb and gutter.

As an integral part of the Frederick Street improvement it was necessary to construct a storm sewer. The 10-inch sanitary sewer was inadequate to carry away both the sewage and rain water. The total cost of the sewer was $163,548.62, of which the city paid half. The remainder, $81,774.31, is prorated to the abutting property owners at a cost of $6.07 per lineal foot.

Attorney George R. Hughes Jr., representing the Frederick Street Improvement Association, voiced opposition to the assessment, saying it was too high.

He noted that some property owners on Frederick Street own many lots and are assessed accordingly. He also pointed out that the cost of the storm sewer, which corrects drainage from Bedford Street, should only be half borne by the residents of Frederick Street.

However, the mayor and council pointed out that much of the cost of Frederick Street's improvement was borne by the Federal Government, that the cost to the city if paid entirely by the taxpayers would be in excess of $30, and they are being assessed only a little more than $9.

Commissioner William H. Buchholtz pointed out that additional improvements must be made to Frederick Street and that it would be unfair to other property owners to charge them full cost while the newly-improved section owners are charged little more than cost. He said he felt the city was being entirely fair in its assessment.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan said if the suggestion of Hughes for the property owners to bear only half the cost of sewer, curb, and sidewalk were adopted it would be a loss of more than $18,000 to the city.

In other action taken at yesterday's council meeting an order was passed for city employes to be paid June 15; council authorized payment of $12 to A. E. McVicker, 310 Park Street, for damages sustained in slipping on freshly painted curbing on April 26; an order was authorized for issuance of a check for $25 to Donald E. Smith, trading as Smith's Triangle Motors, as a refund on a license by error; the Cumberland Police and Fire Commissioner was authorized to seek bids for a new patrol wagon for use in the Police Department; and an order was passed for bids for road oil to be used by the street department.

Society To Meet

The Fort Cumberland Philatelic Society will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the council chambers at City Hall. James Tole will be the principal speaker.

City Passes Bond Issue For Hospital

Long Points Out Need For Repayment

The Mayor and City Council voted 4-1 in favor of the $150,000 Memorial Hospital Bond Issue in an afternoon session yesterday. The only dissenting vote was cast by Finance Commissioner John J. Long.

The ordinance was read for the third time after the council reconvened at 4:06 p. m. following the regular morning session which was recessed so all could attend. Commissioner Long, unable to be at the morning session, had requested the afternoon program.

Long interrupted the voting to point out two things he had in mind before casting his opinion.

Repayment Need Cited

The commissioner said he felt that some method should be devised for repayment of the proceeds by the governing board at the hospital, pointing out the working capital of the organization which is seeking to build an addition to its nursing home.

As of March 31, 1956, Long said, the hospital's working capital was $263,539.73; investment funds, $99,965.38, and contingent fund $12,905.54, totaling $376,410.65. He noted that the entire amount could not be used for capital expenditures but felt that a portion should be.

Then Commissioner Long exploded a mild bombshell among the councilmen when he requested a legal interpretation of the City Charter, pages 133-134, lines 24 to 35.

City Solicitor Thomas B. Finan read the charter, which says the hospital board of governors shall have maintenance and operation of the hospital but shall not be authorized to make additions without the authority of the city council, and that the hospital is to repay to the city's sinking fund the cost of a bond issue.

Original Issue Unpaid

Commissioner Buchholtz asked if that meant the original bond issue for $400,000 given the hospital in 1927. And when he was told yes, City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson pointed out that the hospital has never paid anything back to the city on its original bond issue. The auditor also said the hospital has been given more than $650,000 for capital expenditures which has not been paid back.

Commissioner Buchholtz then said he was under the impression the original issue had been retired.

Buchholtz immediately recommended the City Council take steps to meet with the hospital's board of governors for an accounting of its indebtedness.

Long, asking, "When will we ever know when they will pay?" then said he had made his point and once more voted "No" on the issue. However the ordinance was passed by the 4-1 margin and the city began preparations for the issuance of the bonds.

Finan then recommended that Commissioner Long's views become a part of the minutes and also be attached to the bond issue so all buyers would know of the situation.

Local Man Held For Jury Action

A 28-year-old local man, charged with larceny after trust, is being held under $500 bond for action of the October term of the grand jury of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Stanley Lee Sines was given a preliminary hearing yesterday before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason and bond was set at $500. He was released on bond.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya presented the evidence during the hearing on behalf of the state. Sines was charged with converting a $100 money order belonging to Mrs. Joseph R. Windess, LaVale, to his own use.

Sines was arrested on Saturday and held in the County Jail until the time of the hearing.

Rec Institute Opens

Mrs. Marian Wilson (left), instructor, shows Mrs. Sally Wheeler and Douglas Sullivan some tricks in handicrafts instruction as the Recreation Institute sponsored by the City Recreation Department opened here yesterday in a week-long preparation for the opening of the city's 16 play centers next Monday. Some 25 playground directors and playleaders are attending the sessions. Mrs. Wheeler is a leader at Johnson Heights Playground, Sullivan at Gephart Playground.

Music Teacher Concludes Long County Career

Miss Mabel E. Myers, 45 South Water Street, Frostburg, who has been a teacher ever since 1913, has resigned with the close of the school term, according to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

Miss Myers, who is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College and the University of Maryland, has been a special music teacher in the county since 1923. Most recently she has taught at Midland and Beall Elementary schools.

She first taught at Porter Settlement and Frost and after teaching in Frederick County and Marion County, W. Va., she returned to this county. Her first assignment was at Grahamtown. Then she became a music teacher in 1923 and followed that field the last 33 years.

Webster also announced that Mrs. Freda Barncord Bowers, 645 Sedgewick Street, distributive education teacher at Allegany High School, has resigned. Her early teaching experience was at Irons Mountain and Ellerslie but she began teaching at Allegany in 1928. She has attended Frostburg State Teachers College, the University of Pittsburgh and Columbia University.

Her husband is Walter L. "Bill" Bowers, physical education teacher and for many years basketball coach at Allegany.

Accident Victim's Condition Unchanged

Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, yesterday reported the condition of Mrs. Mary (Brady) Wills, of Piedmont, as "unchanged."

Mrs. Wills suffered fractures of both legs, multiple lacerations and severe shock in a headon collision Friday in Garrett County which claimed the life of the other driver, 17-year-old William J. Ross of Westernport.

Mrs. Wills is a sister of Dr. A. Spates Brady Jr., of Charleston, well-known West Virginia physician. She is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Spates Brady, of Elkins, and resided there until her marriage to the late James Wills.

Midland Native Gets $16,000 Federal Post

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP) — Thomas E. Stakem tomorrow will attain the dream of thousands of federal career employes, a top post.

The one-time $900-a-year patent office employe will be sworn in as a member of the Federal Maritime Board at a salary of $16,000 a year.

Stakem, a native of Midland, Md., is a veteran of about a quarter of a century in federal jobs. He steps up to his new post from assistant to the deputy maritime administrator for which he has been paid $12,000 a year. The Maritime Board has three members and sets policy for the American Merchant Marine.

So. End Businessmen To Honor Fun Fair Queen And Attendants

Miss Nancy Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Andrews, Mapleside, will be presented as the South End Fun Fair Queen tonight at the regular dinner meeting of the South Cumberland Businessmen's Association.

To be presented with her at the 6:30 p. m. meeting in Grace Community Hall, will be Miss Dorothy Reynolds and Miss Antoinette Cifala, runners-up in the Fun Fair contest. The girls were to have been honored at the final night of the Fun Fair last month, but the ceremony was not held because of rain.

Nelson W. Russler, president of the association, said the guest speaker at this meeting will be Robert M. Hainsfurther, plant manager of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Works No. 7, now being constructed here. William P. Lawrence, director of industrial relations at the plant, will show pictures of the company's progress, Russler said.

Since this is the final meeting until fall, Russler urges all members to attend.

Association To Meet

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8:30 o'clock at McKendree Methodist Church, North Centre Street.

Phone Office Improvements Being Made

In order to assure more efficient service to customers of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company here, a remodeling program is now under way at the local commercial business office.

Robert Garner, manager of Central office here, announced yesterday that some partitions have been removed, as well as a number of closets.

More desks will be put in the first floor room and new paint placed where the partitions and closets were removed. The John I. Vandegrift Company was awarded the contract for the rearrangement work which includes tellers' rooms for the purpose of handling cash payments.

Some partitions are being added to the room, Garner pointed out. Approximately 20 telephones in a new-type system will be placed in operation. The phones will have bells as well as flashing systems. Preliminary work for this project is already under way, Garner said.

Other improvements at the local office include the building of a training room on the third floor of the building which will replace a similar room located on the first floor.

Business office representatives are trained in the room, Garner added. Quentin L. Griffey was awarded the contract for this phase of the program.

Removal of the training room to the third floor will allow additional space for transacting business on the first floor

Three Will Get Hopkins Degrees

They are Francis Aronholt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Aronholt, 863 Gephart Drive; James A. Halloran Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Halloran, 13 North Lee Street, and James Ernest Wilson, son of Mrs. J. Homer Wilson, 105 Washington Street.

Aronholt majored in mechanic engineering and will assume a position with the Poly Plastics Chemical Division of duPont in Wilmington, Del. A 1952 graduate of Allegany High School, he was president of Delta Upsilon fraternity, a member of the Honor Commission of his class and of Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary organization.

Halloran, a 1952 graduate of LaSalle High School, was a member of the band, the Camera Club and the ROTC. He majored in chemical engineering and will accept employment with the Standard Oil Company in Elizabeth, N. J. Both Halloran and Aronholt received U.S. Army Reserve commissions as second lieutenants last Friday. Wilson majored in civil engineering.

Board Postpones Toll House Action

BALTIMORE, June 11 (AP) — The State Board of Public Works today deferred taking action on purchase of the Old Toll House property near Cumberland for $10,000.

Gov. McKeldin is strongly against purchase of the property, which had the backing of Allegany County legislators. It was understood the old building and land around it would be turned over to the county after the State purchased it.

Macy Heads Choir

Allan D. Macy has been elected president of the Emmanuel Episcopal Church choir. Other officers elected at the annual banquet sponsored by the vestry were Andrew S. Romer, treasurer, and J. Douglas Heron, secretary.

Pa. Accountant Cites Shortage At Local Bank

White Account Had Only $51,023

Carvis E. Walker, the Newcastle (Pa.) accountant who conducted a special investigation at the First National Bank here last year, testified that the account of William E. White, 415 Magruder Street, had only $51,023.16 instead of the $80,385.29 White thought he had.

Walker was the fourth government witness in the U. S. District Court embezzlement trial of Thomas Owen McGeady, 30-year-old former teller at the First National being heard in Allegany County Court House. McGeady is accused of embezzling the $29,362.13 missing from White's account.

Earlier yesterday White denied having written or authorized any of 16 checks totaling $29,362.13, the amount of the shortage.

Adjourned Until 10

The trial, expected to continue all week, was adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning while Theodore Victor Fier, former vice president and trust officer of the bank, still was being questioned by Martin A. Ferris, one of the two assistant U. S. district attorneys conducting the prosecution of the case. Joining with him is John H. Somerville, formerly of this city.

U. S. District Judge R. Dorsey Watkins adjourned the day's proceedings just before 4 p. m. Between 50 and 75 spectators were gathered in the court room to witness the first federal jury trial in Cumberland since 1937.

Albert W. Tindal, president of the First National Bank, the first witness, told how the incident was brought to the attention of the institution.

Ferris then called White to the stand. White said he neither authorized nor prepared any of the 16 checks in question. White, who was president of the Kenneweg Company, wholesale grocery firm which went out of business here several years ago, said he had not received a statement from the bank since 1952 in this account, which was relatively inactive.

Learned Of Shortage

He was followed to the witness stand by Miss Clementine Lewis, 313 Greene Street, who was secretary of the Kenneweg Company.

She said she learned about the shortage in White's account when she made a deposit there last August 5, asked for a check book and a statement of the balance as of that date which indicated only a little over $50,000.

The following week she asked for a list of withdrawals and they were furnished her about a week later. It showed the 16 checks concerning which White had no record.

After an hour's recess for lunch Walker was called to the witness stand. He stated that his investigation showed that 16 checks for a total of $29,362.13 had been cashed on the White account between August 21, 1952, and August 4, 1955.

Microfilms of the checks cashed by the bank on the days when the first 12 were cashed showed the checks missing, Walker said. The checks cashed February 28, April 22, June 2 and August 4 last year all were included in the microfilm records for those dates.

The proof tapes and teller's proof sheets for both February 28 and April 22 last year were stamped 16A, which was McGeady's number, Walker said.

Records Introduced

Ferris introduced as exhibits, the record of all the day's proceedings of the bank for both February 28 and April 22 of last year. Included were tellers' cash settlement sheets, cash check lists, cash tickets for the day, adding machine tapes matching those tickets, and proof machine tapes.

In the course of his investigation, Walker said, he checked to determine whether White inadvertently had drawn out the money in question and transferred it to his account in the Liberty Trust Company. There were no First National withdrawals and Liberty Trust deposits for the same amounts to indicate that had happened, Walker said.

The defense attorneys, William C. Walsh and William Walsh, this city, and Theodore C. Waters Jr., Baltimore, had no cross examination of Walker.

Fier then spent nearly an hour on the stand explaining certain banking procedures. In the course of his questioning by Ferris he acknowledged that McGeady had been head teller at the bank from July 1954 until February 1955, when he was demoted as a disciplinary action because he had come to work late on several occasions.

Fier observed that cash settlement sheets for February 28, 1955, showed that a check for $1,986.14, drawn from White's account was handled by teller 16A, McGeady, as was a check for $1,374.75 for April 22, 1955.

Cash Drawers

The former vice president of the bank said the tellers were supposed to keep their cash drawers
